Random Reminiscences of Lord Fletcher of Islington Eric Fletcher Baron Fletcher,1986 Random Reminiscences of Lord Fletcher of Islington Eric G. M. Fletcher,1986 Reflections: 50 Years of Medieval Archaeology, 1957-2007:

No. 30 Roberta Gilchrist,Andrew Reynolds,2018-12-13 This volume celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Society for Medieval Archaeology established in 1957 presenting reflections on the history development and future prospects of the discipline The papers are drawn from a series of conferences and workshops that took place in 2007 08 in addition to a number of contributions that were commissioned especially for the volume They range from personal commentaries on the history of the Society and the growth of the subject see papers by David Wilson and Rosemary Cramp to historiographical regional and thematic overviews of major trends in the evolution and current practice of medieval archaeology All the publications are fully refereed with the aim of publishing at the highest academic level reports on sites of national and international importance and of encouraging the widest debate The series objectives are to cover the broadest chronological and geographical range and to assemble a series of volumes which reflect the changing intellectual and technical scope of the discipline

British Cinema of the 1950s Sue Harper,Vincent Porter,2003-09-11 In this definitive and long awaited history of 1950s British cinema Sue Harper and Vincent Porter draw extensively on previously unknown archive material to chart the growing rejection of post war deference by both film makers and cinema audiences Competition from television and successive changes in government policy all forced the production industry to become more market sensitive The films produced by Rank and Ealing many of which harked back to wartime structures of feeling were challenged by those backed by Anglo Amalgamated and Hammer The latter knew how to address the rebellious feelings and growing sexual discontents of a new generation of consumers Even the British Board of Film Censors had to adopt a more liberal attitude The collapse of the studio system also meant that the screenwriters and the art directors had to cede creative control to a new generation of independent producers and film directors Harper and Porter explore the effects of these social cultural industrial and economic changes on 1950s British cinema

Television Policies of the Labour Party 1951-2001 Des Freedman,2004-08-02 Des Freedman explores Labour s divided response to the development of commercial television in the 1950s and assesses the impact of Wilson s governments on television in the 1960s His key argument is that Labour has always been a vigorous but ultimately unreliable advocate of television

Parties at War Andrew Thorpe,2009-01-08 Political parties formed the cornerstone of the liberal democracy for which Britain claimed it was fighting in the Second World War However that conflict represented the most sustained challenge to the British party system during the twentieth century War forced the suspension of normal electoral politics and exerted considerable extra demands on the time and loyalties of party activists and organizers This all posed a serious challenge to the Conservative Labour and Liberal parties Parties at War uses an unusually broad and deep range of records of the main political parties to explore how they responded to the challenge of war Extensive use of the local as well as the national level papers of the major parties offers a fuller picture than ever previously attempted Andrew Thorpe focuses on what parties actually did at both local and national levels to sustain their organization during the war He assesses the varying impacts of war not just on each of the parties but also over time and between the different regions and areas of Britain Thorpe demonstrates how wartime struggles over organization had significance not just for the election of the first majority Labour government in 1945 but also for the longer term development of party in modern British politics
