Sex Death And Hierarchy In A Chinese City:

Sex, Death, and Hierarchy in a Chinese City William R. Jankowiak, 1993 The first contemporary ethnographic account of urban life in China Sex Death and Hierarchy in a Chinese City studies both public and private life including such aspects as religious belief gender images family life and sexual attraction The Nanxun Legacy and China's Development in the Post-Deng Era John Wong, Yongnian Zheng, 2001 In the spring of 1992 Deng Xiaoping made a historical tour of south China popularly known as the Nanxun southern tour During the tour he boldly called for more radical economic reform and further opening up of China The Nanxun has become a political landmark in the history of the People's Republic of China much like great events such as the Great Leap Forward the Cultural Revolution and the 1989 Tiananmen crackdown Deng Xiaoping has left his own legacy for the country The Nanxun belongs to Deng just as the 1911 revolution belongs to Sun Yat-sen and the communist revolution to Mao Zedong In this collection of articles leading China scholars and experts analyze how the Nanxun has sparked off dynamic economic growth in China and drastically changed the political and social landscape of the country Chinese Femininities, Chinese Masculinities Susan Brownell, Jeffrey N. Wasserstrom, 2002

Chinese Literature Lydia H. Liu Social Media in Rural China Tom McDonald, 2016-09-13 China's distinctive social media platforms have gained notable popularity among the nation's vast number of internet users but has China's countryside been left behind in this communication revolution Tom McDonald spent 15 months living in a small rural Chinese community researching how the residents use social media in their daily lives His ethnographic findings suggest that far from being left behind many rural Chinese people have already integrated social media into their everyday experience Throughout his ground-breaking study McDonald argues that social media allows rural people to extend and transform their social relationships by deepening already existing connections with friends known through their school work or village while also experimenting with completely new forms of relationships through online interactions with strangers particularly when looking for love and romance By juxtaposing these seemingly opposed relations rural social media users are able to use these technologies to understand, capitalise on and challenge the notions of morality that underlie rural life The Religious Question in Modern China Vincent Goossaert, David A. Palmer, 2011-03-15 Recent events from strife in Tibet and the rapid growth of Christianity in China to the spectacular expansion of Chinese Buddhist organizations around the globe vividly demonstrate that one cannot understand the modern Chinese world without attending closely to the question of religion The Religious Question in Modern China highlights parallels and contrasts between historical events political regimes and cultural movements to explore how religion has challenged and responded to secular Chinese modernity from 1898 to the present Vincent Goossaert and David A. Palmer piece together the puzzle of religion in China not by looking separately at different religions in different contexts but by writing a unified story of how religion has shaped and in turn been shaped by modern Chinese society From Chinese medicine and the martial arts to communal temple cults and revivalist redemptive societies the authors demonstrate that from the nineteenth century onward as the Chinese state shifted the religious landscape consistently resurfaced in a bewildering variety of old and new forms The Religious Question in Modern China integrates historical anthropological and sociological perspectives in a comprehensive overview of China's religious history that is certain to become an indispensable reference for specialists and students alike Romantic Love and Sexual Behavior Victor C. De Munck, 1998-04-16 Westerners believe that love makes life worth living that sex is a natural desire different in kind from love and that only cynics reduce our love life to a calculation of economic or genetic factors In this volume essays explore these and other assumptions about the relationship between romantic love and sex This represents the first interdisciplinary social science study of love and sex Contributors ask and answer questions such as Is love just sex idealized or is it a transcendent and divine emotion Is love a cultural construct that is shared by members of the same culture or is it a matter of personal taste What keeps promiscuous people from using condoms even when they know they are at risk Are black professional men so rare that their conceptions of love and sex differ from those of white professional men Are brutal sexual fantasies an exclusively male domain and are they always excluded from love fantasies among normal adolescents Is divorce a culturally induced response to evolutionary reproductive strategies that compel individuals to maximize their genetic legacy Are marriages or relationships less satisfying or stable when an actual mate falls short of the fantasy of the ideal mate Is there a universal core to love and sex that is camouflaged by other cultural norms such as modesty and sexual segregation Is rape perceived as more acceptable when the rapist says he was motivated by love What do cult movements and romantic love have in common As they attempt to answer these and other questions the authors extend our understanding of the variety of ways that love and sex are conceptualized connected or separated Teenage Sexual Attitudes in China, 1994

Changing Identities of Chinese Women Elisabeth Croll, 1995 Describes the changing reality of women's lives during the China's republican revolutionary and reform eras Down by the Station Roberta S. Greenwood, 1996 Recipient of the Jo Anne Stolaroff Cotsen Prize Excavation of the Chinatown that was destroyed in the building of Union Station provides a rich picture of the people and life in nineteenth and early twentieth century Los Angeles Intensive historical research oral history and laboratory analyses have been synthesized into a comprehensive reconstruction of a community that was isolated socially economically and geographically Frauenforschung international: Regionen Asien, Ozeanien Margarete Maurer, 1992
