Rising Middle Power German Foreign Policy In Transformation:

Casebook internationale Politik Markus M. Müller, 2010-12-28 In den Internationalen Beziehungen hat sich eine recht deutliche Dogmatik der Theorien der Internationalen Beziehungen herausgebildet. Sie spiegelt sich im Aufbau und der didaktischen Vermittlung zahlreicher Lehrbücher. Daneben gibt es eine umfangreiche Forschungsliteratur, die häufig auf eine Denkschule begrenzt empirische Fragestellungen unter Heranziehung der jeweiligen Theoriediskurse insbesondere auch ihrer Mikro-Debatten bearbeitet. Mit diesem Band wird im Breitenbereich zwischen Theorielehrbüchern und fallbezogener empirischer Forschungsliteratur eine einfache und auf die didaktische Vermittlung der exemplarischen Anwendung von Denkschulen ausgerichtete Einführung vorgelegt. Renaissance der Geopolitik? Nils Hoffmann, 2012-06-01 Geopolitische Erraterungen haben eine unübersehbare Bedeutung für die deutsche Sicherheitspolitik nach dem Kalten Krieg, auch wenn Politik und Wissenschaft sich nach wie vor schwertun mit dem belasteten Begriff. Anhand mehrerer Fallstudien von der NATO-Osterweiterung bis zur internationalen Energiepolitik zeichnet Nils Hoffmann die Entwicklung des geopolitischen Denkens in Deutschland nach und stellt sie im Spannungsfeld von Anspruch und Wirklichkeit dar.

Germany's Foreign Policy of Reconciliation Lily Gardner Feldman, 2012-08-02 Since World War II Germany has confronted its own history to earn acceptance in the family of nations. Lily Gardner Feldman draws on the literature of religion, philosophy, social psychology, law, and political science and history to understand Germany's foreign policy with its moral and pragmatic motivations and to develop the concept of international reconciliation. Germany's Foreign Policy of Reconciliation traces Germany's path from enmity to amity by focusing on the behavior of individual leaders, governments, and non-governmental actors. The book demonstrates that at least in the cases of France, Israel, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, the Czech Republic, Germany has gone far beyond banishing war with its former enemies; it has institutionalized active friendship. The German experience is now a model of its own, offering lessons for other cases of international reconciliation. Gardner Feldman concludes with an initial application of German reconciliation insights to the other principal post-World War II pariah, as Japan expands its relations with China and South Korea. Rising Powers and Foreign Policy

Revisionism Cameron G. Thies, Mark David Nieman, 2017-11-29 Addresses concerns that rising powers may generate international conflict, focusing on Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa (BRICS). India and the Major Powers After Pokharan II Baldev Raj Nayar, 2001 The book examines the positions that different major powers took on India's nuclear tests in 1998, both jointly and severally. It discusses the responses not only of P-5 but also those of Germany and Japan.

A Rising Middle Power Max Otte, 2000 According to Otte, contemporary Germany is a saturated status quo oriented and risk-averse nation with three major security interests: in this order, security partnership with the United States, European integration and stability in Eastern Europe, and Russia. Within these narrow parameters, Germany is emerging as a powerbroker in Europe, a development that the United States should welcome. Jacket The Politics of German Defence and Security Tom Dyson, 2008-03-01 The post Cold War era has witnessed a dramatic transformation in the German political consensus about the legitimacy of the use of force However in comparison with its EU and NATO partners Germany has been reticent to transform its military to meet the challenges of the contemporary security environment Until 2003 territorial defence rather than crisis management remained the armed forces core role and the Bundeswehr continues to retain conscription The book argues that strategic culture provides only a partial explanation of German military reform It demonstrates how domestic material factors were of crucial importance in shaping the pace and outcome of reform despite the impact of international structure and adaptational pressures from the EU and NATO The domestic politics of base closures ramifications for social policy financial restrictions consequent upon German unification and commitment to EMU s Stability and Growth Pact were critical in determining the outcome of reform The study also draws out the important role of policy leaders in the political management of reform as entrepreneurs brokers or veto players shifting the focus in German leadership studies away from a preoccupation with the Chancellor to the role of ministerial and administrative leadership within the core executive Finally the book contributes to our understanding of the Europeanization of the German political system arguing that policy leaders played a key role in uploading and downloading processes to and from the EU and that Defence Ministers used Atlanticization and Europeanization in the interests of their domestic political agendas Die
