Privatization, Deregulation and Economic Efficiency Mitsuhiro Kagami, Masatsugu Tsuji, 2000 A survey of the privatization and deregulation of the public sector in a number of important economies The first part examines the privatization and deregulation process in Japan Korea India Latin America the US and the UK The second offers sector surveys from important industries Laser Satellite Communication William H. Mott IV, Robert Sheldon, 2000-01-30 This introduction to the next generation of human telecommunications enterprise examines the development of laser satellite communications and describes its advantages over previous technologies It looks at the development of the technology and the industry through wired and wireless media and presents the vision promise and challenges of free space lasers The book balances its focused consideration of the telecommunications industry and markets with practical thoughts on creating a business involved in the introduction of commercial laser satellite communications systems Scholars investors venture capitalists policy makers and corporate leaders will find this to be a comprehensive and eye opening bridge between the existing telecommunications industry and the opportunities of the next generation The opening chapters introduce the concepts of Migration Specialization and Interconnectivity as solutions inherent in third generation laser satellite communications The high capacity of the optical spectrum invites migration of applications beyond the narrow RF spectra to the high frequencies of free space laser beams Migration stimulates specialization of voice and duplex at the lower optimal RF spectra The third generation laser wired space focuses around global satellite interconnectivity between fiber optics and RF The final chapters introduce a model business concept to pioneer the third generation Several approaches to capitalization organization technology development and business strategies provide an exciting stimulus for pragmatic approaches to commercial concepts The Political Economy of Privatization and Deregulation Elizabeth E. Bailey, Janet Rothenberg Pack, 1995 The collection of articles in this volume reflect the vigorous implementation of privatization in Europe and deregulation in the United States over the last 25 years The evolutions of the movements is discussed both intellectually and politically Social Goal-Objective Formation, Democracy and National Interest Kofi Kissi Dompere, 2014-03-29

This book presents the development of a theory of social goal objective formation and its relationship to national interest and social vision under a democratic decision choice system with imperfect information structure It provides a framework for the application of fuzzy logic and its mathematics to the analysis in resolving conflicts in individual preferences in the collective decision choice space without violence The book demonstrates how to use fuzzy logic and its mathematics in the study of economics social sciences and other complex systems It also presents the use of collaborative tools of opposites duality polarity continuum in fuzzy paradigm with its logic laws of thought and mathematics in developing a new approach to the theory of political economy in order to enhance the constructs of social decision choice theory Liberalisierung und

Europäisierung Rainer Eising, 2000-01-31 Das Buch analysiert aus neo institutioneller Perspektive die jüngeren Reformen der Elektrizitätsversorgung im Kontext von neoliberalen Leitideen und wirtschaftlicher Globalisierung Während die Zentralisierung des Staates der britischen Regierung eine Fundamentalreform des Sektors ermöglichte gab es eine solch günstige institutionelle Konstellation weder in der EG noch in der Bundesrepublik In erster Linie erklären besondere Verhandlungsdynamiken und regulative Lernprozesse die europäische Liberalisierung wogegen die deutsche Reform das Ergebnis europäischer und nationaler Entflechtungsprozesse ist Competition and Efficiency in International

Food Supply Chains John Williams, 2012-07-26 Why have food crises seemingly become more frequent in recent years compared to the last few decades This book examines an array of different issues and distortions that are causing food supply chain dysfunction in many countries particularly for staple non perishable foods such as grains oilseeds pulses and sugar It outlines the underlying changes that are currently occurring which will have an influence on the direction of future food supply chains and provides some solutions to current food security problems Based on an analysis of total regulation in the 1950s 60s through to deregulation during the 1980 90s as well as post deregulation it focuses on liberal trade and deregulation as a more successful solution to creating efficiencies in food supply chains and distribution The author highlights a common thread of either farmers using government for vested interest intervention or autocratic governments seeking market and supply chain power The book examines the role of government after 70 years of food supply chain intervention It discusses the role of commercial trade markets and cluster industries and how these can quickly disintegrate when price distortions occur The author studies both food importing and exporting countries and concludes that comingled commoditization of food has led to increased hoarding corruption and dependence on food aid He argues that a competitive food supply chain that has minimum intervention is more likely to provide future food security In conclusion the book emphasizes that adequate rewards competition and striving for supply chain efficiencies are the essences of sustainable food security International Deregulation and Privatization Christian Campbell, 2000 Issues vital to private investors from competition law to tax aspects are surveyed here by accountants and lawyers from throughout the EU The text shows the extent to which deregulation or liberalization of industrial sectors in the member states of the European Union EU has impacted beyond the economies and financial markets of Europe As more sectors of the European economy open to private participants the effect on the aviation rail insurance telecommunications and utilities sectors as this insightful text shows will continue to intensify dramatically Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint Regulation, Deregulation, Reregulation Claude Ménard, Michel Ghertman, 2009 After 25 years of industry restructuring regulatory reform and deregulation across many industrial sectors in many countries it is an appropriate time to take stock of the impacts of these reforms on consumers producers and overall economic performance This book contains the latest thinking on these issues by a distinguished international group of scholars It s a collection of essays for our time that is well worth reading Paul L Joskow Massachusetts Institute of Technology US The most exciting development in the study of regulation in the past quarter century is research on the incentives that are created by the details of the procedures for creating and enforcing regulatory rules This book brings together a rich collection of studies that collectively advance our understanding of the effect of regulatory governance on the performance of regulated firms with important lessons about how to design more effective regulatory instruments and processes Roger G Noll Stanford University US Cycles of poorly designed or weakly enforced regulation disappointing performance and political over reaction are now familiar to students of regulated industries Nourished by recent developments in the economics of incentives including their transaction costs and property rights dimensions and written by renowned experts in the field Regulation Deregulation Reregulation is a must read for all those interested in the economics and politics of regulation A timely book the publication of which coincides with the designing of a post subprime regulatory framework for the financial industry Jean Tirole Toulouse School of Economics France Building on Oliver Williamson s original analysis the contributors introduce new ideas different perspectives and provide tools for better understanding changes in the approach to regulation the reform of public utilities and the complex problems of governance They draw largely upon a transaction cost approach highlighting the challenges faced by major economic sectors and identifying critical flaws in prevailing views on regulation Deeply rooted in sector analysis the book conveys a central message of new institutional economics that theory should be continuously confronted by facts and reformed or revolutionized accordingly With its emphasis on the institutional embeddedness of regulatory issues and the problems generated by the benign neglect of institutional factors in the reform of major public utilities this book will provide a wide ranging audience with challenging views on the dynamics of regulatory approaches Economists political scientists postgraduate students researchers and policymakers with an interest in institutional economics and economic organization will find the book to be a stimulating and enlightening read Privatization and Public Policy Vincent Wright, Luisa Perrotti, 2000 Privatization Management Mushtaq A. Sajid, 1998 Deregulation and Its Discontents M. Ramesh, Michael Howlett, 2006 Examines the different ways in which the issues related to deregulation and reregulation have been addressed in Asia Privatization and Deregulation in Global Perspective Dennis J. Gayle, Jonathan N. Goodrich, 1990 In this volume the leading scholars and practitioners in the field provide a comprehensive in depth examination of trends in privatization throughout the world Focusing primarily on the experiences of seventeen countries including developing countries advanced industrial nations and socialist states the book explores theoretical approaches toward the issues inherent in privatization and deregulation specifies techniques for successful privatization and examines the cost benefits and limits of privatization policies The contributors then present a series of twenty detailed case studies which assess the actual problems and prospects associated with privatization and deregulation policy choices across varied sociopolitical systems and a range of economic sectors The result is the most extensive comparative public policy analysis yet published on the subject of privatization and deregulation Following an introductory overview which addresses the interaction between privatization deregulation and market liberalization within both developed and developing country policy environments the contributors discuss the philosophical bases of privatization policies examine the seminal experiences of Britain and the United States and identify factors responsible for successful privatization efforts This is followed by case studies of privatization in such sectors as finance transportation health care housing and telecommunications around the world After special sectoral studies of developing country finance debt equity conversions and international air transport the authors successively survey the experience of privatization in selected Latin American Caribbean West African and Asian developing nations in the advanced industrial nations of Canada France New Zealand and Sweden and in the socialist countries of China Hungary and Poland In their conclusion the editors discuss the immediate implications of the contributors findings and suggest research directions for the future Numerous explanatory tables and figures are included making this an ideal supplemental text for courses in business government and public policy

Privatization and Deregulation of Transport

Bill Bradshaw, 2000 02 This book is based on a seminar held at Oxford University in September 1997 It took place following the election of the first Labour government for 17 years and following the announcement of the consultation process leading up the publication of a Transport White Paper The seminar sought to address the somewhat contradictory situation of a government of the left inheriting a transport industry largely privatized and deregulated but unwilling to commit itself either to the expense of re nationalization or to finding the large sums of money needed for investment in public infrastructure and facilities The debate reflects views on the legacy of the previous administration and on the challenges facing the new government The chapters contain a mix of expert academic regulatory body and industry viewpoints on bus freight airline and train industries Most but not all start from an economic regulation perspective This book is based on a seminar held at Oxford University in September 1997 It took place following the election of the first Labour government for 17 years and following the announcement of the consultation process leading up the publication of a Transport White Paper The seminar sought to address the somewhat contradictory situation of a government of the left inheriting a transport industry largely privatized and deregulated but unwilling to commit itself either to the expense of re nationalization or to finding the large sums of money needed for investment in public infrastructure and facilities The debate reflects views on the legacy of the previous administration and on the challenges facing the new government The chapters contain a mix of expert academic regulatory body and industry viewpoints on bus freight airline and train industries Most but not all start from an economic regulation perspective

Law, Modernity, Postmodernity Brendan Edgeworth, 2019-07-30 This title was first published in 2003 This book examines the interrelationship between the unravelling of the post war welfare state and legal change By reference to theorists of postmodernity such as Zygmunt Bauman Scott Lash and John Urry and David Harvey the principal argument is that contemporary law and legal institutions can be best understood as having changed in ways that mirror the recent transformation of the interventionist welfare state and its Fordist Keynesian economic infrastructure The key changes identified in the legal field include the shift toward marketized regulatory structures as reflected in privatization and deregulation the attenuation of welfare rights the privatization of justice legal polycentricity the reconfiguration of the welfare state s social citizenship and the globalization of law Empirical evidence from a number of jurisdictions is adduced to indicate the general direction of change

Privatization and Regulatory Change in Europe Michael Moran, Tony Prosser, 1994

International Encyclopedia of Transportation , 2021-05-13 In an increasingly globalised world despite reductions in costs and time transportation has become even more important as a facilitator of economic and human interaction this is reflected in technical advances in transportation systems increasing interest in how transportation interacts with society and the need to provide novel approaches to understanding its impacts This has become particularly acute with the impact that Covid 19 has had on transportation across the world at local national and international levels Encyclopedia of Transportation Seven Volume Set containing almost 600 articles brings a cross cutting and integrated approach to all aspects of transportation from a variety of interdisciplinary fields including engineering operations research economics geography and sociology in order to understand the changes taking place Emphasising the interaction between these different aspects of research it offers new solutions to modern day problems related to transportation Each of its nine sections is based around familiar themes but brings together the views of experts from different disciplinary perspectives Each section is edited by a subject expert who has commissioned articles from a range of authors representing different disciplines different parts of the world and different social perspectives The nine sections are structured around the following themes Transport Modes Freight Transport and Logistics Transport Safety and Security Transport Economics Traffic Management Transport Modelling and Data Management Transport Policy and Planning Transport Psychology Sustainability and Health Issues in Transportation Some articles provide a technical introduction to a topic whilst others provide a bridge between topics or a more future oriented view of new research areas or challenges The end result is a reference work that offers researchers and practitioners new approaches new ways of thinking and novel solutions to problems All encompassing and expertly authored this outstanding reference work will be essential reading for all students and researchers interested in transportation and its global impact in what is a very uncertain world Provides a forward looking and integrated approach to transportation Updated with future technological impacts such as self driving vehicles cyber physical systems and big data analytics Includes comprehensive coverage Presents a worldwide approach including sets of comparative studies and applications Refining Regulatory Regimes David Coen, Adrienne Windhoff-Héritier, 2005 Regulation is on the rise across the world as the state steps back from public ownership However as the authors highlight the style of political delegation to regulatory authorities has not followed a uniform trajectory but rather institutional endowments administrative traditions market structure and business culture have all influenced the creation of regulatory authorities and implementation styles Noting these variances the focus of this book is to consider the impact of liberalisation and the introduction of new regulatory structures on three utility sectors telecommunications energy and the railways using Germany and the UK as case studies With regulation seeking to foster competition at the same time as also having to protect essential services the authors investigate regulatory styles costs of new regulatory functions and how firms in the new regulatory landscape access and influence regulatory authorities The authors consider how EU pressures may hinder or help the functioning of new regulatory markets and the establishment of business regulator relationships as well as the broader policy implications for these new regulatory environments The book also determines how regulatory authorities emerge and evolve under different state traditions and assesses over time the degree to which there is potential for convergence divergence and continued differences as regulatory functions mature This book will be warmly welcomed by researchers and academics of comparative public policy politics and regulation It will also appeal to policy makers and the business community in Europe
