Perceptual Learning And Adaptation:

Perceptual Learning and Adaptation P. C. Dodwell,1970      Perceptual Learning Manfred Fahle,Tomaso Poggio,2002
Perceptual learning is the specific and relatively permanent modification of perception and behaviour following sensory experience This book presents advances made during the 1990s in this rapidly growing field      Perceptual learning and adaptation P. C. (ed.) Dodwell,2023      Perceptual Learning and Adaptation in Man and Machine Terry M. Caelli,1996
Perceptual Learning Barbara Doshier,Zhong-Lin Lu,2020-10-13 A comprehensive and integrated introduction to the phenomena and theories of perceptual learning focusing on the visual domain Practice or training in perceptual tasks improves the quality of perceptual performance often by a substantial amount This improvement is called perceptual learning in contrast to learning in the cognitive or motor domains and it has become an active area of research of both theoretical and practical significance This book offers a comprehensive introduction to the phenomena and theories of perceptual learning focusing on the visual domain      Varieties of Perceptual Learning William Epstein,1967      The Oxford Handbook of Human Memory, Two Volume Pack Michael J. Kahana,Anthony D. Wagner,2024 The Oxford Handbook of Human Memory provides an authoritative overview of the science of human memory its application to clinical disorders and its broader implications for learning and memory in real world contexts Organized into two volumes and eleven sections the Handbook integrates behavioral neural and computational evidence with current theories of how we learn and remember Overall The Oxford Handbook of Human Memory documents the current state of knowledge in the field and provides a roadmap for the next generation of memory scientists established peers and practitioners      Technologies in Biomedical and Life Sciences Education Harry J. Witchel,Michael W. Lee,2022-06-24 This contributed volume focuses on understanding the educational strengths and weaknesses of mediated content including media as a learning supplement in comparison to traditional face to face learning Each chapter includes research on and a broad brush summary of approaches to combining life sciences education with educational technologies The chapters are organized into four main sections each of which focuses on a key question regarding the consequences of incorporating media into education In this regard the authors highlight how educational technology is both a bridge and barrier to student access and inclusivity Further they address the ongoing discussion as to whether students need to be present for lectures and on how having agency in their own learning can improve both retention and conceptual understanding To link the content to current events the authors also shed light on the impact that the COVID 19 pandemic is having on the continuity of educational programs and on the growing importance of educational technologies Consequently the book offers life science educators valuable guidance on the technologies already available and an outlook on what is yet to come      Enaction and Ecological Psychology: Convergences and Complementarities Ezequiel A. Di Paolo,Manuel Heras-Escribano,Anthony Chemero,Marek McGann,2021-02-03      Adaptive Spatial Alignment Gordon M. Redding,Benjamin Wallace,2013-06-17 For most people prism adaptation is an amusing demonstration first experienced perhaps in an introductory psychology course This monograph relates this peculiar phenomenon to the larger context of cognitive science especially motor control and learning The first part sketches the background concepts necessary to understand the contribution of prism adaptation to the larger issue of adaptive perceptual motor performance including a review of the basic concepts of motor control and learning that enable strategic response in the prism adaptation situation the development of a hypothesis about spatial representation and spatial mapping and an introduction to the basic idea of adaptive spatial alignment and a contrasting view of perceptual and motor learning and a review of evidence for the involvement of nonassociative and associative learning in prism adaptation Directly concerned with data and theory in prism adaptation the second part presents an outline of prism adaptation methodology and a list of several empirical conclusions from previous research that constrained development of theoretical framework a theory of strategic perceptual motor control and learning which enables adaptive performance during prism exposure but does not directly involve adaptive spatial alignment an extension of the theory to include realignment processes which correct for the spatial misalignment among sensorimotor systems produced by prisms and a demonstration of how traditional issues in prism adaptation may be rephrased in terms of the present theoretical framework The last part of this volume reviews the research conducted in developing and testing the present theory of prism adaptation It summarizes the initial investigations employing a naturalistic exposure setting reports some more rigorous tests with an experimentally constrained research paradigm points out the more general theoretical issues raised by the authors analysis of prism adaptation and makes specific suggestions for further research within the prism adaptation paradigm
