Personality In Adulthood:

Personality in Adulthood Robert R. McCrae, Paul T. Costa, 2003-01-01 This influential work examines how enduring dispositions or traits affect the process of aging and shape each individual's life course. From two well-known authorities in the field, the volume is grounded in a growing body of empirical evidence. Critically reviewing different theories of personality and adult development, the authors explain the logic behind the scientific assessment of personality, present a comprehensive model of trait structure, and examine patterns of trait stability and change after age 30, incorporating data from ongoing cross-sectional and longitudinal studies. Written in a clear, jargon-free style, this book is an ideal text for advanced students and a timely reference for researchers and clinicians. Personality in Adulthood Paul T. Costa, Jr., Robert R. McCrae, 2013-10-18

Now in a revised and expanded second edition, this influential work argues for the enduring stability of personality across adult development. It also offers a highly accessible introduction to the five-factor model of personality. Critically reviewing different theories of personality and adult development, the authors explain the logic behind the scientific assessment of personality, present a comprehensive model of trait structure, and examine patterns of trait stability and change after age 30, incorporating data from ongoing cross-sectional and longitudinal studies. The second edition has been updated throughout with the authors' new findings, ideas, and interpretations, and includes a new chapter on cross-cultural research. It culminates in an additional new chapter that presents a comprehensive theory of personality grounded in the five-factor model.

Personality Development in Adulthood Lawrence S. Wrightsman, 1988-06-01 After many years of neglect, the nature of personality development in adulthood is now recognised as a topic worthy of scholarly attention. Designed as a text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses on adulthood, Personality Development in Adulthood first elucidates three common approaches to adult personality development: early formation theories such as psychoanalysis and Berne's life script theory; stage theory of psychosocial development represented by Erikson's dialectic analysis, which poses ongoing irreconcilable tensions between basic needs; and each approach is described, the methods used to evaluate them considered, and the quality of evidence examined. The second half of the book applies concepts. Personality Development in Adulthood Petar Milojević, 2016 The development of personality in adulthood remains a topic of debate with direct implications for the conceptualisation of personality traits. McCrae, Roberts et al. 2008. However, with notable exceptions, comprehensive longitudinal investigations of the development of personality traits across a broad range of the adult life span are surprisingly rare Through four systematic longitudinal investigations the present thesis investigates the change and stability in the Big Six personality traits Extraversion Agreeableness Conscientiousness Neuroticism Openness to Experience and Honesty Humility in a nationally representative panel study of adult New Zealanders Study 1 demonstrated the very high stability of the six traits thus confirming the prediction of high temporal stability of personality traits This study also provided the crucial test of the test retest reliability of the personality scales used throughout this thesis Study 2 demonstrated the systematic variability in the stability of personality traits across the adult life span That is personality traits tend to stabilise across younger adulthood reach peak stability in middle age i e late 40 s and early 50 s and systematically destabilise thereafter The findings of Study 3 indicated remarkable consistency in personality traits associated with a major natural disaster namely the 2010 2011 Earthquakes in Canterbury New Zealand The only meanlevel change from before to after the earthquakes was a small decrease in Emotional Stability or an increase in Neuroticism among those affected by the event Finally Study 4 investigated normative patterns of mean level change in personality traits and identified distinct developmental trajectories for the different traits with changes occurring across the entire adult life span Collectively these studies paint an interesting picture of both stability and change in personality traits highlighting the need for an integrated perspective on personality development one that incorporates both the intrinsic stability of the construct and early development as well the continuing process of change

Handbook of Research on Adult Learning and Development M Cecil Smith, Nancy DeFrates-Densch, Assistant Editor, 2008-11-19 The time is right for this comprehensive state of the art Handbook that analyzes integrates and summarizes theoretical advances and research findings on adult development and learning a rapidly growing field reflecting demographic shifts toward an aging population in Western societies Featuring contributions from prominent scholars across diverse disciplinary fields education developmental psychology public policy gerontology neurology public health sociology family studies and adult education the volume is organized around six themes theoretical perspectives on adult development and learning research methods in adult development research on adult development research on adult learning aging and gerontological research policy perspectives on aging The Handbook is an essential reference for researchers faculty graduate students and practitioners whose work pertains to adult and lifespan development and learning

Development in Adulthood Barbara Hansen Lemme, 1995 With its multidisciplinary approach and focus on psycho social issues this topical text features coverage of the concepts and issues in the field of adult development Theoretical foundations include the life span developmental perspective and Bronfenbrenner s Ecological Systems Theory This text acknowledges that humans exist within multiple environments thus the individual is presented in the context of society and the resulting personal and social history An array of issues are integrated into the text including the influence of socio cultural biological economic and political forces The significance of cohorts gender race ethnicity socio economic status and culture are also emphasized      Personality Types and Culture in Later Adulthood J. Shanan, 1985-05-09      Adult Development and Aging Klaus Warner Schaie, Sherry L. Willis, 1996 This comprehensive text encourages students to consider the phenomenon of adult development and aging from a behavioral point of view Schaie and Willis introduce current theory and research on the major psychological issues and provide background on the social and biological aspects of development that are essential to students understanding of behavioral age changes      The Developing Structure of Temperament and Personality From Infancy To Adulthood Charles F. Halverson, Jr., Gedolph A. Kohnstamm, Roy P. Martin, Charles F. Halverson, Geldolph A. Kohnstamm, 2014-05-12 This book is the first to bring together researchers in individual differences in personality and temperament to explore whether there is any unity possible between the temperament researchers of infancy and childhood and the major researchers in adult personality Prior to the workshop which resulted in this volume the existing literature seemed to document a growing consensus on the part of the adult personality researchers that five major personality dimensions the Big Five might be sufficient to account for most of the important variances in adult individual differences in personality In contrast to this accord the literature on child and infant individual differences seemed to offer a wide variety of opinions regarding the basic dimensions of difference in personality or temperament The editors believed that they could encourage researchers from both the adult and child areas to consider the importance of a lifespan conceptualization of individual differences by discussing their research in terms of a continuity approach Written by some of the most distinguished scholars from Great Britain continental Western Europe and Eastern Europe as well as the United States and Canada the chapters present a cross cultural view of both adult personality and temperament in infancy and childhood By sharing their recent data techniques and theoretical speculations the chapter authors communicate the research enthusiasm engendered by the growing consensus of the adult Big Five as well as the exciting prospects of an integrative program of research from infancy to adulthood that will clarify and consolidate what is now a disparate set of methods theory and findings across the lifespan The editors suggest that this volume will have considerable heuristic value in stimulating researchers to conceptualize their work in developmental lifespan approaches that will lead to a consolidation of individual differences research at every age      Handbook of Emotion, Adult Development, and Aging Carol Magai, Susan H. McFadden, 1996-10-24 The field of emotions research has recently seen an unexpected period of growth and expansion both in traditional psychological literature and in gerontology The Handbook of Emotion Adult Development and Aging provides a broad overview and summary of where this field stands today specifically with reference to life course issues and aging Written by a distinguished group of contributing authors the text is grounded in a life span developmental framework while advancing a multidimensional view of emotion and its development and incorporating quantitative and qualitative research findings The book is divided into five parts Part One discusses five major theoretical perspectives including biological discrete emotions ethological humanistic and psychosocial Part Two on affect and cognition discusses the role of emotion in memory problem solving and internal perceptions of self and gender Part Three on emotion and relationships expands on the role of emotion in sibling and parent child relationships as well as relationships between friends and romantic partners and the emotional reaction to interpersonal loss across the life span Part Four on stress health and psychological well being treats issues of stress and coping religion personality and quality of life The final part on continuity and change in emotion patterns and personality discusses emotion and emotionality throughout the life span An ideal reference source for professionals across a wide range of disciplines the text summarizes recent important developments in this fast growing area of psychology and proposes many new directions for future research Provides a biopsychological view on emotion in adulthood from a life span context Presents the new perspective on emotion in older adults actively engaged in emotion self regulation Describes the intimate connection between emotion and the structure of personality Demonstrates a new perspective on what emotion is its importance across the life span its connections with cognition its role in interpersonal relation and the way it influences both stability and change in adulthood Illustrates the interpersonal nature of emotion Provides theoretically based leading edge research from international authors Five areas of coverage include Theoretical perspectives Affect and cognition Emotion and relationships Stress health and psychological well being Continuity and change in emotion patterns and personality Coverage includes Five major theoretical perspectives including biological discrete emotions ethological humanistic and psychosocial The role of emotion in memory problem solving and internal perceptions of self and gender The role of emotion in sibling and parent child relationships relationships between friends and romantic partners and the emotional reaction to interpersonal loss across the lifespan Issues of stress and coping religion personality and quality of life Emotion and emotionality throughout the lifespan The International Journal of Aging & Human Development ,2001 Motivation and Adulthood Douglas Kleiber (A.),Martin L.
