Personality Ships of British Columbia R. Greene, 1974
Greene, 1969 Vancouver & Beyond Fred Thirkell, 2000 An anthology of 50 stories about Vancouver and environs in the early years of the 20th century These stories grew out of a collection of picture postcards not just any old postcards but particularly appealing real photo cards that seemed to be waiting to have their stories told While some of the images are not uncommon most of the pictures are rare if not one of a kind survivors of the golden age of postcards which encompassed the years between 1900 and 1914 the relatively short period of time when Vancouver ended its days as a frontier town and became a significant Canadian city Culture and Society Nuala C. Johnson, 2018-01-18 Human geographers have been at the forefront of research that examines the relationships between space culture and society This volume contains twenty one essays published over the past thirty years that are iconic instances of this investigative field With a focus on four broad themes landscape identity colonialism nature these essays represent some of the best and most innovative interventions that geographers have made on these topics From the visual to the corporeal from rural Ceylon to urban America and from the sixteenth century to the twenty first this volume brings together a set of theoretically sophisticated and empirically grounded works The Best Loved Boat Ian Kennedy, 2023-10-28 Built in 1913 the Canadian Pacific Railway's ship Princess Maquinna steamed up and down the rugged west coast of Vancouver Island in summer and winter calm weather and storms for over forty years and has become one of the most beloved boats in BC's maritime history Princess Maquinna sometimes referred to as the Ugly Princess but most often Old Faithful transported Indigenous people settlers missionaries loggers cannery workers prospectors and travellers of all kinds up and down Vancouver Island's rugged and dangerous west coast stopping at up to forty ports of call on her seven day run The Princess Maquinna faithfully served as the lifeline for all those who lived on the west coast of Vancouver Island before it became accessible by roads Because of this strong connection she became the Best Loved Boat in BC's maritime history Kennedy recounts battles through eighty knot gales along the exposed coastline sailors called The Graveyard of the Pacific and reveals the bigotry that forced Indigenous and Chinese passengers to remain on the foredeck of the ship while other passengers sheltered from the elements inside He brings the history of this beloved ship to life with rich detail recalling a time when this remote part of British Columbia was alive with mines canneries and now forgotten settlements Don't Never Tell Nobody Nothin' No How Rick James, 2018-10-13 We operated perfectly legally We considered ourselves philanthropists We supplied good liquor to poor thirsty Americans and brought prosperity back to the Harbour of Vancouver Captain Charles Hudson At the stroke of one minute past midnight January 17 1920 the National Prohibition Act was officially declared in effect in the United States From 1920 to 1933 the manufacture sale importation and transportation of alcohol and of course the imbibing of such products was illegal Prohibition was already a bust in Canada and it wasn't long before fleets of vessels from weather beaten old fish boats to large ocean going steamers began filling their holds with liquor to deliver their much valued cargo to their thirsty neighbours to the south Contrary to popular perception rum running along the Pacific coast wasn't dominated by violent encounters like those portrayed in the movies Instead it was usually carried out in a relatively civilized manner with an oh so Canadian politeness on the British Columbian side Most operated within the law But there were indeed shootouts hijackings and even a particularly gruesome murder associated with the business Using first hand accounts of old time rum runners extensive research using primary and secondary documentation and the often sensational newspaper coverage of the day Don't Never Tell Nobody Nothin' No How sets out to explain what really went down along the West Coast during the American Noble Experiment     Hub City Jan Peterson, 2003 The Nanaimo Bastion which marked its 150th anniversary in 2003 remains a prominent symbol of Nanaimo's heritage as an HBC fort coal mining centre and transportation hub a vital link between other developing parts of Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland Hub City the second volume in Jan Peterson's trilogy on Nanaimo's vibrant history tells of the development of this Vancouver Island community from the arrival of the E N Railway in 1886 through to the end of the First World War and the Spanish influenza epidemic Included in her story are such pivotal events as the mining disaster of 1887 the Big Strike of 1912 1914 the emergence of the labour movement and the rise and fall of coal baron James Dunsmuir     A Bibliography of British Columbia Margaret H. Also Gerald Rushton's Compact History of the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia* Ruth Greene, 1969     American Smuggling as White Collar Crime Lawrence Karson, 2020-09-29 When Edwin Sutherland introduced the concept of white collar crime he referred to the respectable businessmen of his day who had in the course of their occupations violated the law whenever it was advantageous to do so Yet since the founding of the American Republic numerous otherwise respectable individuals had been involved in white collar criminality Using organized smuggling as an exemplar this narrative history of American smuggling establishes that white collar crime has always been an integral part of American history when conditions were favorable to violating the law This dark side of the American Dream originally exposed itself in colonial times with elite merchants of communities such as Boston trafficking contraband into the colonies It again came to the forefront during the Embargo of 1809 and continued through the War of 1812 the Civil War nineteenth century filibustering the Mexican Revolution and Prohibition The author also shows that the years of illegal opium trade with China by American merchants served as precursor to the later smuggling of opium into the United States The author confirms that each period of smuggling was a link in the continuing chain of white collar crime in the 150 years prior to Sutherland s assertion of corporate criminality      Acts of the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada Canada,1873      The Law Reports ,1897
