Nightwalking Matthew Beaumont, 2025-07-22 A captivating literary portrait of London explored at night by some of the city's most iconic writers throughout history Cities like cats will reveal themselves at night wrote the poet Rupert Brooke Before the age of electricity the nighttime city was a very different place to the one we know today home to the lost the vagrant and the noctambulant Matthew Beaumont recounts an alternative history of London by focusing on those of its denizens who surface on the streets when the sun's down If nightwalking is a matter of going astray in the streets of the metropolis after dark then nightwalkers represent some of the most suggestive and revealing guides to the neglected and forgotten aspects of the city In this brilliant work of literary investigation Beaumont shines a light on the shadowy perambulations of poets novelists and thinkers Chaucer and Shakespeare William Blake and his ecstatic peregrinations and the feverish ramblings of opium addict Thomas De Quincey and among the lamp lit literary through the supreme nightwalker Charles Dickens We discover how the nocturnal city has inspired some and served as a balm or narcotic to others In each case the city is revealed as a place divided between work and pleasure the affluent and the indigent where the entitled and the desperate jostle in the streets With a foreword and afterword by Will Self Nightwalking is a fascinating literary exploration of the writers who traverse the city at night and the people they meet      Rambling for Pleasure Around

Reading David Bounds, 2001-07-01      The Vintage Book Of Walking Duncan Minshull, 2011-09-30 It is good to collect things but better to go on walks Anatole France A fundamental act often taken for granted yet through the centuries it has inspired a fascinating literature This the first comprehensive anthology on the subject delves into why we walk and how we walk the differences between the country hike and the city stroll walking and wooing walking into trouble and marching out Then some of us will walk to meet the Maker A mix of fiction and non fiction poetry and drama provides the reader with over two hundred booted authors Xenophone and Baudelaire Flora Thompson and Julian Barnes Mark Twain and Roberto Calasso tramp the pages of this fascinating collection      Walking in the City Catharina Löffler, 2017-03-30 In this book Catharina Löffler traces the psycho physical experiences of London walkers in eighteenth century literature For this purpose readings of fascinating exciting comical and sometimes disturbing texts grant insights into a culturally historically and socially significant time in the history of London and make this book a tour of London as seen and heard through the eyes and ears of fictional eighteenth century urban walkers Uniting concepts of literary theory urban studies and psychogeography Löffler approaches
