Deklaration des Autobiographischen Susanne Craemer-Schroeder,1993      The Consciousness of D.H. Lawrence

Daniel J. Schneider,1986 This biography of Lawrence is unlike any other in its focus on the essential character of the artist and in its synthesis of the facts of his life and thought It is written not for specialists but for general readers who wish to deepen their understanding of the development of Lawrence s thought and feeling over the course of his lifetime The author blends intellectual biography and psychology to focus on Lawrence s religious nature as a shaping force in his life

Valsiner: Handbook of Developmental (c) Psychology Jaan Valsiner Kevin J. Connolly, This is an impressive work and will provide the advanced reader with a rich source of theory and evidence There is a huge amount to be got from the book and I suspect it will become a key work J Gavin Bremner Department of Psychology Lancaster University The Handbook of Developmental Psychology is a comprehensive authoritative yet frontier pushing overview of the study of human development presented in a single volume format It is ideal for experienced individuals wishing for an up to date survey of the central themes prevalent to developmental psychology both past and present and for those seeking a reference work to help appreciate the subject for the first time The insightful contributions from world leading developmental psychologists successfully and usefully integrate different perspectives to studying the subject following a systematic life span structure from pre natal development through to old age in human beings The Handbook then concludes with a substantive section on the methodological approaches to the study of development focusing on both qualitative and quantitative techniques This unique reference work will be hugely influential for anyone needing or wishing for a broad yet enriched understanding of this fascinating subject It will be a particularly invaluable resource for academics and researchers in the fields of developmental psychology education parenting cultural and biological psychology and anthropology      Abhandlungen zur Kunst-, Musik- und Literaturwissenschaft ,1957      Novel Approaches for Studying Creativity in Problem-Solving and Artistic the methodological approaches to the study of development focusing on both qualitative and quantitative techniques This unique reference work will be hugely influential for anyone needing or wishing for a broad yet enriched understanding of this fascinating subject It will be a particularly invaluable resource for academics and researchers in the fields of developmental psychology education parenting cultural and biological psychology and anthropology The Psychology of Nationalism J. Searle-White, 2001-11-16 Nationalism and other forms of group identity underlie many of the destructive conflicts the world is experiencing today Particularly puzzling in such conflicts is their tenacity and viciousness Why do people cling to conflicts that are damaging them Why are the feelings involved so vehement and intense Understanding the fragile nature of individual and group identity and how people perceive threats to identity can answer these questions By analyzing nationalism in Quebec Armenia and Azerbaijan and Sri Lanka this book shows that addressing the psychological dimensions of nationalism can help us understand and perhaps to intervene successfully in nationalist and ethnic conflicts

Idiographic Approach to Health Raffaele De Luca Picione, Jensine Nedergaard, Maria Francesca Freda, Sergio Salvatore, 2018-12-01 The concept of health is a challenge of great complexity in terms of theoretical methodological and intervention within the idiographic frame Health cannot be considered an abstract condition but a means a resource aimed at achieving objectives that relate to the ability of people to lead their lives in a productive way individually socially and economically Health is a process that is not based on the definition of standards and categories on the basis of which typifying the states of health Rather it has to be considered a process on a large scale and on many entangled levels aimed at generating a culture of the health as a resource for individuals and communities and to promote skills needed to transform these resources into developmental goals The notion of health indeed defined and interpreted in terms of state and not of process meets the immediate paradox of being an indicator of normativity by reason of which we risk a proliferation of new and potentially infinite forms of deviation The approach of the idiographic sciences see previous volumes of the Yearbook Idiographic Science Series by same publisher IAP considers that every psychological process but in general every process from organic to the social and cultural ones is characterized by a contextual situated and contingent dynamics That dynamics is always characterized by a never ending opening of its cycles and great variability Conditions of stagnation and hypostatization are characteristic of all forms of disease physical mental and social that sclerotize relational links between people and their environments Health is therefore a process that presents oscillation in the same way of any developmental process that has moments of crisis and rupture in order to re organize new forms of relationship with the social and cultural environment This book represent a fruitful way to deep many cogent issues and to dialogue with an idiographic perspective in order to discuss the concept of health to define its cultural meanings and possible polysemy e g wellness care hygiene quality of life resilience prevention healing deviation normality subjective potentiality for development etc its areas of pertinence and intervention somatic psychological social trying to offer possible alternatives to the normalization of health

 Contributed research papers      Bibliographie internationale des recensions de la littérature savante ,1980      Historical Thinking Joanna Wojdon,2019-11-20 Developing historical thinking is becoming an overarching goal of history education at least on the declarative level The concept is not new and has been developed for many years in various national and international contexts However its scope and contents and especially the methods of transferring it onto everyday school practice still remain work in progress for they involve major re structuring of traditional ways of teaching In this case modernizing history education is not about incorporating new technologies but rather about developing new approaches to any and all resources used in the classroom and issues discussed in the process of history education Some of the papers in this issue of JHEC address the issues posed by the use of films museums writing and the introduction of local and regional history in history education Starting from this year JHEC launches its new section devoted to book reviews It discusses publications related to history didactics and all aspects of historical culture and history education in the past and present published in the recent years in the English language      Nineteenth-century French Studies ,1979      The Ideological Hero in the Novels of Robert Brasillach, Roger Vailland & André Malraux Peter D. Tame,1998 The first book to provide a strong theoretical examination of the political ideologies of Brasillach Vailland and Malraux Dr Tame s study deals in particular with their contributions to the concept of the ideological hero From different positions of the political spectrum the three twentieth century French writers produced what has been called politically committed literature The principal concepts explored are of Fascist man in two novels by Brasillach the figure of the Bolshevik in three novels by Vailland and that of the Communist hero in three novels by Malraux One of Dr Tame s significant findings is that the various images of the ideological hero presented by the three novelists have more in common with one another than has been generally supposed

The Ironic Space William Roberson,1993 The Ironic Space is a highly original study which explores how Kantian epistemology opens a critical window onto the inner form of nineteenth century realist texts By tracing the outlines of German idealism the author describes a philosophical and literary paradigm which reveals the many contours of irony in Stendhal s Le Rouge et le noir Goncharov s A Common Story and Meredith s The Ordeal of Richard Feverel The readings not only illuminate surprising aspects of the novels but also demonstrate how their philosophical grounding problematizes the reading process      The Problematic Self Elizabeth Brody Tenenbaum,1977      The Bastard Hero in the Novel Margaret Bożenna Gosciolo,1990      Biography ,1978 An interdisciplinary quarterly      MLN ,1979 MLN pioneered the introduction of contemporary continental criticism into American scholarship Critical studies in the modern languages Italian Hispanic German French and recent work in comparative literature are the basis for articles and notes in MLN Four single language issues and one comparative literature issue are published each year      Comparative Literature ,1980      Psychoanalysis, Psychology, and Literature, a Bibliography. 2nd Ed. 2 Vol Set Norman Kiell,1982 Almost 20 000 entries of worldwide literature related to psychology and psychiatry as these disciplines are dealt with in literary publications Most of the contents of the first edition are included in the second Divided into sections of such forms as drama poetry folklore and myths Each numbered entry includes bibliographical information Author title and subject indexes
