humanities is occurring at the intersection of intellectual history and critical theory This volume includes work from some of the most prominent contemporary scholars in the humanities Cubism and Its Histories David Cottington, 2004 Cubism was the most influential artistic movement that emerged in the twentieth century Yet just what cubism was or stood for at the time of its emergence is still in dispute while the explanations offered for its importance for twentieth century art and its legacy for the present are bewildering in their variety This fascinating book offers a way beyond this confusion a narrative of its beginnings consolidation and dissemination that takes into account not only what the style and the movement signified at the time of its emergence but also the principal writings through which cubism's significance for modernism has been established Visually stunning with over 100 illustrations this is an essential work for all students and teachers of modern art history

Abysmal Gunnar Olsson, 2010-03-15 People rely on reason to think about and navigate the abstract world of human relations in much the same way they rely on maps to study and traverse the physical world Starting from that simple observation renowned geographer Gunnar Olsson offers in Abysmal an astonishingly erudite critique of the way human thought and action have become deeply immersed in the rhetoric of cartography and how this cartographic reasoning allows the powerful to map out other people's lives A spectacular reading of Western philosophy religion and mythology that draws on early maps and atlases Plato Kant and Wittgenstein Thomas Pynchon Gilgamesh and Marcel Duchamp Abysmal is itself a minimalist guide to the terrain of Western culture Olsson roams widely but always returns to the problems inherent in reason to question the outdated assumptions and fixed ideas that thinking cartographically entails A work of ambition scope and sharp wit Abysmal will appeal to an eclectic audience to geographers and cartographers but also to anyone interested in the history of ideas culture and art
