Pwp Plot What Plot:

A Plot of One's Own Margreet Z. Zwarteveen, 1997 Explores the effects of plots allocation on women's labor contributions in the Dakiri irrigation system of Burkina Faso Compares intra household distribution of income derived from agricultural activities when men are the sole owners of plots to income distribution when both men and women within the same household own irrigated plots Fan Fiction Genres Julia Elena Goldmann, 2022-09-01 What if James T Kirk and Spock had a baby left the Enterprise and moved to New Vulcan to live happily ever after Fan fiction plots like this are a strong testament of fans' endless creativity Not only do the authors invent their own storylines but they have developed a generic definition of content across fandoms according to the relationship present in the text Classification is therefore profoundly related to gender and sexuality Julia Elena Goldmann examines these generic structures and formulaic patterns comparatively in Star Trek and Supernatural fan fiction She also focuses on the interplay of the concepts of gender sexuality relationships and depictions of family in these texts Pwp Plot? What Plot? Mavis Applewater, 2004-05-01 Loving Fanfiction Brit Kelley, 2021-05-30 Loving Fanfiction explores emotion within the context of fandoms specifically online fanfiction Through exploring fans' narratives about themselves and the fanwork they produce and consume the author theorizes how identity cognition emotion the body and embodiment come together in literacy development and practices Drawing on affect theory to explore the complex roles of emotions literacy identity and the digital both in their own position and in the worlds of engaged fans Brit Kelley systematically analyses work from a six year ethnographic study across fandoms from Harry Potter and WWE to Gotham and Twilight Their analysis expands upon current understandings of fandom by more thoroughly theorizing the deeply emotional element of fanfiction practices and connects to the academic fan community to draw connections and implications for the role of emotion in teaching and research This unique perspective on emotions love and fandoms will be of significant interest to scholars and students of media and communication studies fan studies literature creative writing cultural studies digital humanities and literacy studies William Penn Andrew R. Murphy, 2019 It may surprise many that William Penn who founded one of the thirteen original American colonies spent just four years on American soil Even more surprising though is Penn's remarkable impact on the fundamental principles of religious freedom on both sides of the Atlantic especially given his tumultuous life from his youthful radicalism as leader of the Quaker movement to his role as governor and proprietor of a major American colony from royal courtier to alleged traitor to the Crown In the first major biography of this important transatlantic figure in more than forty years Andrew R Murphy takes readers through the defiant and complex life of a religious dissenter political theorist and social activist Proceedings American Society for Horticultural Science, 1964 Transactions - Congress on Irrigation and Drainage, 1996 Wedlock Or Deadlock? Margreet Zwarteveen, 2006 This research has its roots in the evidence that was produced in the eighties on the detrimental impact of irrigation projects on gender equality Why it is that irrigation development negatively affects gender equality Out of an explicit feminist commitment the linkages between gender in equality and irrigation development are explored from two different angles The first angle consists of a critical discussion of current theories that underlie irrigation planning and policies In many ways these theories make it difficult to properly recognize and accommodate gender relations At the same time they are based on an incomplete and often inadequate understanding of these relations The second angle consists of a number of case studies undertaken in different countries Nepal Sri Lanka Niger Burkina Faso to empirically explore how and where gender relations affect and are affected by irrigation management policies and practices
