Rappaccinis Children American Writers In A Calvinist World:

Rappaccini's Children William H. Shurr, 2021-12-14 Nathaniel Hawthorne's short story Rappaccini's Daughter tells of a beautiful girl who has from birth absorbed the poison from the flowers of her father's garden In this allegorical tale of the fallen Garden of Eden William H Shurr finds a metaphor for the fate of many American writers for whom the heritage of Calvinism has been the poisoned fruit of the Garden of the New World For many American writers the legacy of the Puritan Fathers has been a pervasive sense of sinfulness and guilt in a violent and unforgiving universe In this new study Shurr examines how these writers have coped with this heritage The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Sport Steven J.

Overman, 2011 Steven Overman explores the concordant values of the Protestant ethic capitalism and sport by applying German scholar Max Weber's seminal thesis Weber demonstrated a relationship between the Protestant ethic and a form of economic behavior he labeled the calling of capitalism Ravished by Beauty Belden C. Lane, 2011-04-21 In this novel exploration of Reformed spirituality Belden C Lane uncovers a green theology that celebrates a community of jubilant creatures of all languages and species Lane reveals an ecologically sensitive Calvin who spoke of himself as ravished by the earth's beauty He speaks of Puritans who fostered a lusty spirituality in which Christ figured as a lover who encouraged meditation on the wonders of creation He presents a Jonathan Edwards who urged a sensuous enjoyment of God's beauty as the only real way of knowing God Lane argues for the double irony of Reformed spirituality showing that Calvinists who often seem prudish and proper are in fact a people of passionate desire Similarly Reformed Christians who appear totally focused on divine transcendence turn out at times to be closet nature mystics exulting in God's glory everywhere Lane also demonstrates however that a spirituality of desire can be derailed ending in sexual excess and pantheism Ecologically holy longing can be redirected from a contemplation of God's splendor in the earth's beauty to a craving for land itself resulting in disastrous misuse of its resources Between the major chapters of the book are engaging personal essays drawn from the author's own love of nature as a Reformed Christian and providing a thoughtful discussion of contemporary issues of species diversity and the honoring of an earth community In Hawthorne's Shadow Samuel Chase Coale, 2014-07-15 The world is so sad and solemn wrote Nathaniel Hawthorne that things meant in jest are liable by an overwhelming influence to become dreadful earnest gaily dressed fantasies turning to ghostly and black clad images of themselves From the radical dualism of Hawthorne's vision Samuel Coale argues springs a continuing tradition in the American novel In Hawthorne's Shadow is the first critical study to describe precisely the formal shape of Hawthorne's psychological romance and to explore his themes and images in relation to such contemporary writers as John Cheever Norman Mailer Joan Didion John Gardner Joyce Carol Oates William Styron and John Updike When viewed from this perspective certain writers particularly Cheever Mailer Oates and Gardner appear in a new and very different light leading to a considerable reevaluation of their achievement and their place in American fiction Mr Coale's long interviews and conversations with John Cheever John Gardner William Styron and others have provided insights and perspectives that make this book particularly valuable to students of contemporary American literature Coale links contemporary writers to an on going American romantic tradition represented by such earlier authors as Melville Harold Frederic Faulkner Flannery O Connor and Carson McCullers He explores the distinctly Manichean matter of much American romance linking it to America s Puritan past and to the almost schizophrenic dynamics of American culture in general Finally he reexamines the post modernist writers in light of Hawthorne s shadow and shows that however similar they may be in some ways they differ remarkably from the previous American romantic tradition South Atlantic Review ,1981 American Humanities Index ,1985-08 "Almost a Believer" Horace D. Stearman,1992 Liberal and Fine Arts Review ,1985 Internationale Bibliographie der Rezensionen wissenschaftlicher Literatur ,1983 The Kentucky Review ,1982 British Books in Print ,1986 Research, Publications and Creative Achievements University of Tennessee, Knoxville,1981 The University of Tennessee Record University of Tennessee,1982 Henry James Judith E. Funston,1991 America, History and Life ,1985 Studies in Short Fiction ,1985 The Georgia Review ,1982
