Medieval Textual Cultures Faith Wallis, Robert Wisnovsky, 2016-08-22 Understanding how medieval textual cultures engaged with the heritage of antiquity transmission and translation depends on recognizing that reception is a creative cultural act transformation These essays focus on the people societies and institutions who were doing the transmitting translating and transforming the agents The subject matter ranges from medicine to astronomy literature to

magic while the cultural context encompasses Islamic and Jewish societies as well as Byzantium and the Latin West What unites these studies is their attention to the methodological and conceptual challenges of thinking about agency Not every agent acted with an agenda and agenda were sometimes driven by immediate needs or religious considerations that while compelling to the actors are more opaque to us What does it mean to say that a text becomes available for transmission or translation And why do some texts once transmitted fail to thrive in their new milieu This collection thus points toward a more sophisticated ecology of transmission where not only individuals and teams of individuals but also social spaces and local cultures act as the agents of cultural creativity
