Reading To Understand Science:

Making Sense of Science Kirsten R. Daehler, Mayumi Shinohara, Jennifer Folsom, 2011 This comprehensive professional development course for grades 6-8 science teachers provides all the necessary ingredients for building a scientific way of thinking in teachers and students focusing on science content inquiry and literacy. Teachers who participate in this course learn to facilitate hands-on science lessons, support evidence-based discussions, and develop students' academic language and reading and writing skills in science along with the habits of mind necessary for sense making and scientific reasoning. Force and Motion for Teachers of Grades 6-8 consists of five core sessions: Session 1 Motion, Session 2 Change in Motion, Session 3 Acceleration and Force, Session 4 Force, Session 5 Acceleration and Mass. The materials include everything needed to effectively lead this course with ease: Facilitator Guide with extensive support materials and detailed procedures that allow staff developers to successfully lead a course; Teacher Book with teaching science and literacy investigations along with a follow-up component; Looking at Student Work designed to support ongoing professional learning communities; CD with black line masters of all handouts and charts to support group discussion and sense making; course participation certificates; student work samples and other materials that can be reproduced for use with teachers. English Mechanic and World of Science, 1869 PISA 2018 Results (Volume I) What Students Know and Can Do OECD, 2019-12-03 This is one of six volumes that present the results of the PISA 2018 survey, the seventh round of the triennial assessment. Volume I What Students Know and Can Do provides a detailed examination of student performance in reading, mathematics, and science and describes how performance has changed since previous PISA assessments. Reading to understand science Joseph A.
