The Cumulative Book Index ,1988 A world list of books in the English language Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 Choice ,1987 Forthcoming Books Rose Army,1987 A London Bibliography of the Social Sciences ,1931 Vols 1 4 include material to June 1 1929 Sociological Abstracts ,1974 Women's Prison Gene Kassebaum,2017-07-28 A thoroughly researched pioneering work based on personal interviews with inmates and prison personnel and on data compiled from questionnaires and inmate record files Women s Prison reveals that homosexual liaisons are the primary foundation of the social structure of female inmates shows that homosexual behavior can be a superficial kind of adjustment to particular situational privations amplifies and broadens the application of earlier findings on men s prisons opens the way for future studies involving the delineation of homosexual roles in the free community This study began with both of the authors interest in gathering data on women in prison to see whether there were female prisoner types consistent with the reported characteristics of male prisoners Early in the course of this study it became apparent that the most salient distinction to be made among the female inmates was between those who were and those who were not engaged in homosexual behavior in prison and further of those who were so involved between the incumbents of masculine and feminine roles It has become increasingly apparent that prison behavior is rooted in more than just the conditions of confinement Unlike their male counterparts who establish the so called inmate code women prisoners suffer intensely from the loss of affectional relationships and form homosexual liaisons as the primary foundation of their social organization The great majority of homosexually involved inmates have their first affair in prison returning to heterosexual roles outside prison Women s Prison is a revealing study of social structure and homosexuality for sociologists of vital interest to social workers parole officers and chaplains dealing with female inmates as well as penologists and criminologists and provocative reading for the non specialist Sexual Crime and the Experience of Imprisonment Nicholas Blagden,Belinda Winder,Kerensa Hocken,Rebecca Lievesley,Phil Banyard,Helen Elliott,2019-03-12 This book focuses on the experience of imprisonment from the perspectives of individuals with sexual convictions It stresses the importance of a positive and rehabilitative prison climate The volume begins with an exploration of the theoretical underpinnings of a rehabilitative prison climate and discusses some of the practical ways of creating rehabilitative cultures in prisons housing people convicted of sexual offences. Four empirical chapters focus on the experience of stigmatisation, prison officers' attitudes towards prisoners, negotiating the sex offender identity in prisons and the varied experience of being in prisons exclusively for individuals with sexual convictions. Throughout the authors discuss the specific benefits of peer support such as the chance to earn self-forgiveness, construct adaptive identities and consequently move away from harmful labels. The book also spotlights a chapter on the experience of imprisonment written by a former service user; this unique position offers an insightful account of an individual's journey through the prison system.

Risk Markers for Sexual Predation and Victimization in Prison

,2009 The study found that male inmates engaged in more predatory, bartered and consensual sex with other inmates; however, these different types of sex were highly related, suggesting that inmates who engage in one type of sex are far more likely to be involved in the other types of sex. A discussion of the implications of these findings for inmate programming highlights the importance of developing gender-specific programs that address a broad spectrum of behaviours associated with sexual violence. The discussion reflects on the issue of consent as attributed to prison inmates and addresses the importance of boundary training for the correctional staff at risk for sexual involvement with inmates. The analytic process resulted in the construction of nine valid conceptual models for predatory, victimized, bartered and consensual sex in prison, each of which was different for male and female inmates. This exploratory research was the first effort to apply empirically validated static and dynamic risk factors for violence to sexual predation and victimization in prisons. The models were developed using a sample of 471 inmates: 288 males and 183 females from two States.
