Problem Posing With Multicultural Childrens Literature Developing Critical Early Childhood Curricula:

Problem-posing with Multicultural Children's Literature Elizabeth P. Quintero, 2004 Problem posing with Multicultural Children's Literature documents an ongoing qualitative study of early childhood teachers using a problem posing method with multicultural children's literature Grounded in critical theory the text has been written for use in upper division undergraduate and graduate level classes that study infants toddlers preschoolers kindergartners and students in grades one and two The book uses examples from both early childhood and elementary teacher education students and practicing teachers work as they study critical literacy multicultural children's literature and integrated early childhood curriculum This structure provides insights into guided research in child development cultural and linguistic contexts learning theory strategies for teaching young children family advocacy and all related aspects of early childhood teacher education as the learners move through the activities

Early Childhood Qualitative Research J. Amos Hatch, 2013-10-18 How can qualitative researchers make the case for the value of their work in a climate that emphasizes so called scientifically based research What is the future of qualitative research when such approaches do not meet the narrow criteria being raised as the standard In this timely collection editor J Amos Hatch and contributors argue that the best argument for the efficacy of qualitative studies in early childhood is the new generation of high quality qualitative work This collection brings together studies and essays that represent the best work being done in early childhood qualitative studies descriptions of a variety of research methods and discussions of important issues related to doing early childhood qualitative research in the early 21st century Taking a unique reconceptualist point of view the collection includes materials spanning the full range of early childhood settings and provides cutting edge views by leading educators of new methods and perspectives
