Smart Home Snapchat Review:

SNAP-Ed Can Improve Nutrition of Low-Income Americans Across Life Span James C. Hersey, Sheryl C.

Cates, Jonathan L. Blitstein, Pamela A. Williams, 2014-06-19 Nutrition education in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program SNAP Ed is designed to promote healthy eating behaviors in a low income target population In particular SNAP Ed programming encourages participants to increase consumption of fruit and vegetables and switch to lower fat dairy products With funding from the U S Department of Agriculture s Food and Nutrition Service FNS we independently evaluated eight programs that were selected as possible model SNAP Ed programs Our evaluations used robust research designs experimental or quasi experimental similar primary outcome measures across the studies and statistical analyses to account for clustering of participants within settings These evaluations found a significant effect in outcomes for four programs one in child care settings two in elementary schools and one in senior centers suggesting that SNAP Ed has the potential to be effective for some individuals across all age groups Additionally the study findings suggest that the maturity of the program that is experience in implementing the program over time may make nutrition education more effective Future studies should assess the longer term effects on nutrition behaviors and sustainability of SNAP Ed programs for preschool and elementary aged children adults and senior citizens
