Rites Of Realism Essays On Corporeal Cinema:

Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies, 2009 DIVA collection of essays rethinking and reviving realism as a focus for film theory particularly emphasizing the relation of the genre to issues of the body div Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies, 2003-03-27 A collection of essays rethinking and reviving realism as a focus for film theory particularly emphasizing the relation of the genre to issues of the body The ^AEssay Film Timothy Corrigan, 2011-08-01 The definitive study of a seminal genre of nonfiction cinema The Essay Film examines the form's origins literary precursors and works by its greatest practitioners like Chris Marker Agnès Varda Errol Morris Chantal Akerman Werner Herzog and others

The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments Realist Cinema as World Cinema Lúcia Nagib, 2025-10-01 This book presents the bold and original proposal to replace the general appellation of world cinema with the more substantive concept of realist cinema Veering away from the usual focus on modes of reception and spectatorship it locates instead cinematic realism in the way films are made The volume is structured across three innovative categories of realist modes of production noncinema or a cinema that aspires to be life itself intermedial passages or films that incorporate other artforms as a channel to historical and political reality and total cinema or films moved by a totalising impulse be it towards the total artwork total history or universalising landscapes Though mostly devoted to recent productions each part starts with the analysis of foundational classics which have paved the way for future realist endeavours proving that realism is timeless and inherent in cinema from its origin Opening Bazin Dudley Andrew, Herve Joubert-Laurencin, 2011-04 Andr Bazin remains one of the most read most studied and most engaging figures ever to have written about film Fifty years after his death he is still widely recognized as cinema's most significant philosopher critic Always an important presence within cinema theory Bazin has seen a massive resurgence of interest among critics scholars and students now that an electronic archive of his entire critical output has been catalogued Opening Bazin assesses the great critic's influence and legacy with essays from several generations of the very best film scholars Gunning Frodon Margulies Conley MacCabe Narboni and Vernet to name just a few Ultimately these essays reaffirm Bazin's relevance in this new century tracing his lineage debating his aesthetics locating him in the rich cultural moment of postwar France and tracking the effect of his thought around the world The Oxford Handbook of Film and Media Studies Robert Kolker, 2008-09-11 This handbook examines film and new media in the light of their convergence It draws on leading scholars in the field to discuss traditional areas of history and theory of film and digital media Its focus however is on the cycle of technologically driven arts Film was born of a number of experiments in reproducing motion all of which culminated in the nineteenth century projection of short films The creation of digital media resulted from experiments in alternative forms of representation in the early 1960s John Whitney began creating avant garde films from digital graphics around 1960 and some of his ideas and methods were incorporated by Stanley Kubrick in 2001 A Space Odyssey By the early 1990s commercial filmmakers began to employ digital effects in their work By the late nineties digital arts had come fully into their own both in the form of stand alone or interactive artworks and films created with and for the computer At the same time digital effects had completely overtaken optical printing and matte painting in film From special effects to creating realistic backgrounds and crowds the digital is infiltrating all aspects of filmmaking The infiltration is about to become a takeover as celluloid is replaced by high definition digital recording and projection processes Many aspects of film will change as this latest convergence takes place Already cultural response to film has changed as viewers begin to teach themselves about film through supplementary material on DVDs and to make their own films on home computers But this handbook is not a technical history or manual Quite the contrary it is a scholarly work discussing the aesthetics economics and cultural results of these changes and convergences The book balances traditional scholarship and analysis with essays addressing technological change and the concurrent changes in cultural responses to these changes responses already acknowledged by the profession Jahresbibliographie Massenkommunikation ,2003

Essay and General Literature Index Minnie Earl Sears, Marian Shaw, Dorothy Herbert West, 2004 Includes List of books indexed published also separately Jahresring ... ,2001 Luis Buñuel Gabriele Jatho, 2008 Documentary Time Malin Wahlberg, 2008 Finding the theoretical space where cinema and philosophy meet Malin Wahlberg s sophisticated approach to the experience of documentary film aligns with attempts to reconsider the premises of existential phenomenology The configuration of time is crucial in organizing the sensory affects of film in general but as Wahlberg adroitly demonstrates in nonfiction films the problem of managing time is writ large by the moving image s interaction with social memory and historical figures Wahlberg discusses a thought provoking corpus of classical and recent experiments in film and video including Andy Warhol s films in which creative approaches to the time of the image and the potential archive memory of filmic representation illuminates meanings of temporality and time experience She also offers a methodological account of film and brings Deleuze and Ricoeur into dialogue with Bazin and Mitry on the subject of cinema and phenomenology Drawing attention to the cultural significance of the images imprint as a trace of the past Documentary Time brings to bear phenomenological inquiry on nonfiction film while at the same time reconsidering the existential dimensions of time that have always puzzled humans Malin Wahlberg is a research fellow in cinema studies at Stockholm University

Watching Films Karina Aveyard, Albert Moran, 2013 Whether we stream them on our laptops enjoy them in theaters or slide them into DVD players to watch on our TVs movies are part of what it means to be socially connected in the twenty first century Despite its significant role in our lives the act of watching films remains an area of social activity that is little studied and thus little understood In Watching Films an international cast of contributors correct this problem with a comprehensive investigation of movie going cinema exhibition and film reception around the world With a focus on the social economic and cultural factors that influence how we watch and think about movies this volume centers its investigations on four areas of inquiry Who watches films Under what circumstances What consequences and affects follow And what do these acts of consumption mean Responding to these questions the contributors provide both historical perspective and fresh insights about the ways in which new viewing arrangements and technologies influence how films get watched everywhere from Canada to China to Ireland A long overdue consideration of an important topic Watching Films provides an engrossing overview of how we do just that in our homes and across the globe Media International Australia ,2003
