

The background of the entire page is a photograph of a classroom. In the foreground, the backs of several students' heads and shoulders are visible as they sit at their desks. In the middle ground, a female teacher with short brown hair, wearing a purple shirt, stands at the front of the room. Behind her is a large green chalkboard. ## Peter Jameson's Secret Language:

Peter Jameson's Secret Language Sylvan Zaft, 1996 Peter Jameson's secret language is a work of fiction. However, the secret language esperanto is real. Concise Encyclopedia of the Original Literature of Esperanto, 1887-2007 Geoffrey Sutton, 2008 Illustrating the development of Esperanto literature from its humble beginnings in 1887 to its worldwide use in every literary genre today, this text includes over 300 individual articles on the most important Esperanto authors. Peter Jameson Gilbert Frankau, 1920 The Cumulative Book Index, 1996 A world list of books in the English language.

Cavell's Must We Mean What We Say? at 50 Greg Chase, Juliet Floyd, Sandra Laugier, 2022-03-10 An accessible investigation of the importance of Cavell's most famous work for modern and contemporary philosophy and literature.

Peripheralizing DeLillo Thomas Travers, 2021-12-16 Peripheralizing DeLillo tracks the historical arc of Don DeLillo's poetics as it recomposes itself across the genres of short fiction, romance, the historical novel, and the philosophical novel of time. Drawing on theories that capital rather than the bourgeoisie is the displaced subject of the novel, Thomas Travers investigates DeLillo's representation of fully commodified social worlds and re-evaluates Marxist accounts of the novel and its philosophy of history. Deploying an innovative re-periodisation, Travers considers the evolution of DeLillo's aesthetic forms as they register and encode one of the crises of contemporary historicity: the secular dynamics through which a society organised around waged work tends towards conditions of under and unemployment. Situating DeLillo within global histories of uneven and combined development, Travers explores how DeLillo's treatment of capital and labour affect and narration reconfigures debates around realism and modernism. The DeLillo that emerges from this study is no longer an exemplary postmodern writer but a composer of capitalist epics: a novelist drawn to peripheral zones of accumulation, zones of social death whose surplus populations his fiction strives to re-historicise if not re-dialecticise as subjects of history. Books in Print, 1994 Reading Rushdie, 2021-11-01 Salman Rushdie is perhaps the most important writer of the present time. His significant and controversial literary interventions in debates on post-colonial culture and contemporary South Asian Islam are matched by the contribution he has made to postmodern literature in the West, culminating in the award to him in 1993 of the twenty-fifth anniversary Booker of Bookers prize. This collection of articles focuses on Rushdie's five novels. The context is set by the introduction 'The Politics of Salman Rushdie's Fiction' which discusses the political stance of Rushdie's fiction, the various influences on his work, and the textual strategies and techniques he employs for political expression and cultural critique. The postmodern/post-colonial interface, the carnivalesque, and satire are major themes treated here, and in the articles that follow, which also provide diverse other perspectives on Rushdie's thought and method. A number of essays have been commissioned specially for this volume. An appendix listing selected writings by Rushdie and articles on the Satanic Verses Affair is followed by a comprehensive bibliography annotating critical studies of Rushdie's work. From Autos to Architecture David Gartman, 2012-04-17 One of the most interesting questions in architectural history is why modern architecture emerged from the war ravaged regions of central Europe and not the United States whose techniques of mass production and mechanical products so inspired the first generation of modern architects like Le Corbusier Mies van der Rohe and Walter Gropius In From Autos to Architecture sociologist David Gartman offers a critical social history that shows how Fordist mass production and industrial architecture in America influenced European designers to an extent previously not understood Drawing on Marxist economics the Frankfurt School and French sociologist Pierre Bourdieu From Autos to Architecture deftly illustrates the different class structures and struggles of America and Europe Examining architecture in the context of social conflicts From Autos to Architecture offers a critical alternative to standard architectural histories focused on aesthetics alone
