Privatization In The Transition To A Market Economy:

Privatization in the Transition to a Market Economy John S. Earle, Roman Frydman, Andrzej Rapaczynski, 1993

Privatization policies are the centrepiece of the historically unique transformation of the centrally planned into market economies. Yet the peculiarities of the privatization process in Eastern Europe are little understood in the West because of differences in historical socio-political and economic contexts relative to Western experience. Most research on privatization in the West is rather theoretical and thus pays insufficient attention to these contexts perhaps because their importance is not widely appreciated and because there has been little information about them available. Moreover, the significant differences among East European countries in contexts and in policies are not well understood even within the region again because of a lack of information.

Privatization in the transition to a market economy Renzo Daviddi, 1994

Property Rights and Privatization in the Transition to a Market Economy Renzo Daviddi, 1995. Primerjalni pregled izkušnjih metod privatizacije in njihove uporabe v nekaterih srednje in vzhodnoevropskih državah ter v Rusiji odkriva probleme in pomen prehajanja na tržno gospodarstvo. Vlogo in naloge privatizacije v procesu makroekonomskega prilagajanja in prestrukturiranja v katerem ima slednja nesporno politično prioriteto ter podpora novega političnega vodstva. Ve dejavnikov zavira procese privatizacije zato v mnogih postkomunističnih državah potekajo po asneje kot je bilo predvideno zasebna dejavnost pa se bolj kot zaradi privatizacije državne premoženja razvija zaradi odpiranja novih podjetij.

Lessons from Bulgaria Andrew Schmitz, 1994-11-30. This book is about economic transformation in agriculture and the adjustments needed in public and private strategies to facilitate it. The book uses theory from the social and physical sciences and practical experience gained throughout the world to recommend strategies that are generally applicable to new market economies in transition. Bulgaria is used as a case example because it provides an empirical reference of interest because of its diversity, its massive restructuring and its precollectivization history as an efficient sector. The book also provides a means for coordinating output from a variety of projects currently active in Eastern Europe. Privatization in Transition Countries: Lessons From the First Decade Oleh Havrylyshyn, Donal McGettigan, 1999-09-06. The authors' view is that any privatisation is better than none regardless of whether a stable competitive environment has been established first. However, private companies started from scratch perform best, followed by newly privatised firms run by outsiders, either local or foreign. Privatised companies dominated by insiders do less well but even they regularly outperform state enterprises. Without an appropriate market environment though managers may spend more time lobbying the government for support than undertaking painful restructuring measures

Privatizing Eastern Europe J.M. Van Brabant, 2012-12-06 This volume is meant to be a modest contribution to the ongoing debate about the transitions away from the administrative planning environment typical of the former communist regimes The central subject matter is a fairly special one namely the privatization of these economies together with the restoration and effective monitoring of property rights These are paramount tasks of the ongoing transformations once progress toward political democracy is secured Though I would not allot divestment of existing state owned assets the kind of pivotal importance that some observers reserve for it changing rules on the utilization of these assets is evidently at the core of what the transition toward market based economic systems should be all about Rather than examining the entire range of issues that surround the controversy on privatization this volume is primarily concerned with the economics of taking the state out of the decision making about existing assets Among the several aspects of this discussion three stand out One is the establishment of clear property rights This is fundamental to minimize transaction costs in an environment where decisions will increasingly be taken by independent economic agents acting on their own account Second I look only incidentally at the various angles of creating capital markets particularly for existing assets in these economies

Privatisation Pamela Wyeth, 1994 Transition to a Market Economy Ludwig-Erhard-Stiftung, 1993-01 The Transition to the Market Economy, 1997 State, Labor, and the Transition to a Market Economy Agnieszka Paczyńska, 2015-06-19 In response to mounting debt crises and macroeconomic instability in the 1980s many countries in the developing world adopted neoliberal policies promoting the unfettered play of market forces and deregulation of the economy and attempted large scale structural adjustment including the privatization of public sector industries How much influence did various societal groups have on this transition to a market economy and what explains the variances in interest group influence across countries In this book Agnieszka Paczyńska explores these questions by studying the role of organized labor in the transition process in four countries in different regions the Czech Republic and Poland in eastern Europe Egypt in the Middle East and Mexico in Latin America In Egypt and Poland she shows labor had substantial influence on the process whereas in the Czech Republic and Mexico it did not Her explanation highlights the complex relationship between institutional structures and the critical junctures provided by economic crises revealing that the ability of groups like organized labor to wield influence on reform efforts depends to a great extent on not only their current resources such as financial autonomy and legal prerogatives but also the historical legacies of their past ties to the state This new edition features an epilogue that analyzes the role of organized labor uprisings in 2011 the protests in Egypt the overthrow of Mubarak and the post Mubarak regime Privatisation V. V. Ramanadham,2003-09-02 Documents the recent developments in privatisation through 25 country case studies The studies outline the varying privatisation programmes comparing them with material from developed developing and former communist countries Development Centre Studies The Economics and Politics of Transition to an Open Market Economy Egypt Weiss Dieter,Wurzel Ulrich,1998-09-30 This book explains why Egypt is lagging behind other countries in the Mediterranean region in reforming its economy Privatization, Corporate Governance and the Emergence of Markets E. Rosenbaum,F. Bönker,H. Wagener,2000-03-23 The volume focuses on privatisation in transition countries addressing issues ranging from corporate governance to the relationship between privatisation and the emergence of markets from a multi disciplinary perspective The contributors investigate both the theoretical groundwork of privatisation and enterprise restructuring as well as recent empirical evidence The contributions show that changes in ownership titles are but one part of the story being closely interwoven as they are with the transformation of corporate governance enterprise restructuring network transformation and the emergence of markets Encyclopedia Of The Global Economy A Guide For Students And Researchers David E.
