Separated by Their Sex Mary Beth Norton, 2011-05-16 In Separated by Their Sex Mary Beth Norton offers a bold genealogy that shows how gender came to determine the right of access to the Anglo American public sphere by the middle of the eighteenth century Earlier high status men and women alike had been recognized as appropriate political actors as exemplified during and after Bacon's Rebellion by the actions of and reactions to Lady Frances Berkeley wife of Virginia's governor By contrast when the first ordinary English women to claim a political voice directed group petitions to Parliament during the Civil War of the 1640s men relentlessly criticized and parodied their efforts Even so as late as 1690 Anglo American women's political interests and opinions were publicly acknowledged Norton traces the profound shift in attitudes toward women's participation in public affairs to the age's cultural arbiters including John Dunton editor of the Athenian Mercury a popular 1690s periodical that promoted women's links to husband family and household Fittingly Dunton was the first author known to apply the word private to women and their domestic lives Subsequently the immensely influential authors Richard Steele and Joseph Addison in the Tatler and the Spectator advanced the notion that women's participation in politics even in political dialogues was absurd They and many imitators on both sides of the Atlantic argued that women should confine themselves to home and family a position that American women themselves had adopted by the 1760s Colonial women incorporated the novel ideas into their self conceptions during such private activities as sitting around a table drinking tea they worked to define their own lives On the cusp of the American Revolution Norton concludes a newly gendered public private division was firmly in place

The book RANDOM THOUGHTS is a compilation of write ups on those aspects of life I have felt and feel strongly about Nostalgic reflections as I move down memory lane reminiscing about the bygone days sometimes with childish glee sometimes with remorse and at other times with a hopeful hope The writings likewise are a smooth blend of the past merging into the present and vice versa I write with candour which most oft than not verges on to bluntness since I write straight from the heart a sort of umbilical connect betwixt my thoughts and words Words have an intangible power of coming alive like a painting on a canvas making the reader get lost amidst their folds Random Thoughts I hope will give respite to the readers from the day to day stresses of life as they will traverse through the journey of my life with a keen involvement and interest The writings were penned betwixt May 2012 and March 2014 Thank you
