Reimagining Japanese Education David Blake Willis, Jeremy Rappleye, 2011-05-16 Sparked by the confluence of accelerating domestic transformation and increasingly explicit impacts from globalization the Japanese education system has undergone tremendous changes during the turbulence of the past decade This volume which brings together some of the foremost scholars in the field of Japanese education analyzes these recent changes in ways that help us reimagine Japan and Japanese educational change at this critical juncture Rather than simply updating well worn Western images of Japan and its educational system the aim of the book is a much deeper critical rethinking of the outmoded paradigms and perspectives that have rendered the massive shifts that have taken place in Japan largely invisible to or forgotten by the outside world This reimagining thus restores Japan to its place as a key comparative link in the global conversation on education and lays out new pathways for comparative research and reflection Ranging widely across domains of policy and practice and with a balance of Japanese and foreign scholars the volume is also indicative of new directions in educational scholarship worldwide approaches that center global interactions on domestic education and contribute to a far greater recognition of the polycentric polycontextual World unfolding today This book will be of keen interest to scholars of education worldwide as well as those working in and across anthropology sociology policy studies political science and area studies given that contemporary transformations in Japan at once reflect and approximate political social and educational shifts occurring throughout the World in the early decades of the 21st century

International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen, Andreas M. Kazamias, 2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine

Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very difficult private circumstances as they were finishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of difficulties and disasters overcome The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were working and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer Rolland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook

Education in Radical Uncertainty Stephen Carney, Ulla Ambrosius Madsen, 2021-07-15 Drawing upon the long tradition of recalcitrant thought in Western humanist scholarship this book rethinks education and educational research at a time of intense social transformation By revisiting a range of post foundational ideas and developing their own methodological experiment Stephen Carney and Ulla Ambrosius Madsen reimagine the possibilities for the comparative study of education Exploring the experiences of young people in Denmark South Korea and Zambia this book illustrates how these very different contexts are increasingly connected by common narratives of purpose as well as overheated promises of success Focusing on the writings of Jean Baudrillard the authors examine them in the context of works by other theorists of modernity to explore processes of simulation and disappearance that are shaping life worldwide In the process the authors paint a rich portrait of education and schooling as a site of joy hope pain and ambivalence Encompassing both theoretical and methodological innovation Education in Radical Uncertainty provides inspiration for scholars and students attempting to approach the fields of comparative education education policy and youth studies anew Beyond the Comparative John C. Weidman, W. James Jacob, 2012-01-01 We are pleased to introduce this inaugural volume in the PSCIE Series Beyond the Comparative Advancing Theory and Its Application to Practice which expands on the life work of University of Pittsburgh Professor Rolland G Paulston 1929 2006 Recognized as a stalwart in the field of comparative and international education Paulston's most widely recognized contribution is in social cartography He demonstrated that mapping comparative international and development education CIDE is no easy task and depending on the perspective of the mapper there may be multiple cartographies to chart The 35 contributors to this volume representing a range of senior and junior scholars from various CIDE backgrounds and perspectives celebrate the life and work of Paulston by addressing issues perspectives and approaches related to charting the future course of the field The volume reports on new research in several genres as well as conceptual analysis As the title suggests authors were encouraged to go beyond established canons of CIDE The cover art The CIDE Theoretical Compass was conceptualized by the editors and depicts that theory selection and theory generation are an ongoing and important process in comparative international and development education CIDE The image was designed by artist Natalie Jacob which positions the CIDE Theoretical Compass over Rolland G Paulston's 1993 concentric circle map

Theories and Methods in Comparative Education Jürgen Schriewer, Brian Holmes, 1992 Issues of methodology have been at the centre of debate among Comparative Educationists for decades The essays in this volume written by scholars from Europe Latin America and the USA reflect current interests in the changing metascientific discourse in the field of Comparative Education A shift in the nature of this discourse from prescription to socio historical description is particularly clear in the essays in Part I in which frameworks are developed within which analyses of the field's differing traditions currents and paradigms can be made Theories which direct attention to historical explanations and policy oriented predictions and which inform conceptual problems in making cross cultural comparisons are examined in Part II In these essays reference is made to both the different epistemological premises and the application of such theories to substantive comparative research The essays in Part III add an unusual dimension to methodological debates in so far as they define the disciplinary status and theoretical functions of Comparative Education within the wider context of Education or Educology as the basic discipline      Transforming Development in Education Moira V. Faul,2025-02-12 In this thought provoking book expert contributors challenge dominant global development narratives undertaking an academic critique of contemporary coloniality in education and providing constructive ways towards more equal and sustainable futures      Discourse Formation in Comparative Education Jürgen Schriewer,2009 New theories and theory based methodological approaches have found their way into Comparative Education just as into Comparative Social Science more generally in increasing number in the recent past The essays of this volume express and critically discuss quite a range of these positions such as inter alia the theory of self organizing social systems and the morphogenetic approach the theory of long waves in economic development and world systems analysis historical sociology and the sociology of knowledge as well as critical hermeneutics and post modernist theorizing With reference to such theories and approaches the chapters written by scholars from Europe the USA and Australia outline alternative research agendas for the comparative study of the social and educational fabric of the modern world In so doing they also expound frames of reference for re considering the intellectual shaping or Discourse Formation of Comparative Education as a field of study      Reimagining Utopias Iveta Silova,Noah W. Sobe,Alla Korzh,Serhiy Kovalchuk,2017-07-13 Reimagining Utopias explores the shifting social imaginaries of post socialist transformations to understand what happens when the new and old utopias of post socialism confront the new and old utopias of social science This peer reviewed volume addresses the theoretical methodological and ethical dilemmas encountered by researchers in the social sciences as they plan and conduct education research in post socialist settings as well as disseminate their research findings Through an interdisciplinary inquiry that spans the fields of education political science sociology anthropology and history the book explores three broad questions How can we re imagine research to articulate new theoretical insights about post socialist education transformations in the context of globalization How can we re imagine methods to pursue alternative ways of producing knowledge And how can we navigate various ethical dilemmas in light of academic expectations and fieldwork realities Drawing on case studies conceptual and theoretical essays autoethnographic accounts as well as synthetic introductory and conclusion chapters by the editors this book advances an important conversation about these complicated questions in geopolitical settings ranging from post socialist Africa to Eastern Europe and Central Asia The contributors not only expose the limits of Western conceptual frameworks and research methods for understanding post socialist transformations but also engage creatively in addressing the persisting problems of knowledge hierarchies created by abstract universals epistemic difference and geographical distance inherent in comparative and international education research This book challenges the readers to question the existing education narratives and rethink taken for granted beliefs theoretical paradigms and methodological frameworks in order to reimagine the world in more complex and pluriversal ways
