concept and theory of geographically embedded world economic hubs through a comparative analysis of developmental strengths of the four major bay areas in the world the San Francisco Bay Area the New York Bay Area the Tokyo Bay Area and the Guangdong Hong Kong Macao Greater Bay Area The book discusses the outstanding socioeconomic features of these regions from the perspectives of sci tech innovation government enterprise relations talent cultivation and financial market development and examines the embeddedness of innovation factors and resources in these four major bay areas Such embeddedness emerges from the three open systems of science education and talent enterprise and finance The book draws policy implications for cities and regions that seek value added growth and transformation Green Manure/Cover Crop Systems of Smallholder Farmers Marjatta Eilittä,Joseph Mureithi,Rolf Derpsch,2007-05-08 In the 1980s and 1990s green manure cover crop GMCC systems became a popular agricultural technology in research and development efforts for smallholder tropical and subtropical farmers. However, few syntheses of these experiences have been conducted. This volume of case studies contributes to bridging this gap by reviewing field level experiences with these systems. Twelve case studies are included. Eleven of them describe experiences from Latin America (4 cases), Africa (6 cases), and Asia (1 case), and the twelfth case reports on the development of a GMCC systems database. Two concluding chapters, Learning from the Case Studies and Future Perspectives, build upon the cases. The systems described are diverse. Some systems have been spontaneously adopted by farmers, while others have been introduced to the farmers through diffusion efforts. Some of the cases reviewed describe small localized efforts, while others report on large scale well known ones such as the combination of GMCCs and conservation tillage in Santa Catarina, Brazil; the maize Mucuna system in northern Honduras; and the improved fallow systems in Eastern Zambia. Most experiences include both development and research aspects, and to the extent possible, the cases integrate these two. Discussion of the strengths and shortcomings of the systems and efforts is frank, and the goal is to learn from these experiences to benefit future efforts. It is expected that both researchers and development practitioners and students of tropical farming systems and soil management will find this volume of case studies useful.

People, 1973 Water for People, Water for Life World Water Assessment Programme (United Nations), 2003. This Report offers the most comprehensive assessment to date of the state of the world's freshwater resources based on the collective input of twenty-three United Nations agencies and convention secretariats. The global picture is complemented by the presentation of seven pilot case studies of river basins representing different social, economic, and environmental settings: Lake Titicaca (Bolivia/Peru), Senegal River (Guinea/Mali/Mauritania/Senegal), Seine Normandy (France), Lake Peipsi (Chudskoe/Pskovskoe, Estonia/Russian Federation), Ruhuna basins (Sri Lanka), Greater Tokyo (Japan), and Chao Phraya River (Thailand). With its numerous full-colour maps, country tables, references, and coverage of a broad range of themes and real-world examples, the UN World Water Development Report Water for People, Water for Life should find its place as a valued, authoritative, and well-worn reference book.

Polityka, 2008 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography Thula Simpson, Immanuel R. Harisch, 2025-05-09. The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography explores history's fortunes in Modern Africa south of the Sahara from the discipline's Golden Age as a handmaiden in struggles against colonialism to difficult decades when its survival has been threatened by capricious political and economic conditions and the uncertain present where the continent's historians struggle to justify their value to frequently sceptical publics. In exploring the discipline's practical role in past struggles for African emancipation, the volume speaks directly to these challenging but changing circumstances. The chapters feature contributions from leading experts on historiographical traditions of different regions of the continent. They collectively demonstrate how the process of instrumentalizing the past to advance lay struggles has influenced the choices historians have made regarding sources methodology interpretation audiences and platforms This practical application has strongly shaped the diverse forms that African historiography has assumed as reflected in this book The themes discussed offer a platform for inserting Africa into comparative studies of global historiographical traditions whilst also contributing to contemporary debates on decolonization In offering accessible insights from leading historians this is an essential handbook for students and scholars of African history and historiography as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies
