Henry C. Lucas Jr., 2012-06-06 Ideal for business students business managers and corporate senior executives this book distills the lessons learned from the disasters that have befallen companies that were unable to cope with disruptive technologies In recent decades technology has changed rapidly to the point that it can very quickly affect a seemingly impregnable company or industry Unexpected technological developments enable innovators to offer new products and services that threaten incumbents In order to survive existing firms must be able to see a disruption on the horizon and figure out how to respond The Search for Survival Lessons from Disruptive Technologies examines organizations that failed to develop a strategy for coping with a technological disruption and have suffered greatly or even gone out of business The first chapter presents a model of how firms can respond to and hopefully survive a disruptive technology Each following chapter focuses on firms that have failed to survive or whose future is in doubt accompanied by an extensive detailed discussion of the lessons learned from each company or field s failings covering examples from industries such as recorded music book publishing video newspaper and higher education Music, Social Media and Global Mobility

Ole Mjos, 2013-07-03 This book is about the relationship between media communication and globalization explored through the unique empirical study of electronic music practitioners use of the global social media MySpace Facebook YouTube and Twitter To understand the significance of the emerging nexus between social media and music in a global context the book explores various aspects of production distribution and consumption among electronic music practitioners as they engage with global social media as well as a historical political and economic exposition of the rise of this global social media environment Drawing on interview based research with electronic music artists DJs producers and managers together with the historical portrayal of the emergence of global social media this pioneering study aims to capture a development taking place in music culture within the wider transformations of the media and communications landscape from analogue to digital from national to global and from a largely passive to more active media use In doing so it explores the emergence of a media and communications ecology with increased mobility velocity and uncertainty The numerous competing and rapidly growing and fading social media exemplify the vitality and volatility of the transforming global media communication and cultural landscape This study suggests that the music practitioner's relationship with MySpace Facebook YouTube and Twitter and the key characteristics of these global social media alter aspects of our practical and theoretical understandings of the process of media globalization The book deploys an interdisciplinary approach to media globalization that takes into account and articulates this relationship and reflects the enduring power equations and wider continuities and changes within the global media and communications sphere

Disruptive Business Alexander Manu, 2016-05-23 Disruptive Business is a provocative and insightful redefinition of innovation as an outcome of human behaviour a dynamic in constant change requiring the shaping of new responses in business and the economy Alexander Manu believes that organizations must treat innovation not as a process to be managed but as an outcome that changes people's lives In Disruptive Business he explains how innovation is the moment when human behaviour is changed by a particular invention discovery or event This position challenges the current understanding of innovation as well as the current ecology in which innovation operates in organizations its management methods tools language focus and metrics The challenge extends to some of the labels currently applied to innovation typologies such as disruptive innovation seen today as addressing purely the technological side of an invention rather than the more complex motivational and behavioural side Alexander Manu considers that a disruption is not manifest in the moment a new technology is introduced The disruption is the human being and manifest only when human motivation embraces the technology and uses it to modify and improve everyday life Our acceptance and appropriation of new technologies creates the business disruption Manu makes the case that successful innovation outcomes are answers to conscious or subconscious goals residing in human motivation and motivation starts in desire This position is consistent with the history of innovations that have changed improved and reshaped human life and also consistent with their roots and ethos Humans are a perpetually wanting animal bound to desire to seek media for a better self and to need innovation In this dynamic innovation is the constant and business is the variable The role of business is to create the tools objects and services through which people can manifest what they want and who they are The book provides a new perspective of current behavioural disruptions which are relevant to the continuity of business as well as a set of practical methodologies for business design aimed at creating innovation outcomes of value to users
