Peterburg Dostoevskogo:

Дыма Перебьпра N. Ant[?]yferov, 1922 Dostoevsky and Romantic Realism Donald Fanger, 1998 Dostoevsky and Romantic Realism is Donald Fanger's groundbreaking study of the art of Dostoevsky and the literary and historical context in which it was created Through detailed analyses of the work of Balzac Dickens and Gogol Fanger identifies romantic realism the transformative fusion of two generic categories as a powerful imaginary response to the great modern city This fusion reaches its aesthetic and metaphysical climax in Dostoevsky whose vision culminating in Crime and Punishment is seen by Fanger as the final synthesis of romantic realism How St. Petersburg Learned to Study Itself Emily D. Johnson, 2006 Johnson traces the history of kraevedenie showing how St Petersburg based scholars and institutions have played a central role in the evolution of the discipline Distinguished from obvious Western equivalents such as cultural geography and the German Heimatkunde by both its dramatic history and unique social significance kraevedenie has for close to a hundred years served as a key forum for expressing concepts of regional and national identity within Russian culture Jacket

Mapping St. Petersburg Julie A. Buckler, 2018-06-05 Pushkin's palaces or Dostoevsky's slums Many a modern day visitor to St Petersburg has one or more likely both of these images in mind when setting foot in this stage set like setting for some of the world's most treasured literary masterpieces What they overlook is the vast uncharted territory in between In Mapping St. Petersburg Julie Buckler traces the evolution of Russia's onetime capital from a conceptual hierarchy to a living cultural system a topography expressed not only by the city's physical structures but also by the literary texts that have helped create it By favoring noncanonical works and underdescribed spaces Buckler seeks to revise the literary monumentalization of St Petersburg with Pushkin and Dostoevsky representing two traditional albeit opposing perspectives to offer an off center view of a richer less familiar urban landscape She views this grand city the product of Peter the Great's ambitious vision not only as a geographical entity but also as a network of genres that carries historical and cultural meaning We discover the busy messy middle ground of this hybrid city through an intricate web of descriptions in literary works nonfiction writings such as sketches feuilletons memoirs letters essays criticism and urban legends lore songs and social practices all of which add character and depth to this refurbished imperial city Der Roman Christoph Bode, 2011-01-19 Eine anspruchsvolle doch
