Sex Appeal Of The Inorganic:

The Sex Appeal of the Inorganic Mario Perniola, 2004-03-26 We live in a world where the one time opposition between things and humans has been transformed where the center of contemporary sensibility is the encounter between philosophy and sexuality where sex extends well beyond both the act and the body We live in a world where to be sexy is to ignore the distinctions between animate and inanimate objects of desire where the aesthetics of sex are being revolutionized An organic sexuality based on sex difference and driven by desire and pleasure is being replaced by a neutral inorganic and artificial sexuality a sexuality always available but indifferent to beauty age or form a sexuality freed by thought from nature The Sex Appeal of the Inorganic takes the reader on a radical new tour of Western philosophy from Descartes Kant and Hegel to Heidegger Wittgenstein and Sartre to reframe our understanding of personal experience and the aesthetic to examine how if we are to remember how to feel we must become a thing who feels we must think ourselves closer to the inorganic world and move further from our bodies

Der Sex-Appeal des Anorganischen Mario Perniola, 1999 The Arcades Project Walter Benjamin, 1999 Focusing on the arcades of 19th century Paris glass roofed rows of shops that were early centers of consumerism Benjamin presents a montage of quotations from and reflections on hundreds of published sources 46

illustrations Extreme Beauty James Swearingen, Joanne Cutting-Gray, 2003-01-01 What do we mean when we speak of beauty What do we experience Beauty is no longer the human experience of the harmonious object today an aesthetics of difference has revolutionised our ways of seeing the beautiful Now we live in a time of extreme beauty Extreme Beauty explores art literature politics and philosophy in order to illuminate how the concept and experience of beauty has changed The essays range from Hegel and Modernism to Marcel Duchamp and the Avant Garde postmodern poetics boredom and Proust the romance of Arendt and Heidegger fascism and the consumption of the flesh postcolonialism and imagination to Derrida and the glory and gift of death

The Philosophy of Mario Perniola Enea Bianchi, 2022-07-14 Enea Bianchi provides the first in depth introduction to the pioneering thought of 20th century Italian philosopher Mario Perniola Examining Perniola's entire oeuvre this book also pushes his philosophy into new directions by investigating the connection between his aesthetics and the philosophical underpinnings of dandyism Rich in influences from ancient Stoicism to Roman ritualism Baroque literature and avant garde revolutionary movements Perniola's philosophy is wide ranging This book highlights and explores numerous notions pivotal to understanding Perniola's thought including the sex appeal of the inorganic the enigma strategic beauty and the artistic shadow Combining these concepts with three exemplar dandies George Brummell Charles Baudelaire and Oscar Wilde Bianchi demonstrates not only the close relationship between their principles and Perniola's aesthetics but their shared and timely opposition to the status quo A dandy philosophy emerges which challenges the individual not only to refute the ongoing commodification of tastes emotions and lifestyles but also to develop a welcoming and loving disposition with respect to the enigma of our prismatic world

Being Human Ron

Broglio, Frederick Young, 2017-10-02 Technology and animals often serve as the boundaries by which we define the human In this issue contributors explore these categories as necessary supplements or as porous membranes which disturb the scaffolding of how the human is constructed A lingering question throughout is whether we have ever been human or if such a category is a non localizable ideal or perhaps a misnomer In this collection of essays internationally known theorists muddle the categorical boundaries such that animals and technologies become necessary components rather than limits for what it means to be human They examine a range of subjects including apophatic animality critical media objects to think with biosemiotic insect resonances the monstrous and horrific which dislodges our cultural animals and the problem of thinking of animality as stupidity Novels films digital objects scientific laboratories philosophical texts animals on the road and in the fields serve as sites for inquiry The result of these investigations is the spectral possibility that we are not the humans we make ourselves out to be This book was originally published as a special issue of Angelaki Art & Its Shadow Mario Perniola, 2004-05-01 Art and its Shadow is an extraordinary analysis of the state and meaning of contemporary art and film Ranging across the work of Andy Warhol cyberpunk Wim Wenders Derek Jarman thinking on difference and the possibility of a philosophical cinema Mario Perniola examines the latest and most disturbing tendencies in art Perniola explores how art notably in posthumanism psychotic realism and extreme art continues to survive despite the hype of the art market and the world of mass communication and reproduction He argues that the meaning of art in the modern world no longer lies in aesthetic value above the art work nor in popular taste below the art work but beside the artwork in the shadow created by both the art establishment and the world of mass communications In this shadow is what is left out of account by both market and mass media the difficulty of art a knowledge that can never be fully revealed and a new aesthetic future

Sexual Outercourse Ann van Sevenant, 2005 Apart from a few considerations on love marriage or sexuality lovemaking has been the object of little philosophical interest in the past Sexual Outercourse Philosophy of Lovemaking guides the reader through the history of philosophy Plato Augustine Kant Hegel Nietzsche Bataille Foucault Levinas Lacan Derrida Irigaray Nancy and wishes to offer a real contribution to the question of sexual love by developing a philosophy of lovemaking for which a new language is needed This book studies existing theories of love and sexuality explores the experience of intimate closeness and draws the attention to what in a most secret way runs its course between lovers Rather than studying the presupposed nature of lovemaking the accent is on how people make love and wish to make love and on how they might choose to relate to the sexual relation Eyes on Michaela Obermair, 2016 ÜberSchriften Andrea Sick, 1994 World Art, 1996 Revista de estudios hispánicos University of Alabama. Department of Romance Languages, 1987 "Weibliche" Ästhetik? Susanne Lummerding, 1994 New Left Review, 2003 The Print Collector's Newsletter, 1983 Ritual Thinking Mario Perniola, 2001 Perniola takes his inspiration from ancient Roman religion and its demystification of myth as ritual without myth This demystification of ritual does not entail a process of secularization nor does it compromise the sacred character of myth. Instead it is an attempt to establish a link or a transit between the sacred and the profane. The repetitive nature of ritual thinking is an attempt to relate the individual to the hard nuts of experience, sexuality, death and the vast complexity of the world. These realities are opaque and impenetrable, indifferent and extraneous to subjective purpose and good intentions. They appear to be things that are irreducible to the life of the spirit and to its ideal aspirations. Where philosophy breaks down in coping with these actualities, ritual thinking provides a symbolic means. Today we witness the global dissemination of behaviors that have lost their original meaning. These behaviors and patterns of thought have become the modern rituals through which we cope with reality. This composite of two works, Transits and The Society of Simulcra by one of Italy's most innovative thinkers, here translated into English for the first time, will be invaluable to philosophers with an interest in continental philosophy. Mario Perniola is professor of aesthetics at the University of Rome Tor Vergata and is the author of many books on aesthetics including Disgusti, New Trends in Aesthetics and Nineteenth Century Aesthetics. Human Game by Francesco Bonami, Maria Luisa Frisa, Stefano Tonchi, 2006. Human Game: Winners and Losers. ISBN 88 8158 595 2. 978 88 8158 595 3. Paperback. 5.5 x 8 in. 500 pgs. 600 color. U.S. $49.95. CDN $60.00. September. Fashion. Critical Interruptions by Paul Breines, 1972. Postmodern Conditions by Andrew Milner, Philip John Thomson, Chris Worth, 1990. Postmodernity and postmodernism have become leading theoretical issues in the discussion of contemporary culture and this collection attempts to confront some of the major issues. To what extent does western society's entry into a post industrial world require us to rethink the characteristic modernist understanding of society and culture? If the self reflecting self quoting culture we experience now is postmodern, is it a culture in which the great modern debates about history and meaning must be radically reworked? Is postmodernism in art complicit with the processes of post industrial capitalism or does it subvert them? There are contributions from academics working at the New York School of Social Research and in departments of literary studies, sociology and visual arts at various Australian universities. Creative Camera, 1984.
