Perspectives In International Economic Law:

New Voices and New Perspectives in International Economic Law John D. Haskell, Akbar Rasulov, 2019-12-10 This book brings together a series of contributions by international legal scholars that explore a range of subjects and themes in the field of international economic law and global economic governance through a variety of methodological and theoretical lenses. It introduces the reader to a number of different ways of constructing and approaching the study of international economic law. The book deals with a series of different theoretical agendas and perspectives ranging from the more traditional empirical legal studies to the more alternative language theory and it expands the scope of substantive discussion and thematic coverage beyond the usual suspects of international trade, international investment and international finance. While the volume still gives due recognition to the traditional theoretical project of international economic law, it invites the reader to extend the scope of disciplinary imagination to other less commonly acknowledged questions of global economic governance such as food security, monetary unions and international economic coercion. In addition to historically focused and critical perspectives, the volume also includes a number of programmatic and forward looking explorations which makes it appealing to a broad audience with a variety of contrasting interests. Therefore, the volume is of particular interest to academics and postgraduate students in the fields of international law, international relations, international political economy and international history.

Perspectives in International Economic Law Asif Qureshi, 2002-02-12 Economic activity, Professor Qureshi insists, is a visible manifestation of the human condition. The laws that regulate it and develop its norms must be deeply human. International economic law must be ever vigilant in its efforts to represent the economic needs of all strata of humanity. It must not allow the cultural imperatives of any one group to predominate. To investigate the validity of this deeply held conviction, in May 2001 Professor Qureshi and the University of Manchester School of Law brought together a conference of major IEL scholars to elicit as broad a diversity of perspectives as possible. This book, well informed in its insight and far reaching in its implications, grew out of that conference. Issues and topics that arise in the course of the investigation include globalisation and its institutions, the survival of the nation state, the role of the International Court of Justice, sustainable development, developing countries and dispute settlement, developing countries and trade negotiations, regional integration, human rights and the untouchability of IEL and the gender bias of basic IEL institutions and rules. There are also clear presentations of specifically Marxist and Islamic perspectives and an analysis along lines of fairness as developed by Thomas Franck and John Rawls. Perspectives in International Economic Law offers lawyers, economists, political scientists and policymakers a multifaceted, multidisciplinary approach to one of the most vitally important human endeavours of our time. While its immediate value and utility is apparent, the depth of clear thinking it evinces on every page will keep it current for many years to come.

International Economic Law Won-mog Choi, 2015-09-10 This book assesses the past 20 years of development of international economic law in time for the WTO's 20th Anniversary and forecasts the future of international economic law This edited volume brings together experts in the Asia Pacific region from a range of backgrounds to provide perspectives on many issues that arise from the international economic law experience focusing on its legal significance and likely impact on multilateralism The past two decades have seen a significant proliferation of regional trade agreements and a lack of multilateral governance of finance around the world How to respond to these challenges and how to reform the WTO jurisprudence and process to co ordinate global and regional mechanisms have become compelling questions for large scale discussions and systemic analysis This book provides vital insights into just how to improve multilateral trading governance and to recalibrate international economic law in the twenty first century European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2016 Marc Bungenberg, Christoph Herrmann, Markus Krajewski, Jörg Philipp Terhechte, 2016-07-16 Volume 7 of the EYIEL focusses on critical perspectives of international economic law Recent protests against free trade agreements such as the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP remind us that international economic law has always been a politically and legally contested field This volume collects critical contributions on trade investment financial and other subfields of international economic law from scholars who have shaped this debate for many years The critical contributions to this volume are challenged and sometimes rejected by commentators who have been invited to be critical with the critics The result is a unique collection of critical essays accompanied by alternative and competing views on some of the most fundamental topics of international economic law In its section on regional developments EYIEL 7 addresses recent megaregional and plurilateral trade and investment agreements and negotiations Short insights on various aspects of the Transpacific Partnership TPP and its sister TTIP are complemented with comments on other developments including the African Tripartite FTA und the negotiations on a plurilateral Trade in Services Agreement TiSA Further sections address recent WTO and investment case law as well as recent developments concerning the IMF UNCTAD and the WCO The volume closes with reviews of recent books in international economic law

Transatlantic Perspectives on International Economic Law Peter-Christian Müller-Graff, 2009 A transatlantic dialogue on varying perspectives on international economic law was the purpose of a round table conference held at the University of Heidelberg in June 2007 During this conference particular interest focused on the emerging binding framework of the World Trade Organization and on the developing legal framework of the European Community This volume contains transcripts of the lectures given at the conference as well as the text of the public lecture by Professor John H Jackson from Georgetown University which preceded the conference International Economic Law Giovanna Adinolfi, Freya Baetens, José Caiado, Angela Lupone, Anna G. Micara, 2016-12-29 This volume scrutinises the main challenges faced by States in their current international economic relations from an interdisciplinary perspective It combines legal research with political and economic analysis and favours dialogue among scientific disciplines Readers are offered a series of in depth studies on a rich variety of topics how to reconcile States interest to benefit from economic liberalization with their need to pursue social goals such as the protection of human rights or of the environment recent developments under WTO law and regional integration processes international cooperation in the energy sector national regulatory developments in the banking sector sovereign wealth funds and investor State arbitration      Labour Standards in International Economic Law Henner

Gött,2018-02-21 The book offers a comprehensive perspective on the highly topical issue of protecting and promoting labour standards in international economic law and the globalized economy For the purpose of an in depth analysis of both the specific and the fundamental aspects in this regard it combines views from specialized academics of the legal and political sciences as well as experienced practitioners The contributions to this book do not only reveal recurring obstacles but also point at best practices and potential for synergies providing important guidance for future research and practice in international economic and labour law and policy      Changing Orders in International Economic Law Volume 2 Dai

YOKOMIZO,Yoshizumi TOJO,Yoshiko NAIKI,2023-10-20 These two groundbreaking volumes look at complex legal issues in the changing global economy from the perspective of Asia and or Japan Contributors scrutinize the past present and future and discuss what the global legal order in economic fields could be like by navigating uncertain and turbulent times The books address six main themes 1 Polarization and diversification of values progress of regionalism and restructuring of multilateral rules 2 Full scale arrival of the digital economy and its impact 3 Empowerment of private persons entities 4 Reconsideration of the concept of territorial jurisdiction 5 Law of national security and rule in emergency situations and 6 Values of Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in trade and investment liberalization rules The books also examine various legal problems under the COVID 19 crisis and suggest how the post COVID 19 global economic order will be from the perspective of Asia and or Japan This comprehensive insight will shed light on the intertwined and complex phenomena of world economy and allow readers of business law and international law to have a better understanding of this volatile era

Perspectives from International Economic Law on Transnational Environmental Issues Shinya Murase,Hague Academy of International Law,1995      Asian Perspectives on International Investment Law Junji Nakagawa,2019-03-11 With changes to the international investment law landscape and Asian countries now actively developing their network of bilateral investment treaties BITs and free trade agreements FTAs this volume studies issues relating to Asian perspectives on international investment law and forecasts the future of Asian contribution to its science and practice The book discusses the major factors that have been driving Asian countries to new directions in international investment rule making and dispute settlement It also looks at whether Asian countries are crafting a new model of international investment law to reflect their specific socio cultural values Finally the book examines whether there are any Asian styles of international investment rule making and dispute settlement or if individual Asian countries are seeking specific national models based on economic structure and geopolitical interests This unique collection is exceptionally useful to students scholars and practitioners of international investment law international trade law and public international law      Sustainable Development Perspectives

Jacobs, 2018-10-15 Since the 2008 economic meltdown market driven globalization has posed new challenges for governments This collection introduces the innovative concept of grey zones of global governance where international rules are bent or ignored These zones are significant contested spaces for state policy and market behaviour to interact with respect to trade the environment food security and investment Powerful incentives exist in the global economy for states to harmonize their policies through trade and investment agreements But grey zones both promote uniformity in many areas of public life and facilitate diverse forms of capitalism in market societies They enable governments to balance national and global economic benefits as they advance their core interests At a time of growing nationalist sentiment Grey Zones in International Economic Law and Global Governance explores creative local engagement with international economic law and offers a bold new way to understand public concerns about international trade and investment food security green energy subsidies and anti dumping actions International Economic Law and Monetary Measures Annamaria

Viterbo, 2012-01-01 The 2007/2010 global financial crisis re opened the debate on the reform of the international monetary and financial system This well argued book demonstrates the strategic role of international economic law IEL in ensuring international monetary stability and global financial stability After discussing the current allocation of powers among IEL institutions Annamaria Viterbo focuses on monetary measures exchange restrictions capital controls and exchange rate manipulations These three fundamental topics are then examined through the lens of a multi layered methodology adopting perspectives from international monetary law trade law and investment law The author evaluates how the horizontal sectors in which IEL is traditionally divided interact and how conflicts between norms are avoided or solved Particular attention is also devoted to the outcomes of trade and investment disputes that deal with monetary measures International Economic Law and Monetary Measures will appeal to international trade law and international financial law scholars as well as law and business students Legal practitioners and officials working in the field of international economic law will find it a useful reference as will legal counsel in banks and financial institutions international investors and multinational corporations

Cultural Heritage in International Economic Law Valentina Vadi,2023-03-27 Can cultural heritage be adequately protected vis vis economic globalization This book investigates whether and how international economic law governs cultural phenomena by mapping the relevant legal framework discussing the relevant disputes concerning cultural elements adjudicated before international economic courts namely the World Trade Organization adjudicative bodies and investment treaty arbitral tribunals and proposing legal methods to reconcile cultural and economic interests It thus provides a comprehensive evaluation of possible solutions including evolution of the law through treaty interpretation and reforms to improve the balance between economic governance and cultural policy objectives

International Economic Law Kholofelo Kugler,Franziska Sucker,2021 Research Handbook on Global Justice and International Economic Law John Linarelli,2013-09-30 The fairness of institutions of global economic governance ranks among the most pressing issues of our time Recueil des Cours:Collected Courses of the Hague Academy of International Law Academie de Droit International de la Haye,1996-06-20 This course presented by Shinya Murase Professor at the Sophia University in Tokyo has two objectives First of all Professor Murase aims to demonstrate the usefulness of utilizing an approach of international economic law to analyze certain transnational environmental issues Professor Muase shows that international economic law and international environmental law are often two sides of the same coin and therefore not only very similar but also inextricably linked Secondly Professor Murase will consider environmental issues by discussing their relationship with certain fundamental concepts and institutions of general international law more particularly international law treaty law State jurisdiction and responsibility countermeasures and domestic implementation of international obligations Publisher s description

International Economic Law and African Development Laurence Boule,2014-06-20 International Economic Law and African Development discusses international perspectives on African law and economic development in the light of broader globalisation imperatives It is the third in what can loosely be described as a series on Africa and gobalisation by the Mandela Institute the first two being Globalisation and Governance and International Economic Law Voices of Africa

International Economic Organizations and Law Asif Hasan Qureshi,Xuan Gao,2012 In the opinions proffered in the preoccupations shared indeed even in the silence of omissions these contributions by distinguished key practitioners from major representative organizations that play a role in the international economic system will be warmly welcomed by the community of scholars policymakers and practitioners concerned with international economic law      International Economic Organizations and Law Asif H. Qureshi, 2012-04-10 There can be little doubt that a group of prominent and influential organizations lie at the heart of international economic law IEL These include the Bretton Woods institutions regional development banks and economic organizations and various specialized global institutions primarily active in norm generation This volume possesses the unique distinction of presenting the perspectives both institutional and personal of legal counsels in some key international economic organizations regarding their work and the role of law within the framework of their organizations with particular attention to the conditions within which they can optimally contribute to the development of IEL This last consideration is emphasized in three external academic perspectives that focus mainly on what the role of counsels in international economic organizations ought to be Each first hand perspective focuses on counsel s involvement in such aspects of IEL as the following providing internal advice on the law of the organization assisting members with respect to domestic institutions and law in the economic sphere to what extent if any legal counsels are normally involved in policy making for issues that are not strictly of a legal nature intellectual contributions both to the development of international law and the dissemination and exchange of legal knowledge among various stakeholders ethical challenges and response to possible conflicts of interests generation of soft law economic instruments legal issues on replenishment of resources for development funding setting of internationally recognized standards or best practices for commercial and financial legislation informal networks of lawyers and lawyer functions which cut across institutional and territorial boundaries and negotiation and management of free trade agreements from a legal perspective
