

Diverse Perspectives on Justice

Justice has taken on new meanings as a result of this. The following are particularly significant among them: The communitarian perspective, the liberal perspective, the libertarian perspective, the Marxist perspective, the democratic-socialist perspective, the anarchist perspective, the feminist perspective, and the subaltern perspective. Understanding these viewpoints will go a long way toward assisting us in comprehending the intricacy of the issue.

Liberal perspective

The main issue with justice, according to a liberal perspective, is liberty. It strives to incorporate the ideas of equality and fraternity in the larger context of liberty since it is especially concerned with substantive liberty. The main embodiment of this viewpoint is Rawls' Theory of Justice.

THEORY OF JUSTICE BY RAWLS

In his renowned book A Theory of Justice (1971), contemporary American philosopher John Rawls (1921-2002) noted that a decent society is defined by a number of characteristics. A good society's first virtue is justice. In other words, fairness is a prerequisite for a decent society but it is not sufficient in and of itself. Those who contend that justice shouldn't stand in the way of social growth and advancement run the risk of morally degrading society.

Issue with Distribution

To provide a fair distribution of "basic goods," such as rights and liberties, powers and opportunities, money and wealth, means of self-respect, and so forth, is the goal of justice, in Rawls' view. According to Rawls, his theory is a pure procedural justice theory. It indicates that once a set of justice principles has gained universal acceptance, the distribution that results from its

Perspectives On Justice:

Perspectives on Justice Telford Taylor, Constance Baker Motley, James Kern Feibleman, 1975 Catholic Perspectives on Medical Morals Edmund D. Pellegrino, J. Langan, John Collins Harvey, 2012-12-06 CATHOLIC PERSPECTIVES AND CONTEMPORARY MEDICAL MORALS A Catholic perspective on medical morals antedates the current world wide interest in medical and biomedical ethics by many centuries 5 Discussions about the moral status of the fetus abortion contraception and sterilization can be found in the writings of the Fathers and Doctors of the Church Teachings on various aspects of medical morals were scattered throughout the penitential books of the early medieval church and later in more formal treatises when moral theology became recognized as a distinct discipline Still later medical morality was incorporated into the many pastoral works on medicine Finally in the contemporary period works that strictly focus on medical ethics are produced by Catholic moral theologians who have special interests in matters medical Moreover this long tradition of teaching has been put into practice in the medical moral directives governing the operation of hospitals under Catholic sponsorship Catholic hospitals were monitored by Ethics Committees long before such committees were recommended by the New Jersey Court in the Karen Ann Quinlan case or by the President's Commission in 1983 8 9 Underlying the Catholic moral tradition was the use of the casuistic method which since the 17th and 18th centuries was employed by Catholic moralists to study and resolve concrete clinical ethical dilemmas The history of casuistry is of renewed interest today when the case method has become so widely used in the current revival of interest in medical ethics 11

Psychological Perspectives on Justice Barbara A. Mellers, Jonathan Baron, 2008 Handbook of Moral Motivation Karin Heinrichs, Fritz Oser, Terence Lovat, 2013-06-12 The Handbook of Moral Motivation offers a contemporary and comprehensive appraisal of the age old question about motivation to do the good and to prevent the bad From a research point of view this question remains open even though we present here a rich collection of new ideas and data Two sources helped the editors to frame the chapters first they looked at an overwhelmingly fruitful research tradition on motivation in general attribution theory performance theory self determination theory etc in relationship to morality The second source refers to the tension between moral judgment feelings beliefs and the real moral act in a twofold manner a as a necessary duty and b as a social but not necessary bond In addition the handbook utilizes the latest research from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives wishing to suggest by this that the answer to the posed question will likely not come from one discipline alone Furthermore our hope is that the implicit criticism that the narrowly constructed research approach of the recent past has contributed to closing off rather than opening up interdisciplinary lines of research becomes in this volume a strong counter discourse The editors and authors of the handbook commend the research contained within in the hope that it will contribute to better understanding of humanity as an inherently moral species Solidarity and Reciprocity with Migrants in Asia Mary Mee-Yin Yuen, 2019-11-21 Based on Catholic and Confucian social ethics this book develops an ethic of solidarity and reciprocity with the migrants in Asia who are marginalized Mary Mee Yin Yuen draws off her own pastoral experiences in the Church the situation of the wider Christian community and the personal experiences of migrant women from various Asian countries in Hong Kong to describe the features and practices of an ethical approach that emphasizes solidarity and reciprocity Interdisciplinary in nature this book integrates Catholic social ethics moral philosophy Chinese Confucian ethics social sciences and cultural studies to investigate the phenomenon of international and intra national migration in Asia particularly with regard to women migrants moving from South Asia Southeast Asia and Mainland China to Hong Kong Contemporary Perspectives on Justice Wenzel Matiaske,Sérgio Costa,Hauke Brunkhorst,2010

Perspectives on Teaching, Learning and Development Andrew Garrod,1984 Before Dinner M. Korthals,2008-11-09 This book is an extensive original and systematic treatment of many important philosophical and ethical aspects of food consumption and production May we eat just anything Can we do everything with animals even genetic modification If not how can we regulate those processes so that they lead to optimum animal welfare while at the same time producing optimum taste The production of food also causes environmental pollution does the fight against hunger have priority over the care of the environment The care of the environment animal welfare and the quality of food should be in a certain harmony but that is far from granted and hardly easy to achieve These factors are often in conflict with each other and a balance will thus need to be searched for Other factors to take into consideration are the issue of global famine the care for a farming class that is able to keep its head above water in a decent way and a fair trade system that does not throw up unnecessary barriers for newcomers or small market participants and that promotes good nutrition Famine continues to be a widespread phenomenon that violates human rights causing nearly a billion people to suffer from hunger or malnutrition At the same time deliberate hunger abundance and obesity are prevalent in the Western world Both issues refer to the social and cultural aspects of food Scientific and technological developments like genetic modification and functional food also play an increasingly important role almost every bite that we take is determined by scientific developments An extra difficulty is that scientific information is often contradictory or that it relies on statistical probabilities that are difficult to translate into everyday certitudes All of these factors deserve attention but it is the mix that is most important In the land of food either or does not exist only both and The adequate measure of both and serves as the starting point for this philosophical reflection Before Dinner is a must read for all people interested in contemporary ethical issues of food such as university students and researchers of food agricultural and life sciences as well as policymakers in these fields such as members of professional organisations focusing on food and agriculture f e EURSAFE European Society for Agriculture and Food Ethics the Agriculture Food and Human Values Society USA and European Federation of Biotechnology Explaining the Breakdown of Ethnic Relations Victoria M. Esses,Richard A. Vernon,2009-01-26 Written by an international team of renowned scholars this volume addresses the multitude of factors that may lead to the deadlybreakdown of ethnic relations The book Draws on real world case studies such as Rwanda Sudan and the Second Palestinian Intifada Brings together original contributions and theoretical perspectives by a team of experts in psychology and related disciplines such as sociology and political science Identifies events and processes that can break down inhibitions against violence and lead to mass killings and genocide Examines explanations that must be considered in making sense of past acts and offers suggestions for interventions to prevent future repetitions

Comprehending Care Tove Pettersen, 2008-03-11 American psychologist Carol Gilligan holds that dominant ethical theories with their strong emphasis on rights and justice fail to see how care is an indispensable part of moral life This failure weakens their credibility as adequate universal ethical theories In Comprehending Care Tove Pettersen investigates whether an ethics of care really does give voice to a normative perspective that traditional moral theory has disregarded More specifically she considers whether Carol Gilligan's own theoretical contribution is an ethical theory of care and if it is likely to contribute to such a revised understanding Pettersen argues that central elements in a consistent and justifiable ethics of care theory can in fact be extracted from her works and is an ethics that to some extent challenges traditional ethical theories by revealing some of their ontological and epistemological inadequacies such as tacit assumptions unforeseen disturbing implications and deficient moral categories Within Gilligan's theoretical stance Pettersen finds suggestions for necessary revisions to remedy the flawed or deficient understanding generated by traditional ethical theory She argues however that Gilligan exaggerates her general critique of Western moral philosophy and specifically of the justice tradition and she exposes how Gilligan's portrayal of this tradition is misguided in places arguing that accommodating the concerns of justice is a central challenge yet to be met for an ethics of care

Perspectives in Jurisprudence Eric J. Boos, 1998 H L A Hart's book The Concept of Law is perhaps the single greatest contribution to the field of legal philosophy in this century Hart lays the groundwork for the continued progress in the perennial debate between legal positivism and natural law This book briefly reviews the historic significance of that debate and demonstrates how Hart paves the way for an enlightened analysis of the tenuous relationship between law and morality It provides a detailed examination of Hart's efforts to establish a legal framework through primary and secondary rules and an ultimate rule of recognition It focuses specifically on Hart's reliance on the internal perspective as a means of establishing the form of obligation necessary for a legal system It examines Hart's treatment of the relationship between law and morality and Hart's mischaracterization of St Thomas Aquinas's natural law theory
