Extended Mobility for the City as a Common Lucia Capanema-Alvares, Romulo Orrico, 2025-10-31 Extended Mobility for the City as a Common offers a novel framework for understanding how urban inhabitants access and experience cities It invites readers to critically examine the ways in which stigmatization and socioeconomic barriers combine to restrict access to urban opportunities for marginalized communities Arguing that the right to the city is inseparable from the right to mobility this book calls for a radical shift toward a welcoming and solidary city both in transportation systems and in the inhabitants destinations This book is structured into three parts Part I introduces the concept of Extended Mobility a multidimensional framework encompassing motility accessibility and porosity that provides a new lens to interrogate the multifaceted nature of mobility as a social phenomenon Part II applies this framework through a grounded ethnographic comparison of Favela da Mar in Rio de Janeiro and the San Siro housing project in Milan These rich and detailed studies develop robust methodological tools and theoretical insights that uncover the complex mobility experiences of peripheral urban inhabitants In the final section leading experts in transportation and urban planning engage Extended Mobility across different global settings to critique existing policies and explore pathways toward mobility justice and a city of rights for all By integrating structural and experiential perspectives on urban mobility this book is an essential resource for social science researchers and urban and transportation planning scholars as well as policymakers practitioners and activists seeking to foster more inclusive cities and empower communities to access the full possibilities of a common urban life Chapters 1 4 7 and the Introduction of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 International license Women Changing Cities Melissa Bruntlett, Chris Bruntlett, 2025-10-01 The future of cities is female As cities around the world face mounting crises climate change traffic congestion and growing inequity the need for bold people first solutions has never been greater Enter the women leading the charge In Women Changing Cities Melissa and Chris Bruntlett highlight the groundbreaking work of female mayors planners advocates and policymakers in reshaping urban spaces for the better From Paris to Bogota Manila to Montreal these leaders are reclaiming streets reimagining mobility and designing safer more inclusive public spaces despite fierce opposition Through real world success stories and powerful insights this book proves that when cities are built with women in mind they become more liveable for everyone Whether you're passionate about gender equity sustainable transport or urban design Women Changing Cities is a call to action and an inspiring blueprint for the future Because when women lead cities thrive Word across the Water Tom Smith, 2024-10-15 In Word Across the Water Tom Smith brings the histories of Hawai'i and the Philippines together to argue that US imperial ambitions towards these Pacific archipelagos were deeply intertwined with the work of American Protestant missionaries As self-styled interpreters of history missionaries produced narratives to stoke interest in their cause locating US imperial interventions and their own evangelistic projects within divinely ordained historical trajectories As missionaries worked in the shadow of their nation's empire however their religiously inflected historical narratives came to serve an alternative purpose They emerged as a way for missionaries to negotiate their own status between the imperial and the local and to come to terms with the diverse spaces peoples and traditions of historical narration that they encountered across different island groups Word Across the Water encourages scholars of empire and religion alike to acknowledge both the pernicious nature of imperial claims over oceanic space underpinned by religious and historical arguments and the fragility of those claims on the ground Philippines Gianni Zanini, 1999-01-01 Annotation Examines World Bank assistance to the Philippines since 1986 a turning point in that country's economic and social policy landscape Challenges and Opportunities in Energy Asian Development Bank, 1999 Business Opportunities in the Philippines Teck Meng Tan, 1996 For several years now the world has marvelled from afar at the economic miracle unfolding in China's coastal regions However many people have little or no
