Twentieth-century American Nature Writers Roger Thompson, J. Scott Bryson, 2003

Essays on distinctly American nature writers from the earliest to the most recent that have consistently sought to convey both their wonder at the natural world and their individual personal experiences within it

Genre, 2005

Nature's Kindred Spirits James I. McClintock, 1994-04-01

In Nature's Kindred Spirits James McClintock shows how their mystical experiences with the wild led to dramatic conversions in their thinking and behavior By embracing the ecstasy of nature they reject modern alienation and spiritual confusion

From Aldo Leopold America's most important conservationist and author of the classic A Sand County Almanac to Pulitzer Prize winners Annie Dillard and Gary Snyder and defenders of the desert Joseph Wood Krutch and Edward Abbey these writers share a common vision that harkens back to Henry David Thoreau and John Muir

To nineteenth century Romantic ideals they add the authority of modern ecological science Collectively they have elevated nature's importance in American culture shaping the growth of the environmental movement and influencing American environmental policies

Widely admired among educated readers but relatively neglected by the literary establishment these writers unite the experiential with the metaphysical the ordinary with the sacred the personal with the public and the natural with the social

Using ecology as a touchstone McClintock further draws connections among science politics religion and philosophy to create an enlightening overview of the work of these kindred spirits
