

FEMINIST THEORY IN SOCIOLOGY

Feminist theory in sociology focuses on understanding and challenging the social inequalities and injustices that arise from gender bias and patriarchy.

THEORY

- Intersectional feminism believes that gender inequality is interconnected with other social categorizations like race, class, and sexuality.
- Radical feminists believe patriarchy is the root cause of gender inequality and seek to restructure society to eliminate male dominance and gender roles.

THEORY

- Liberal feminists believe in achieving gender equality through political and legal reform, focusing on equal pay, reproductive rights, and discrimination.
- Marxist feminists believe that gender inequality is rooted in the capitalist system and advocate for a classless society to achieve true gender equality.

Evans,2010-12-15 The women most crucial to the feminist movement that emerged in the 1960 s arrived at their commitment and consciousness in response to the unexpected and often shattering experience of having their work minimized even disregarded by the men they considered to be their colleagues and fellow crusaders in the civil rights and radical New Left movements On the basis of years of research interviews with dozens of the central figures and her own personal experience Evans explores how the political stance of these women was catalyzed and shaped by their sharp disillusionment at a time when their skills as political activists were newly and highly developed enabling them to join forces to support their own cause

Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation Charlotte Templin,1995 Soon after its publication in 1973 Fear of Flying brought Erica Jong immense popular success and media fame Alternately pegged sassy and vulgar Jong s novel embraced the politics of the women s liberation movement and challenged the definition of female sexuality Yet today more than twenty years and several books later literary reputation continues for the most part to elude Jong Typecast by her adversaries as a media seeking sensationalist Erica Jong has been unfairly side stepped by academia Charlotte Templin contends In this carefully researched study augmented by personal interviews with Jong Templin assembles and analyzes the medley of responses to Jong s books by reviewers critics writers academics and the media by liberals conservatives and feminists She examines the diverse opinions on the merit and relevance to contemporary life of Fear of Flying the invocation of a high culture low culture dichotomy to discredit How to Save Your Own Life the anatomy of literary success with Fanny Jong's reception in a postfeminist age and the trivialization of Jong's works that is inevitable with mass media exposure Templin also shows how antagonistic reviewers tend to identify Jong with her fictitious characters a practice more common when the author is a woman and judge her to be guilty of the sin of not being a proper woman In turn she shows how reviewers reveal something of their own values and ideological biases in their critiques and how literary reputations are built destroyed and altered over time The first book to make a detailed examination of the reputation of a woman writer Feminism and the Politics of Literary Reputation provides an excellent case study for the literary reception of women writers within a broad cultural context Templin's analysis offers valuable insight into the reception of women writers especially commercially successful women writers and dramatically illustrates the relation of literary reputation to popular appeal and cultural mores

On Feminist Ethics and Politics Claudia Card, 1999 For years mainstream feminist ethics focused criticism on male supremacy Feminist philosophers in this volume adopt a less male focused stance to look closely at oppression's impact on women's agency and on women's relations with women Examining legal social and physical relationships these philosophers confront moral ambiguity moral compromise and complicity in perpetuating oppression Combining personal experience with philosophical inquiry they vividly portray their daily engagement with oppression as both victims and perpetrators They explore such issues as how pornography silences women and radical feminist politics complicity in racism Among these insightful essays Sandra Bartky argues that women share guilt for racism when they benefit from it without protest Susan Brison reflects on uses of narrative in trauma recovery from such experiences as being targeted for rape or murder Joan Callahan examines fallout of derogatory speech directed at lesbians Virginia Held proposes carrying care into marketplaces and governments and in her introduction Claudia Card draws on Primo Levi's conception of gray zones in exploring dangers of character damage to victims of misogyny A fitting companion to Card's highly regarded Feminist Ethics this volume interweaves observations on character political ethics violence and love into an accessible sourcebook for students It tackles some of feminism's most pressing issues and helps readers to identify and then overcome the real damage caused by oppression

JCAS Symposium Series, 1999 Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff, 2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women's actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd's masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred bunnies Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disrupters are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we've engraved on ourselves and on the planet

Readings in Feminist Rhetorical Theory Karen A. Foss, Sonja K. Foss, Cindy L. Griffin, 2004 With a broad conceptualization of rhetorical scholarship and theory in mind editors Karen A Foss Sonja K Foss and Cindy L Griffin have compiled essays and readings by feminist theorists whose work has relevance for rhetorical theory This volume introduces readers to multiple feminist voices and perspectives and contextualizes theory as a way of framing experiences and events The editors provide readers an inclusive accessible collection of readings by key contemporary feminist theorists as well as spirited approachable introductions to their work and their lives Readings in Feminist Rhetorical Theory features and pays homage to the work of nine influential theorists Cheri Kramarae bell hooks Gloria Anzaldúa Mary Daly Starhawk Paula Gunn Allen Trinh T Minh ha Sally Miller Gearhart and Sonia Johnson As the editors explain in their Introduction these feminist theorists are featured because they have sufficiently large bodies of work that constitute coherent theories about communication or rhetoric and contribute to the re conceptualization and transformation of rhetorical constructs and theories The editors introduce each theorist historically and conceptually through a brief biography and a discussion of the key ideas in the pieces selected The works of each theorist represent the general content and form of the theorist's body of work span the time period over which the theorist has been writing tracing the evolution of her ideas directly address concerns relevant to rhetorical theory or symbol use vary in terms of types of work essays poems short stories to capture the range of each theorist's genre Readings in Feminist Rhetorical Theory is ideal for students in upper level undergraduate and graduate courses in Communication Studies Women's Studies and English and is an excellent companion volume to Feminist Rhetorical Theories
