The Genres, Prosody and Pragmatics of Rap Said Abir Anbari,2011-05-20 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 1 Bielefeld University language English abstract Preliminaries The first song whose rhythmic style of singing predates rapping was already published in the 1920s About 50 years later the first historically known rap song was published Since then this genre has undergone many changes and has been examined from diverse angles Various cultural historical and language centered studies have been conducted on rap music There is however little research particularly concerned with the different musical categories of rap vocal deliveries of rap and the usage and understanding of language in contexts of rap from a pragmatical point of view To investigate some of the genres linguistic properties the main focus of this paper will be on the genres prosody and pragmatics of rap music The paper is divided into five chapters and three major parts After the introduction and some general thoughts about the history of rap music the first major part deals with the generic classification of this genre in chapter three A general overview of the different genres of rap is given here by focusing on their musical thematic and vocal style variations It will be explored whether genres of rap are related to each other overlap and whether each genre encompasses a different style of vocal delivery All the lyrics of the songs which will be mentioned and discussed in this thesis are available in the appendix accompanied by a CD of songs and files Taking into account the different vocal styles which will be mentioned in chapter three in chapter four particular focus will be drawn to the prosodic variations of vocal styles especially to stress In this respect an experiment has been conducted by which prosodic differences of vocal styles will be discussed in chapter four It is not the objective of this thesis to focus on the physical nature of musical sounds i.e. instrumental sounds of rap music or the musical styles of different rap genres Rap, Rhyme and Rhythm Paul Alfred Barton,2004 Wordrider's This and That is a mixture of poems and song lyrics about a range of feelings Words about love broken hearts things that might be silly and abuse by husband boyfriend friend or family member I try to convey feelings that might have you touching the sky walking with a rain cloud overhead or maybe shaking your head in wonderment You might laugh cry or be left scratching your head

My hope is that my poems or songs will let someone know they aren't alone in what they have been through and that tomorrow can be better. That faith will see you through. I give thanks to God for giving me these words to write. I dedicate this book to my mom, my family, my friends, and each and every person who has helped me along the way, even the ones I don't know. I thank them, one and all, each one that took time to read my poems, even though they might not have wanted to read them. Some people say some of my poems or songs lyrics are off the wall or too much about love. To this, I can only say: The reason I write off the wall stuff is I play on the ceiling a lot, and it may not be love, but it is close enough to chocolate to taste good.
