A Philosophical Enquiry into the Origin of Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful is a 1757 treatise on aesthetics written by Edmund Burke. In short, the Beautiful according to Burke is what is well formed and aesthetically pleasing, whereas the Sublime is what has the power to compel and destroy us. The preference for the Sublime over the Beautiful was to mark the transition from the Neoclassical to the Romantic era.

Pain and pleasure are simple ideas incapable of definition. In 1757, the 27-year-old Edmund Burke argued that our aesthetic responses are experienced as pure emotional arousal, unencumbered by intellectual considerations. In so doing, he overturned the Platonic tradition in aesthetics that had prevailed from antiquity until the eighteenth century and replaced metaphysics with psychology and even physiology as the basis for the subject. Burke's theory of beauty encompasses the female form, nature, art, and poetry, and he analyses our delight in sublime effects that thrill and excite us. His revolution in method continues to have repercussions in the aesthetic theories of today, and his revolution in sensibility has paved the way for literary and artistic movements from the Gothic novel through Romanticism, twentieth-century painting, and beyond. In this new edition, Paul Guyer conducts the reader through Burke's Enquiry, focusing on its place in the history of aesthetics and highlighting its innovations as well as its influence on many subsequent authors, from Kant and Schiller to Ruskin and Nietzsche.

A Philosophical Inquiry Into the Origin of Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful Edmund Burke, 2017-01-11

A Philosophical Enquiry into the Origin of Our Ideas of the Sublime and Beautiful is a 1757 treatise on aesthetics written by Edmund Burke. It was the first complete philosophical exposition for separating the beautiful and the sublime into their own respective rational categories. It attracted the attention of prominent thinkers such as Denis Diderot and Immanuel Kant. The Beautiful according to Burke is what is well formed and aesthetically pleasing, whereas the Sublime is what has the power to compel and destroy us. The preference for the Sublime over the Beautiful was to mark the transition from the Neoclassical to the Romantic era. The origins of our ideas of the beautiful and the sublime for Burke can be understood by means of their causal structures. According to Aristotelian physics and metaphysics, causation can be divided into formal material efficient and final causes The formal cause of beauty is the passion of love the material cause concerns aspects of certain objects such as smallness smoothness delicacy etc the efficient cause is the calming of our nerves the final cause is God s providence What is most peculiar and original to Burke s view of beauty is that it cannot be understood by the traditional bases of beauty proportion fitness or perfection The sublime also has a causal structure that is unlike that of beauty Its formal cause is thus the passion of fear the material cause is equally aspects of certain objects such as vastness infinity magnificence its efficient cause is the tension of our nerves the final cause is God having created and battled Satan as expressed in John Milton s great epic Paradise Lost
