Advancing Global Education Janet R. Dickson, Barry B. Hughes, Mohammed T. Irfan, 2015-12-22 Education is one of the most fundamental prerequisites to economic growth and social stability in the world It is also one of the most inadequately realised goals of development with the average education of global adults remaining essentially at primary levels Advancing Global Education is the second in a series of volumes that explores prospects for human development how development appears to be unfolding globally and locally how we would like it to evolve and how better to assure that we move it in desired directions The first volume addressed the reduction of global poverty The third will turn to the enhancement of global health Advancing Global Education presents the most extensive set of forecasts of global education participation and attainment levels to date providing and exploring a massive multi issue database and proposing a scenario for accelerating educational attainment throughout major world regions and 183 countries

Japan's Household Savings Rate International Monetary Fund, 1987-01-01 This paper develops and tests a model of Japan s household savings rate based on the life cycle hypothesis that the primary motive for savings is provision for retirement The paper shows that Japan s high household savings rate in recent decades reflects the positive influence of rapid economic growth leading to a prolonged retirement period through the wealth and life expectancy effects of an income change which has initially outweighed the negative combined influence of improvements in public pension benefits and the aging of the population It projects that the savings rate will decline substantially in coming decades as the negative influence accelerates
