Restructuring The Global Military Sector:

Restructuring the Global Military Sector: New wars Mary Kaldor, Basker Vashee, 1997 Since the mid 1980s there have been substantial cuts in military spending throughout the world except for Pacific Asia The reasons are both political the end of the Cold War democratization in Africa and Latin America and economic structural adjustment programmes debt and cuts in public spending New Wars is the first of a two volume study commissioned by UNU WIDER to investigate the changes taking place worldwide in armed forces arms industries and all other military related activities This volume offers an original analysis of what is new about contemporary wars It argues that these wars have a contemporary logic that can be investigated in order to develop new international approaches towards prevention and resolution The book includes general chapters on organised crime and warfare the supply of weapons the role of Islam and international law as well as case studies on Bosnia the Transcaucasus Russian peacekeeping Cambodia South Asia and Africa Adapted from publisher's abstract

The End of Military Fordism Mary Kaldor, Basker Vashee, 1998-04-22 Part of a 2 volume analysis written by a team of key experts from around the world this text studies the changes taking place within the military sector The conclusion is that there has been little in the way of a peace dividend

The Politics of Protection Jef Huysmans, Andrew Dobson, Raia Prokhovnik, 2006 Following the end of the Cold War the security agenda has been transformed and redefined academically and politically This volume poses the question of political agency in relation to some of the most significant questions asked concerning the governance of insecurity and protection in the contemporary world

Handbook of Defense Economics Todd Sandler, Keith Hartley, 2007-04-12 The second volume of the Handbook of Defense Economics addresses defense needs practices threats and policies in the modern era of globalization This new era concerns the enhanced cross border flows of all kinds e g capital and labor flows revolutionary rhetoric guerrillas and terrorists including the spillovers of benefits and costs associated with public goods and transnational externalities i e uncompensated interdependencies affecting two or more nations These ever increasing flows mean that military armaments and armies are less able to keep out security threats Thus novel defense and security barriers are needed to protect borders that are porous to terrorists pollutants political upheavals and conflicts Even increased trade and financial flows imply novel security challenges and defenses Globalization also underscores the importance of a new set of institutions e g the European Union and global governance networks and agents e g nongovernmental organizations and partnerships This volume addresses the security challenges in this age of globalization where conflicts involve novel tactics new technologies asymmetric warfare different venues and frightening weapons Volume 2 contains topics not covered in volume 1 i e civil wars peacekeeping economic sanctions the econometrics of arms races conversion peace economics and the interface of trade peace and democracy Volume 2 also revisits topics from volume 1 where there has been a significant advancement of knowledge i e conflict analysis terrorism arms races arms trade

The privatization of defence assets and the outsourcing of military services from the armed forces to the private sector is an increasing trend. This book approaches the issue of military privatization by linking it to the transformation of the defence industries since the early 1990s and shows the extent to which many military functions and activities ranging from military research to military consulting training to operational support services have already been outsourced in the US and in Europe. This detailed study provides new and updated information on the ongoing privatization of the defence sector and offers an original theoretical explanation as to why the most modern armed forces throughout the world have come increasingly to rely on private companies for nearly everything they do. Contributing to a better understanding of military privatization and its close connection to technological change, the book explains the complexity of the whole phenomenon and discusses its implications for national and international security.

Restructuring the World Economy Joyce Kolko, 1988. An analytical account of the current crisis of global capitalism. Kolko examines what the global capitalist system means today for the United States, Japan and Western Europe for the less developed nations and for the centrally planned economies of Eastern Europe, Russia and China. The author's analysis moves from changes in banking and the service sector to the new technology industries, the dilemmas of world debt, efforts to restructure world trade and the nature of monetary relations. Kolko describes the various strategies to restructure the global economy and maintains that reform on a national scale cannot begin to cope with the crisis. She shows how and why the diverse efforts to restructure the global order reflect the character of the current crisis. ISBN 0 394 55920 7 24 95

The Globalization of Security is an important rethinking of the connections between globalization and security, focusing on a conceptual examination of the role of the state combined with key case studies. The book provides an analysis of the changing nature of security issues through three interlinking ways of conceptualizing the globalization of security: the expansion of the scope of threat, thinking about security in global terms and the development of transnational networks of power. Three cases are examined to provide potential examples of the globalization of security: nuclear weapons and the globalization of threat, the globalization of the arms industry and the global security aspects of migration and citizenship. The book provides a novel historical sociological approach to the globalization of security, advancing both the understanding of security and the theory of state power in international relations.
