Perloff, 1993 Persuasion is one of the oldest fields of academic study it dates back thousands of years In our own era persuasion has been studied primarily by means of the theories and methods of social science research Numerous scholars have made contributions to our knowledge of persuasion and the field has generated a wealth of intriguing concepts and an impressive body of knowledge on persuasion processes and effects Persuasion is not simply a science however it is also an art Today there is a burgeoning persuasion industry that includes advertising sales public relations political consulting firms and a host of private and public companies that seek to change attitudes and influence social behaviors USE SECOND PARAGRAPH ONLY FOR GENERAL CATALOGS Written to enhance students understanding of persuasion theory and its applications to everyday situations this book presents an up to date review of persuasion theory and research Attempting to show students how these theories can deepen our understanding of how persuasion is practiced in a variety of real life situations it is designed as a text for undergraduate students who wish to know more about concepts of attitude and persuasion as well as introducing graduate students to

theory and research in the field of persuasion With a broad look at persuasion research this volume examines psychological approaches to persuasion interpersonal communication theories and the interface between persuasion and mass communication in particular mass media information campaigns It examines research on cognitive processing of persuasive messages compliance gaining in interpersonal contexts and the effects of large scale health communication campaigns

The Dynamics of Persuasion Richard M. Perloff, 2003 This completely revised second edition of the best selling text presents an up to date comprehensive introduction to persuasive communication and attitude change Employing the same organizational strategy he used in the first edition but offering more applications and fresh examples Richard Perloff systematically explores the impact of persuasive communications on attitudes toward a host of topics spanning health politics and racial prejudice This text will enhance students understanding of persuasion theories and research introduce readers to the social science perspective on persuasion expose students to major issues discussed in the field of persuasion research help students appreciate complexities and subtleties in the dynamics of everyday persuasion and raise consciousness about the ethics of contemporary persuasion Part I introduces students to the ubiquity of persuasion how it is defined and differentiated from related terms and the meaning of core concepts like attitude belief and value Perloff combines a discussion of major concepts such as balance theory accessibility and the theory of reasoned action with application of these concepts to numerous situations in everyday life including the Clinton Lewinsky scandal body art religion abortion and AIDS prevention Part II of the book explores communication and attitude change Contemporary theories such as the Elaboration Likelihood Model the Extended Parallel Process Model and Cognitive Dissonance Theory are discussed in detail Students and professors will find an up to date discussion of research generated by these theories coupled with criticisms of theoretical perspectives Part III of the book examines advertising and communication campaigns After introducing students to advertising using well known advertising slogans and motifs Perloff debunks subliminal advertising and describes major theories of advertising effects Written for the upper undergraduate level The Dynamics of Persuasion is appropriate for courses in the social sciences notably communication speech journalism psychology marketing and sociology

The Dynamics of Persuasion Richard M. Perloff, 2016-12-19 The Dynamics of Persuasion has been a staple resource for teaching persuasion for nearly two decades Author Richard M Perloff speaks to students in a style that is engaging and informational explaining key theories and research as well as providing timely and relevant examples The companion website includes materials for both students and instructors and expanding the pedagogical utilities The sixth edition includes updated theoretical and applied research in a variety of areas including framing inoculation and self affirmation new studies of health campaigns expanded coverage of social media marketing enhanced discussion of the Elaboration Likelihood Model in light of continued research and new applications to everyday persuasion The fundamentals of the book emphasis on theory clear cut explanation of findings in depth discussion of persuasion processes and effects and easy to follow real world applications continue in the sixth edition Persuasion in the Media Age Timothy Borchers, 2021-09-14 Persuasion in the Media Age addresses the impact of electronic media on the practice of persuasion and reviews constantly evolving digital strategies Today's world demands a new perspective on persuasion one that is grounded in the assumption that human consciousness and culture have been forever altered by communication technology The fourth edition provides timely examples of persuasion in political campaigns social movements marketing and interpersonal relationships and the role of social media and media technologies in all of the contexts From advertisers to politicians to influencers to friends persuaders use increasingly sophisticated strategies to sway behavior Borchers skillfully weaves theory research and engaging examples to help readers understand the practice of social influence and to apply critical thinking skills to the persuasion they encounter daily The text takes an interdisciplinary approach to provide the latest thinking on persuasion while also drawing on a broad theoretical base for foundational concepts such as attitudes rhetoric and human motivation Throughout Borchers emphasizes audience storytelling visual images and ethics This comprehensive insightful and accessible overview of persuasive communication teaches readers how to be skilled creators of persuasive messages as well as critical consumers

Persuasion and Human Action Mary John Smith, 1982 Handbook of Rhetorical and Communication Theory Carroll C. Arnold, John Waite Bowers, 1984 Understanding Persuasion Raymond Samuel Ross, 1985 Persuasion Theory's Pedagogical Turn in Ranked MBA Programs Michael Alan Netzley, 2002 Building Communication Theory Dominic A. Infante, Andrew S. Rancer, Deanna F. Womack, 2003 The authors have organized this book to help students learn the process of theory building In clear engaging and comprehensible language they offer a solid foundation for understanding four perspectives on communication Rather than presenting theories in isolation they discuss major theories within the structure of a particular approach and provide examples of the contributions each theory has made to explaining and predicting behavior If a student develops criteria by which to judge a theory that critical framework can be applied to assess the strengths and weaknesses of any new theory Confidence in evaluating contributions helps students appreciate and participate in the process The connections between theorizing and practical applications stimulate interest and further exploration The text does not attempt to be encyclopedic rather it offers a synthesized coherent view of theory from the social scientific perspective emphasizing contributions from communication theorists Learning about theory should be an enjoyable experience Building Communication Theory creates a context for involving students in an exciting and valuable pursuit
