Bitter is the New Black Jen Lancaster, 2006-03-07 New York Times bestselling author Jen Lancaster takes you from sorority house to penthouse to poorhouse in her hilarious memoir of living the sweet life until real life kicked her to the curb. She had the perfect man the perfect job hell she had the perfect life and there was no reason to think it wouldn't last. Or maybe there was but Jen Lancaster was too busy being manicured pedicured highlighted and generally adored to notice. This is the smart mouthed soul searching story of a woman trying to figure out what happens next when she's gone from six figures to unemployment checks and she stops to reconsider some of the less than rosy attitudes and values she thought she'd never have to answer for when times were good. Filled with caustic wit and unusual insight it's a rollicking read as speedy and unpredictable as the trajectory of a burst balloon.

May Sarton Margot Peters, 2011-05-04 The first biography of May Sarton a brilliant revelation of the life and work of a literary figure who influenced her thousands of readers not only by her novels and poetry but by her life and her writings about it. May Sarton's career stretched from 1930 early sonnets published in Poetry magazine to 1995 her journal At Eighty Two. She wrote more than twenty novels and twenty five books of poems and journals. The acclaimed biographer Margot Peters was given full access to Sarton's letters journals and notes and during five years of research came to know Sarton herself the complex woman and artist. She gives us a compelling portrait of Sarton the actress the poet the novelist the feminist the writer who struggled for literary acceptance. She shows us beneath Sarton's exhilarating irresistible spirit the needy courtier and seducer the woman whose creativity was propelled by the psychic drama she created in others. We watch young May at age two as she is abruptly uprooted from her native Belgium by World War I a child ignored both by her mother who was intent on her own artistic vision and reluctant to cope with a child and by her father obsessed with his academic research. We see Sarton as a young girl in America and then later at nineteen choosing a life in the theatre landing a job in Eva Le Gallienne's Civic Repertory and gathering what would become a tight knit coterie of friends and lovers. Sarton beginning to write poetry and novels Sarton making friends with Elizabeth

Bowen and Julian Huxley Erika and Klaus Mann Virginia Woolf the poet H D charming and enlisting them with her work her vitality her hunger for love driven by her need to conquer among her conquests Bowen Huxley and later his wife Juliette We see her intense friendships with literary pals including Muriel Rukeyser her lover and Louise Bogan Sarton s literary sibling who at once encouraged her and excluded her from a world in which Bogan was a central figure We see Sarton begin to create in the spiritual journals that inspired the devotion of readers the image of a strong independent woman who lived peacefully with solitude an image that contradicted the reality of her neediness loneliness and isolation as she pushed away loved ones with her demands and betrayals A fascinating portrait of one of our major literary figures a book that for the first time reveals the life that she herself kept hidden
