Responding To The Screen Reception And Reaction Processes:

Responding To the Screen Jennings Bryant, Dolf Zillmann, 2013-11-05 This volume takes the next step in the evolution of mass communication research tradition from effects to processes a more detailed and microanalytical analysis of the psychological processes involved in receiving and reacting to electronic media messages This domain includes investigations into those psychological processes that occur between the process of selecting media messages for consumption and assessments of whatever processes mediate the long term impact such message consumption may have on consumers subsequent behavior The editors strive to further understanding of some of the basic processes underlying the ways we gain entertainment and information

Media Effects Jennings Bryant, Dolf Zillmann, 2002 Media Effects covers topics such as intermedia processes and powerful media effects political communication effects and media influences on marketing communications

Lichtspiele Frank Schwab, 2010-05-27 Warum gehen wir ins Kino schauen uns Spielfilme Action oder Liebesfilme an Der Autor Frank Schwab versteht mediale Unterhaltung als emotionales Planspiel Spielerisch nutzen wir Fiktionen um die Lösung sozialer emotionaler Probleme zu testen Unterhaltsame Narrative beziehen sich so die Annahme vor allem auf Kernthemen der menschlichen Phylogenese Liebe Partnerwahl tödliche Bedrohungen erbitterte Machtkämpfe etc Diese Ideen werden als Bausteine einer evolutionären Medienpsychologie errichtet So folgen moderne Mediennutzer archaischen Konstruktionsmerkmalen des menschlichen Geistes Wir amüsieren uns nicht zu Tode ganz im Gegenteil Unterhaltung zu genießen und zu produzieren war ein Meilenstein der Erfolgsgeschichte des Menschen

Suspense Peter Vorderer, Hans Jürgen Wulff, Mike Friedrichsen, 2013-12-16 This volume begins with the general assumption that suspense is a major criterion for both an audience's selection and evaluation of entertaining media offerings This assumption is supported not only by the popularity of suspenseful narratives but also by the reasons users give for their actual choice of media contents Despite this there is no satisfying theory to describe and explain what suspense actually is how exactly it is caused by films or books and what kind of effect it has on audiences This book's main objective is to provide that theory by bringing together scholars from different disciplines who are working on the issue The editors' goal is to reflect the state of the art as much as it is to highlight and encourage further developments in this area There are two ways of approaching the problem of describing and explaining suspense an analysis of suspenseful texts or the reception process Researchers who follow the more text oriented approach identify the uncertainty of the narrative outcome the threat or danger for the protagonist the play with time delay or other factors as important and necessary for the production of suspense The more reception oriented scholar focuses on the cognitive activities of audiences readers' expectations the curiosity of onlookers their emotions and their relationships with the protagonists A correspondence between the two seems to be quite difficult though necessary to determine Both perspectives are important in order to describe and explain suspense Thus the editors utilize the thesis that suspense is an activity of the audience reader onlooker etc that is related to specific features and characteristics of the text books films etc Their question is What kind of relation The answer comes from finding out how why and which elements of the text cause effects that are experienced as suspense Scholars from semiotics literary criticism cultural studies and film theory assess the problem from a text oriented point of view dealing primarily with the how and which Other scholars present the psychological perspective by focusing on the cognitive and emotional processes that underlie viewers experience of suspense that is the reception theory tries to answer the question of why suspenseful texts may be experienced as they are

Medien-Kulturkommunikation Ulrich Saxer, 2013-03-13 Die Verbreitung und Promotion von Kulturmustern in modernen Gesellschaften sind immer stärker auf Medienkommunikation angewiesen Die Komplexheit dieser Vorgänge hat allerdings zur Folge da sie erst wenig koordiniert und empirisch von verschiedenen Disziplinen untersucht werden Dieses Sonderheft der Zeitschrift Publizistik vereinigt Autoren verschiedener Disziplinen zu einer ganzheitlichen Übersicht über diesen immer wichtigeren Bereich der zumal für die Kommunikations- und Publizistikwissenschaft noch viele Forschungsaufgaben beinhaltet

Psychology of Entertainment Jennings Bryant, Peter Vorderer, 2013-10-31 As entertainment becomes a trillion dollar a year industry worldwide as our modern era increasingly lives up to its label of the entertainment age and as economists begin to recognize that entertainment has become the driving force of the new world economy it is safe to say that scholars are beginning to take entertainment seriously The scholarly spin on entertainment has been manifested in traditional ways as well as innovative ones Representing the current state of theory and research Psychology of Entertainment promises to be the most comprehensive and up to date volume on entertainment It serves to define the new area of study and provides a theoretical spin for future work in the area Divided into three basic parts this book addresses the fundamental mechanisms and processes involved in orienting to and selecting entertainment fare as well as receiving and processing it explores the mechanisms and processes by which we are entertained by the media messages we select and receive and provides an opportunity for the application of well established as well as emerging psychological and psychobiological theories to be applied to the study of entertainment in ways that seldom have been utilized previously Psychology of Entertainment will appeal to scholars researchers and graduate students in media studies and mass communication psychology marketing and other areas contributing to the entertainment studies
