Lorelei Hilda Corcoran,1995 In Egypt of the 1st century AD an alternative was introduced to the traditional use of painted masks of papier mache on wrapped and decorated mummies A new technique borrowed from the Hellenic tradition of painting in encaustic coloured wax or water colour on wooden panels or linen sheets involved the production of realistic images of the faces of men women and children These idealized paintings were placed over the face of the wrapped mummy The combination of an impressionistically rendered face and a wrapped mummiform body has been interpreted as a synthesis of two contrasting contemporary cultures Hellenic and native Egyptian However Corcoran s analysis of the iconography of these mummies reveals that their decoration reflects the continuity of a cultural alignment that was fundamentally Egyptian Her study documents a vital and articulate pagan tradition that survived in Egypt until the triumph of Christianity in the fourth century AD Written from the perspective of an academic Egyptologist this analysis of an important corpus of objects includes an illustrated catalogue of 23 mummy coverings with portrait faces from the collections of museums in Egypt Both as an original work on quite inaccessible material and as an important scholarly study of a class of artefact usually treated more glossily this will be an important book for egyptologists classicists art historians and historians of religion Annual Egyptological Bibliography ,1991 Funerary Sacrifice of Animals in the Egyptian Predynastic Period Diane Victoria Flores,2003 Animal burials whether buried with human remains or alone are frequent discoveries in Egypt yet it can be difficult to reconstruct their religious and cultural significance Neue deutsche Biographie Bayerische Akademie der Wissenschaften Historische Kommission,1971 Text: Wissen - Wirkung - Wahrnehmung Gregor Neunert,Henrike Simon,Kathrin Gabler,Alexandra Verbovsek,2015 Der Band Text Wissen Wirkung Wahrnehmung umfasst 15 Beitrage die im Rahmen der vierten Tagung des Munchner Arbeitskreises Junge Aegyptologie MAJA im Dezember 2013 von internationalen Referenten vorgestellt und diskutiert wurden Die uberwiegend jungen Autoren widmen sich altagyptischen Texten als Vermittler kultureller Konzepte und Diskurse Neben dem Inhalt und der Intention werden auch die Wirkung der Texte und ihre Wahrnehmung durch antike bzw moderne Rezipienten thematisiert Der Munchner Arbeitskreises Junge Aegyptologie ist ein Forum fur Nachwuchswissenschaftlerinnen und Nachwuchswissenschaftler das dem Austausch und vor allem der Prasentation neuer Forschungsansatze und ergebnisse in der Agyptologie dient Die MAJA Workshops finden regelmassig in Form einer offenen Diskussionsrunde mit Vortragen zu einem speziellen Themenbereich statt The Archaeological Journal ,1989 Archaeology from Space Sarah Parcak,2019-07-09 A crash course in the amazing new science of space archaeology that only Sarah Parcak can give This book will awaken the explorer in all of us Chris Anderson Head of TED winner Dr Sarah Parcak gives readers a personal tour of the evolution, major discoveries and future potential of the young field of satellite archaeology. From surprise advancements after the declassification of spy photography to a new map of the mythical Egyptian city of Tanis, she shares her field's biggest discoveries, revealing why space archaeology is not only exciting but urgently essential to the preservation of the world's ancient treasures. Parcak has worked in twelve countries and four continents using multispectral and high-resolution satellite imagery to identify thousands of previously unknown settlements, roads, fortresses, palaces, tombs, and even potential pyramids. From there, her stories take us back in time and across borders into the day-to-day lives of ancient humans whose traits and genes we share. And she shows us that if we heed the lessons of the past, we can shape a vibrant future. Includes illustrations. A renowned space archaeologist gives readers an insider's look at her field, which is basically Indiana Jones meets cutting-edge satellite technology. Kirkus Reviews starred review. This is a fascinating glimpse into a young field just as its technological possibilities are exploding. Nature Thebanische
