Port Reform Toolkit:

Port Reform Toolkit, 2003 Port Reform Toolkit, 2003 This publication provides information for the effective and sustainable public sector reform of port services in developing countries based on examples of best practice around the world. It focuses on understanding the needs, challenges and risks for sector reform and also considers the options and implications of increased private sector involvement. The toolkit contains eight booklets and a CD ROM which cover a range of issues including a port reform framework, alternative port management structures and ownership models, legal reform tools, financial implications, regulation, labour reform and related social issues. Port Reform Toolkit Public-Private Infrastructure Advisory Facility, 2003 Port Reform Toolkit presents background information, concrete examples and specific tools and methods that public officials can use to make effective, sustainable reforms of public institutions that provide port services in developing countries. In particular, it focuses on understanding the needs, challenges and risks for sector reform, choosing among options for private sector participation and analyzing their implications, preparing legislation, contracts and institutional charters to govern private sector participation, managing the transition to increased private sector involvement.

Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit Charles Kunaka, Robin Carruthers, 2014-05-07 Trade and transport corridors are fundamental to the overland movement of international trade, particularly for landlocked countries. This book provides tools and techniques for the design of trade and transport corridor projects. It is meant for task managers, policy makers and corridor service providers. Port Reform Toolkit, 2003 Port Reform Toolkit International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 2003 Ports in Proximity César Ducruet, Peter de Langen, Prof Dr Theo Notteboom, 2012-11-28 Ports in Proximity provides an overview of key contemporary research in the field through a broad range of international case studies. The concepts of strategic management, supply chain management, port and transport economics and economic and transport geography are applied throughout the book to offer an in-depth understanding of the processes underlying spatial and functional dynamics in port systems. The opportunities for cooperation between competing adjacent ports is examined while the avenues for further joint research are identified, setting an agenda for further study.

Devolution, Port Governance and Port Performance Mary R Brooks, Kevin Cullinane, 2006-11-13 The relationship between ports and governments has changed profoundly over the past quarter of a century. Many governments have sought to extract themselves from the business of port operations and in many cases the provision of port services has devolved to local governments, communities or private management and administration. As such, devolution implies a change in governance.

model this trend raises questions about consequent performance This issue examines the changed port management environment focusing particularly on government policies such as devolution regulatory reform and newly imposed governance models all of which have exerted a significant influence over the nature of that changed environment The issue is structured so as to first explore the devolution and port reform approaches for 14 countries or regions before examining how ports are governed and what the choice of governance might mean for their performance Part I introduces the issue and provides a framework for defining the basic concepts involved in devolution it paints a picture of the current port environment its likely future evolution and the expected impact this will have on the functioning of ports Part II examines the port industry in 14 countries or administrations and presents the thinking behind any devolution programs that have been implemented Part III focuses on port governance and devolution generally and examines governance from both strategic management and economics perspectives including topics such as governance models supranational governance and stakeholder conflict Part IV examines the measurement of port performance and closes by providing conclusions and a future research agenda This issue will be of interest to port managers government officials and academics alike Examines the relationship between ports and governments with a focus on devolution Divided into sections that provide an overview evaluate the port industry discuss port governance and suggest new measures of port performance 14 countries or regions are addressed
