Random Notes of Boston Henry P. Dowst, 2009-01-01 Henry Payson Dowst 1876 1921 was an American novelist and short story writer After his graduation from Harvard in 1899 he devoted himself to the writing of fiction and advertisement He was the General Manager of the Boston publishing house Maynard Co In 1916 he worked for a New York advertising agency Frank Seaman Inc where he remained until his death Dowst was a prolific contributor of short stories and novelettes to magazines like The Saturday Evening Post People's Favorite Magazine and Argosy All Story Weekly At least one of his stories was co authored with his wife Margaret Starr Dowst whom he married in 1900 Some of his short stories and novels were filmed Dowst died at the age of 45 at the very height of his writing career Amongst his works are Random Notes of Boston 1913 Radcliffe College 1913 Bostwick's Budget 1920 and The Man from Ashaluna 1920 Random Notes of Boston (Classic Reprint) Henry P. Dowst, 2016-10-13 Excerpt from Random Notes of Boston A famous illustrator of cities obsessed perhaps by the splendors of an older world not long ago denied Boston any title to the picturesque The illustrator of this book comes pleasantly to the rescue with tangible evidence here laid before all who care to consider it in the form of drawings made with a keen appreciation not alone of form and line but of the atmosphere of his subject About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www forgottenbooks com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition. We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Random Notes of Boston Dowst Henry Payson 1876-,2013-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy Random notes of Boston, by Henry P. Dowst; drawings by John Albert Seaford Henry Payson Dowst,1913 Business of the Heart John Corrigan,2023-04-28 The Businessmen's Revival was a religious revival that unfolded in the wake of the 1857 market crash among white middle class Protestants Delving into the religious history of Boston in the 1850s John Corrigan gives an imaginative and wide ranging interpretive study of the revival's significance He uses it as a focal point for addressing a spectacular range of phenomena in American culture the ecclesiastical and business history of Boston gender roles and family life the history of the theater and public spectacle education boyculture and especially ideas about emotion during this period This vividly written narrative recovers the emotional experiences of individuals from a wide array of little used sources including diaries correspondence public records and other materials From these sources Corrigan discovers that for these Protestants the expression of emotion was a matter of transactions They saw emotion as a commodity and conceptualized relations between people and between individuals and God as transactions of emotion governed by contract Religion became a business relation with God with prayer as its legal tender Entering this relationship they were conducting the business of the heart This innovative study shows that the revival with its commodification of emotional experience became an occasion for white Protestants to underscore differences between themselves and others The display of emotion was a primary indicator of membership in the Protestant majority as much as language skin color or dress style As Corrigan unravels the significance of these culturally constructed standards for emotional life his book makes an important contribution to recent efforts to explore the links between religion and emotion and is an important new chapter in the history of religion The Businessmen's Revival was a religious revival that unfolded in the wake of the 1857 market crash among white middle class Protestants Delving into the religious history of Boston in the 1850s John Corrigan gives an imaginative and wide ranging in Art in Advertising ,1892
