Perspectives On Motivation:

Perspectives on Motivation Richard Dienstbier, Richard A. Dienstbier, 1991-01-01 Appearing on the hundredth anniversary of the teaching of psychology at the University of Nebraska this volume represents a return to an earlier preoccupation with motivation and reflects a resurgence of interest in it Eight professionals in psychology discuss the many sides of motivation Mortimer Appley president emeritus of Clark University sees equilibrium or homeostasis as the fundamental motivational process Douglas Derryberry and Don M Tucker of the University of Oregon present a broad and basic model of motivation viewing it as a product of the evolution and neural architecture of the human brain Carole S Dweck of Columbia University approaches personality development through motivational concepts in particular goals related to self image Bernard Weiner of the University of California Los Angeles discusses the importance of one's perception of control over the causes of a situation or problem and over its management or solution Albert Bandura of Stanford University is concerned with short and long term goals as they are affected by emotional states and a sense of self efficacy Similarly Edward L Deci and Richard M Ryan of the University of Rochester consider the bearing of self determination on motivation and achievement

Developmental Perspectives on Motivation Janis E. Jacobs, 1993 Some of the best current work on the development of motivation is presented in this fortieth volume of the Nebraska Symposium on Motivation The diverse approaches for conceptualizing and studying motivational development psychology that extends the traditional area of achievement motivation Some major themes emerge the conceptualization of the self the internal and external factors that affect development of motivations and the choices that result from one's motivations Richard Ryan's opening chapter places the entire work in context by describing historical and theoretical perspectives on developmental and psychosocial models used to understand motivation Mihaly Csikszentmihaly and Kevin Rathunde also focus on intrinsic motivation but with a greater focus on flow the experience of full involvement with an activity Susan Harter discusses the roles of the I self and the me self research models Jacquelynne S Eccles stresses the link between the social contexts of family and school and the motivational constructs related to achievement and choice of activity Laura L Carstensen maintains Eccles's focus on the importance of choice of activity but concentrates on the later stages in life when social contact declines as a result of changing social and emotional motivations The volume concludes with a summary analyzing the contributors' descriptions of the diverse but complementary aspects of developmental processes and theory

Perspectives on Anxiety, Panic, and Fear Debra A. Hope, Carroll Ellis Izard, 1996 Modern conceptualization of the multidimensional nature of anxiety panic and fear are examined from a variety of perspectives including theories of emotion and cognition neuropsychology and conditioning Carroll E Izard and Eric A Youngstrom open with a review of Differential Emotions Theory In the second chapter Jeffrey A Gray and Neil McNaughton summarize and update Gray's neuropsychological theory of anxiety Susan Mineka and Richard Zinbarg consider what modern conditioning theory contributes to the understanding of emotion and Richard J

McNally offers an overview of the application of experimental cognitive paradigms to fear panic and anxiety The volume concludes with a new version of David H Barlow s theory of emotional disorders Barlow Bruce F Chorpita and Julia Turovsky draw from work on emotion neurophysiology attributions learning ethology attention and child development to describe how the inappropriate activation of fear e g a panic attack can trigger events that may eventually become a clinical anxiety disorder Perspectives on Anxiety Panic and Fear confirms that anxiety panic and fear are complex phenomena requiring a multidimensional approach that ranges from neuroanatomy to conditioning Decade Ahead Stuart Karabenick,Tim Urdan,2010-06-18 Examines seven prominent theories of motivation including research on self efficacy achievement goal theory expectancy value theory self determination theory self concept research implicit motives and interest This book also examines the associations between motivation and other constructs such as emotion and self regulation Future Time Perspective and Motivation Joseph Nuttin,2014-04-04 First published in 1985 The present volume is a theoretical and methodological supplement to the Nuttin s book Motivation planning and action A relational theory of behaviour dynamics in which he showed that behaviour dynamics in man due to their interaction with higher cognitive functioning are processed into goals and means end structures that is behavioural projects or plans The main purpose of the theoretical section of this book is to contribute to the integration of the future time dimension on the study of human motivation and behaviour The main part is then devoted to a two step method for studying the content and density of a person s future time perspective and for measuring its depth or extension Perspectives on Motivation Richard A. Making the Grade Martin V. Covington, 1992-04-24 Achievement behaviour in schools can best be understood in terms of attempts by students to maintain a positive self image For many students trying hard is frightening because a combination of effort and failure implies low ability which is often equated with worthlessness Thus many students described as unmotivated are in actuality highly motivated not to learn but to avoid failure Students have a variety of techniques for avoiding failure ranging from cheating to setting low goals which are easily achieved In Making the Grade Martin Covington extracts powerful educational implications from self worth theory and other contemporary views of motivation that will be useful for everyone concerned with the educational dilemmas we face He provides a comprehensive insightful review of research and theory both contemporary and historical on the topic of achievement motivation and arranges this knowledge in ways that lead to imminently practical recommendations for restructuring schools

Unlocking the Power of Teacher Feedback Lan Yang, Ming Ming Chiu, Zi Yan, 2024-02-15 This volume addresses the pivotal role of feedback in enhancing students motivation and learning Through a series of innovative studies it uncovers the intricacies of how students perceive and utilize feedback
