Handbook of Research on Social, Cultural, and Educational Considerations of Indigenous Knowledge in Developing Countries Ngulube, Patrick, 2016-09-29 Knowledge systems are an essential aspect to the preservation of a community's culture. In developing countries, this community-based knowledge has significant influence on such things as decision making and problem solving. The Handbook of Research on Social, Cultural, and Educational Considerations of Indigenous Knowledge in Developing Countries is an authoritative reference source for the latest scholarly research on the importance of knowledge and value systems at the community level and ways indigenous people utilize this information. Highlighting impacts on culture and education in developing nations, this book is ideally designed for researchers, academicians, policy makers, students, and professionals interested in contemporary debates on indigenous knowledge systems.

Information Communication Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Van Slyke, Craig, 2008-04-30 The rapid development of information communication technologies (ICTs) is having a profound impact across numerous aspects of social, economic, and cultural activity worldwide, and keeping pace with the associated effects, implications, opportunities, and pitfalls has been challenging to researchers in diverse realms ranging from education to competitive intelligence.

The African Book Publishing Record, 1999 Achieving Education for All Ishmael I. Munene, 2016-06-16 Using the Education for All (EFA) global movement as the setting, this book surveys the complex labyrinths of international education policy making, the design and implementation of system-wide educational reform, and the assessment of learning outcomes in the African context. It addresses the following questions: what does it mean for African states to reform their educational systems to meet the global agenda of Education for All and the Millennium Development Goals? Under what structural conditions have African governments implemented universal primary education programs and with what outcomes? What are the lessons learned and how do these inform the post-2015 agenda for universal primary education in Africa and other developing countries? This book provides answers to these questions and opens the possibilities for new approaches to Education for All in the context of constrained resources, unstable political climates, and the agency of local communities. It is undeniable that African governments responded to the educational goals espoused in EFA and MDG paradigms through their own education for all plans and expended vast resources to realize these objectives. However, there remains a serious gap in knowledge about the design of these plans, the influence of local and international forces in their development, the challenges inherent in executing comprehensive and multifaceted reforms to achieve these goals, and the success of the reform measures as evident in student learning outcomes. This book addresses this knowledge gap in three ways. First, it utilizes empirical data collected over a five-year period from six African countries: Kenya, Mali, Senegal, Nigeria, Tanzania, and Uganda to illuminate how the global agenda on education has been debated, designed, and implemented across the continent and with what outcomes. Second, it frames the six nation case studies within the wider logic of international educational policy agenda and the continent wide search for education quality Finally the analysis of universal primary education strategies is undertaken from an interdisciplinary perspective thereby allowing a more comprehensive view of the educational reform

Governance and Border Security in Africa Celestine Oyom Bassey, Oshita O. Oshita, 2010 The need therefore for effective governance through border security regimes arises from the intractable challenges of conflict management as a core objective of multilateral institutions and non governmental agencies in global governance Thus governance along the Frontier has come to be marked by density and complexity This density and complexity in frontier relations under score the disciplinary concern for border governance Book Jacket Political Science in Africa ,2023-12-28 Bringing together African and international scholars this book gives an account of the present state of the discipline of political science in Africa generating insights into its present and future trajectories and assessing the freedom with which it is practiced Tackling subjects including the decolonization of the discipline political scientists as public intellectuals and the teaching of political science this diverse range of perspectives paints a detailed picture of the impact and relevance of the political science discipline on the continent during the struggles for democratization and the influence it continues to exert today Journal of Qualitative Education ,2005-05

Between State and Civil Society in Africa Eghosa E. Osaghae, 1994 Ethics, Ethnocentrism and Social Science Research Divya Sharma, 2020-11-29 This book addresses the ethical and methodological issues that researchers face while conducting cross cultural social research With globalization and advanced means of communication and transportation many researchers conduct research in cross cultural multicultural and transnational settings Through a range of case studies and drawing on a range of disciplinary expertise this book addresses the ethics errors and ethnocentrism of conducting law and crime related research in settings where power differences as well as stereotypes may come into play Including chapters from scholars across cultures and settings including Greece Canada Vienna South Africa India and the United States this book provides an invaluable survey of the issues attending cross cultural social justice research today Engaging issues confronted by all cross cultural researchers this book will be invaluable to those working across the social sciences as well as professionals in criminal justice and social work
