Sex Inequalities In Urban Employment In The Third World:

Sex Inequalities in Urban Employment in the Third World Richard Anker, Catherine Hein, 1986-11-10 Extrait du revers de couverture Great inequality exists between men and women with respect to occupations career paths and earnings This volume presents an overview of the current situation on developing countries along with results from ILO UNFPA Insights are provided into the disadvantages women on the Third World face in the employment market based on this unique set of interviews with several thousand employers male employees and female employees which reveal why factors such as recruitment wages promotion absenteeism and turnover differ by sex of worker Women's Work And Child Welfare In The Third World Joanne Leslie, 2021-11-18 Recent trends in women's work and child survival and development in developing countries raise concerns about the relationship between these two key elements of development This paper reviews and analyzes the methodology and findings of 50 studies of both women's work and infant feeding practices and women's work and child nutritional status Although the pattern of findings is complex and occasionally contradictory the paper concludes that overall there is little evidence of a negative effect of maternal employment on child nutrition and therefore no justification for limiting women's labor force participation on the grounds of promoting child welfare Gender Inequality in the Labour Market Janet Siltanen, Jennifer Jarman, Robert Martin Blackburn, International Labour Office, 1995 This user friendly manual which can be used as a self learning or as a teaching tool guides readers through all stages in producing data on occupational concentration and segregation It clarifies concepts and measures discusses quality and availability of information and reviews various methodological tools using well known statistical software packages It should be of interest to researchers and analysts of occupational data Women, Employment and the Family in the International Division of Labour J. Parpart, S. Stichter, 2016-07-27 In the present stage of international capitalist development women are increasingly being drawn into paid employment by multinational and state investment in the Third World This volume investigates the interrelations between women's participation in the urban wage economy and their productive and reproductive roles in the household and family It brings together a selection of important recent research on all major regions of the developing world by leading scholars in this emerging field It argues that the household itself is an important determinant of the character and timing of women's labour force participation and it assesses the extent to which family patterns can be expected to change as women increasingly work outside the home Women's Work in the World Economy Nancy Folbre, Barbara Bergmann, Bina Agarwal, Maria Floro, 1993-06-18 Examines the role of women and men in the economy of the future The diverse chapters share a common concern for the effect of public policies on women's work both in the market place and in the home Empirical studies offer models for further research in the field of women in the economy Microelectronics and Third-World Industries Susumu Watanabe, 1993-06-18 Combining enterprise surveys in Brazil India Korea Mexico Malaysia and Singapore with national and international data including those from China and major machinery exporting countries this book establishes the international pattern of diffusion of microelectronic industrial technologies

Women and Survival in Mexican Cities Sylvia H. Chant, 1991 On the basis of interviews with low income households and local employers this study attempts to provide an analysis of the articulations between women employment and household survival strategies in contemporary urban Mexico

Space, Gender, Knowledge: Feminist Readings Linda McDowell, Joanne Sharp, 2016-04-29 Space Gender Knowledge is an innovative and comprehensive introduction to the geographies of gender and the gendered nature of spatial relations It examines the major issues raised by women's movements and academic feminism and outlines the main shifts in feminist geographical work from the geography of women to the impact of post structuralism In making their selection the editors have drawn on a wide range of interdisciplinary material ranging across spatial scales from the body to the globe The book presents influential arguments for the importance of the intersection between space and gender Looking both at geography and beyond the discipline it explores the gendered construction of space and the spatial construction of gender Divided into a number of conceptual sections each prefaced by an editorial introduction this reader includes extracts from both landmark texts and less well known works making it an indispensable introduction to this dynamic field of study

Women's Work And Women's Lives Hilda Kahne, Janet Z Giele, Editors *, Joseph H Pleck, Marianne A Ferber, Francine Blau, 1992-10-20 A provocative analysis of the nature of the relation between women and paid work in both modernizing and industrial countries this book explores the variables that shape the relationship demographic factors the social and cultural context the political environment and the level and direction of economic development Contributors point to a number of similarities in the roles activities and status of women in countries with varying levels of development but they also argue that women's productive activities in both market and nonmarket economies exhibit distinctive characteristics having evolved in ways that reflect the particular circumstances of the country. An introductory section provides a historical and sociological framework for the analysis as well as a statistical overview of women's nonagricultural employment. The country case studies that follow focus on health, education, and family roles and provide a wealth of data about the characteristics of paid work and the workplace, including occupations and earnings, technological change, pay equity, work schedules, cooperatives, and the informal labor market.
