Beiträge Zur 14. Internationalen Konferenz Zu Stadtplanung, Regionalentwicklung und Informationsgesellschaft Manfred Schrenk, 2009 The Machine Penalty Daniel B. Shank, 2025-04-22 This book makes the argument that comparing AI to humans leads us to diminish similar outcomes from AI across situations This may be taking a human s advice for a restaurant recommendation over an AI s or believing that AI can t be as biased as people can when denying loans to others This machine penalty is caused both by comparing humans and AI in terms of appearance identity behavior mind and essence and by situations involving controllable personal important subjective or moral decisions It can be applied across many different situations where we diminish different AI outcomes We penalize machines influence when they give advice fairness when they evaluate people blame when they cause harm value when they produce art and satisfaction when they provide companionship The result is immediate consequences in those domains and downstream consequences for society This monograph brings together diverse research from human computer interaction psychology sociology and communication including theories such as Computers Are Social Actors anthropomorphism mind perception and algorithm aversion to present an expansive argument and evidence for the machine penalty
