The Conduct of Life Ralph Waldo Emerson, 2020-06-05 Ralph Waldo Emerson's The Conduct of Life is among the gems of his mature works This work poses the questions of human freedom and fate Is a great classic of American philosophy and literature To me however the question of the times resolved itself into a practical question of the conduct of life How shall I live We are incompetent to solve the times Our geometry cannot span the huge orbits of the prevailing ideas behold their return and reconcile their opposition We can only obey our own polarity 'Tis fine for us to speculate and elect our course if we must accept an irresistible dictation In our first steps to gain our wishes we come upon immovable limitations We are fired with the hope to reform men After many experiments we find that we must begin earlier at school But the boys and girls are not docile we can make nothing of them We decide that they are not of good stock We must begin our reform earlier still at generation that is to say there is Fate or laws of the world But if there be irresistible dictation this dictation understands itself If we must accept Fate we are not less compelled to affirm liberty the significance of the individual the grandeur of duty the power of character This is true and that other is true But our geometry cannot span these extreme points and reconcile them What to do By obeying each thought frankly by harping or if you will pounding on each string we learn at last its power

By the same obedience to other thoughts we learn theirs and then comes some reasonable hope of harmonizing them We are sure that though we know not how necessity does comport with liberty the individual with the world my polarity with the spirit of the times The riddle of the age has for each a private solution If one would study his own time it must be by this method of taking up in turn each of the leading topics which belong to our scheme of human life and by firmly stating all that is agreeable to experience on one and doing the same justice to the opposing facts in the others the true limitations will appear Any excess of emphasis on one part would be corrected and a just balance would be made But let us honestly state the facts Our America has a bad name for superficialness Great men great nations have not been boasters and buffoons but perceivers of the terror of life and have manned themselves to face it The Spartan embodying his religion in his country dies before its majesty without a question The Turk who believes his doom is written on the iron leaf in the moment when he entered the world rushes on the enemy s sabre with undivided will The Turk the Arab the Persian accepts the foreordained fat
