Rapanui Tradition And Survival On Easter Island:

Rapanui Grant McCall, 1981-01-01 The Eighth Land Thomas S. Barthel, 1978 Analysis based principally on Manuscript E written by Easter Islanders in the early 20th century and made public in 1955 Refutes Heyerdahl's contention that aboriginals from the Americas settled Easter Island asserting instead discovery and settlement by central Polynesians Reliance on ethnoscientific data on place names ethnobotany ethnozoology calendrical divisions etc Includes the complete Rapanui Polynesian text of Manuscript E Cultural and Environmental Change on Rapa Nui Sonia Haoa Cardinali, Kathleen B. Ingersoll, Daniel W. Ingersoll Jr., Christopher M. Stevenson, 2017-08-09 Rapa Nui one of the world's most isolated island societies and home to the notable moai has been at the centre of a tense debate for the past decade Some see it as the site of a dramatic cultural collapse occurring before Western contact where a self-inflicted ecocide was brought on by the exhaustion of resources Others argue that the introduction of Western pathogens and the slave raids of 1862 were to blame for the near extinction of the otherwise resilient Rapa Nui people Cultural and Environmental Change on Rapa Nui brings together the latest studies by prominent Rapa Nui researchers from all over the world to explore the island's past and present from its discovery by Polynesians through the first documented contact with Western culture in 1722 to the 20th century The exiting new volume looks beyond the moai to examine such questions as was there was a cultural collapse how did the Rapa Nui react to Westerners and what responses did the Rapa Nui develop to adjust to naturally or humanly induced environmental change This volume will appeal to scholars and professionals in the fields of history archaeology and ecology as well as anyone with an interest in the challenges of sustainable resource management and the contentious history of Rapa Nui itself A Grammar of Rapa Nui Paulus Kieviet, This book is a comprehensive description of the grammar of Rapa Nui the Polynesian language spoken on Easter Island After an introductory chapter the grammar deals with phonology word classes the noun phrase possession the verb phrase verbal and nonverbal clauses mood and negation and clause combinations The phonology of Rapa Nui reveals certain issues of typological interest such as the existence of strict conditions on the phonological shape of words word final devoicing and reduplication patterns motivated by metrical constraints For Polynesian languages the distinction between nouns and verbs in the lexicon has often been denied in this grammar it is argued that this distinction is needed for Rapa Nui Rapa Nui has sometimes been characterised as an ergative language this grammar shows that it is unambiguously accusative Subject and object marking depend on an interplay of syntactic semantic and pragmatic factors Other distinctive features of the language include the existence of a neutral aspect marker a serial verb construction the emergence of copula verbs a possessive relative construction and a tendency to maximise the use of the nominal domain Rapa Nui's relationship to the other Polynesian languages is a recurring theme in this grammar the relationship to Tahitian which has profoundly influenced Rapa Nui especially deserves attention The grammar is supplemented with a number of interlinear texts two maps and a subject index Easter Island Carlos

Mordo,2002 Surrounded by the immense expanse of the Pacific Ocean over 3200 kilometres from the nearest inhabited land Easter Island is incredibly isolated It is also small only 119 square kilometres Guano and the Opening of the Pacific World Gregory T.
