Perspectives On Environmental Conflict And International Politics:

Perspectives on Environmental Conflict and International Relations Jyrki Käkönen, 1992      Simon Dalby: A Pioneer in International Relations Simon Dalby, Roger Boyd, 2025-06-11 This book profiles Simon Dalby's academic contributions in the fields of critical geopolitics, environmental security and the intersection of international relations and the Anthropocene. It includes reprints of key essays that highlight innovations in critical thought at the intersections between geopolitics, environment and security. Starting with an analysis of American reconstructions of the Soviet threat in the 1970s, an early contribution to the emerging field of critical geopolitics, subsequent papers focus on the emergent formulations of environmental security in the aftermath of the Cold War and the environmental costs of globalization. Focusing on the implicit geographical framing in discourses of globalization, offered a critique that extended the ambit of critical geopolitics to grapple with the issues of environmental security and the rising concern with climate change as well as the political identities invoked in that debate. In the aftermath of 9/11, similar arguments about contextualization applied to the American global war on terror and the revival of discussions of empire and its geographies, both in arguments for invading Iraq as well as the wider discussions in policy discourse and popular culture. Simultaneously, the emergence of earth system science and the concept of the Anthropocene offered another way to highlight the dangers of fossil-fueled economic activities. The necessity of fundamentally rethinking the premises of security policy in light of this recontextualization is emphasized in more recent contributions on climate security and the current ecological crisis. Critical geopolitics, Environmental security, Global war on terror, Firepower in the Anthropocene      Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1996

Responding to Environmental Conflicts: Implications for Theory and Practice Eileen Petzold-Bradley, Alexander Carius, Árpád Vincze, 2012-12-06 A comprehensive tour d'horizon of the debate on the environment and security focusing on the various policy options for building peace and preventing environmental conflict. Experts from the areas survey the key environmental challenges in Eastern and Central European states and those of the former Soviet Union, extending the debate to such regions as the Balkans, the Black Sea and Central Europe. This is the first time such extensive case study research has been reported for these regions. Both practical and theoretical approaches to the debate are presented within a multi-disciplinary framework, the contributors ranging from academic experts involved with peace and conflict research to actual policy makers active in the fields of environmental and security policy. Readership: Experts already working in the relevant disciplines, both academic and governmental, as well as those seeking an introduction to the various policy fields. A graduate level study text, excellent survey for policy makers and an academic contribution to ongoing studies      Environmental Policy with Political and Economic Integration John B. Braden, Henk Folmer, Thomas Ulen, 1996 Issues discussed include the regulation of agricultural pollution, global warming, ozone pollution and environmental security      The Environment in International Relations Caroline Thomas, 1992      Journal of International and Area Studies, 2005      The Oxford

Handbook of Peaceful Change in International Relations T. V. Paul, Deborah Welch Larson, Harold A. Trinkunas, Anders Wivel, Ralf Emmers, 2021 Abstract With the rapid rise of China and the relative decline of the United States the topic of power transition conflicts is back in popular and scholarly attention The discipline of International Relations offers much on why violent power transition conflicts occur yet very few substantive treatments exist on why and how peaceful changes happen in world politics This Handbook is the first comprehensive treatment of the subject of peaceful change in International Relations It contains some 41 chapters all written by scholars from different theoretical and conceptual backgrounds examining the multi faceted dimensions of this subject In the first part key conceptual and definitional clarifications are offered and in the second part papers address the historical origins of peaceful change as an International Relations subject matter during the Inter War Cold War and Post Cold War eras In the third part each of the IR theoretical traditions and paradigms in particular Realism liberalism constructivism and critical perspectives and their distinct views on peaceful change are analyzed In the fourth part papers tackle the key material ideational and social sources of change In the fifth part the papers explore selected great and middle powers and their foreign policy contributions to peaceful change realizing that many of these states have violent past or tend not to pursue peaceful policies consistently In part six the contributors evaluate the peaceful change that occurred in the world s key regions In the final part the editors address prospective research agenda and trajectories on this important subject matter Keywords Peaceful Change War Security International Relations Theory Sources of Change Systemic Theory Realism Liberalism Constructivism Critical Theories     Hydropolitics in the Developing World Anthony Turton, Roland Henwood, 2002 Bringing contributions by a variety of authors together in one volume is part of an attempt to show that hydropolitics is a growing discipline in its own right The prevailing definition of hydropolitics is widened to include the elements of scale and range This is illustrated through a focus on theoretical and legal issues case studies from Southern Africa and a proposed research agenda The book is an important addition to the literature on hydropolitics     Engaging Geopolitics Kathleen E Braden, Fred M Shelley, 2014-09-11 Engaging Geopolitics provides a comprehensive introduction to the influence of geography demography and economics on politics and international relations in the world in which we live today The authors expressed aim is to make geopolitics more accessible to undergraduate students with the hope that the book will be an ideal starting pointing for those who will be moving vertically into more advanced courses in political geography or laterally into other concerns of international affairs     Eastern Africa Social Science Research Review ,1992     Global Geopolitical Change and the Asia-Pacific Dennis Rumley, 1996 This work looks at events which have had fundamental implications for the geopolitical relations in and with the Asia Pacific region It covers issues such as regional definition the emergence of regional integration the role of Japan China Russia and India and security and trade     World Encyclopedia of Peace Javier Pérez de Cuéllar, Yöng-sik Cho, 1999     Michigan Law Review ,1999     Golden Gate University Law Review Golden Gate University. School of Law, 1999     Security Studies for the 21st

Century Richard H. Shultz, Roy Godson, George H. Quester, 1997 Are world politics more or less stable violence prone and anxiety producing today than in previous eras How are states and nonstate actors coping with these issues What new material do the public and especially students of security studies need to understand the security environment of the next century The editors of this ambitious successor volume to Security Studies for the 1990s approach the subject from national international regional transstate and comparative perspectives Each chapter provides an in depth review of a major security aspect of the subject providing key concepts methods suggested course structure a bibliography and a model syllabus This book is designed primarily for courses at the graduate level but it can also be adapted for undergraduates Monthly

Bibliography United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland), 1996 Yearbook of International Organizations, 1967 Beginning in 1983 84 published in 3 vols with expansion to 6 vols by 2007 2008 vol 1 Organization descriptions and cross references vol 2 Geographic volume international organization participation vol 3 Subject volume vol 4 Bibliography and resources vol 5 Statistics visualizations and patterns vol 6 Who's who in international organizations From year to year some slight variations in naming of the volumes Green Security Or Militarized Environment Jyrki Käkönen, 1994 During the last years of the Cold War security was already associated with economic and environmental issues This work discusses the different aspects of the relation between the military and the environment The discussion is related to the changing concept of security and to peace studies The Political Ecology of Philippine Rural Industrial Development and Environmental Pollution Andrew Stockton Tomlinson, 1994
