Sex Slaves The Trafficking Of Women In Asia:

Sex Slaves T. Louise Brown, 2000 Trafficking in human beings for the sex industry has been practised for centuries What is new is the scale of the trade the ages of those involved and the organization applied to the marketing This text looks behind the wholesomeness of Asian values and takes a controversial approach to the sex industry by viewing it as a product of Asian cultural values There are interviews with sex workers their families clients and the staff of the charities that work with the women Above all the book aims to tell the stories often in their own words of the girls and women who are forced into the trade and to publicize the tragedy of the voiceless women of Asia Sex Slaves Louise Brown, 2008 Sex, Slavery and the Trafficked Woman Ramona Vijayarasa, 2016-03-03 Sex Slavery and the Trafficked Woman is a go to text for readers who seek a comprehensive overview of the meaning of human trafficking and current debates and perspectives on the issue It presents a more nuanced understanding of human trafficking and its victims by examining and challenging the conventional assumptions that sit at the heart of mainstream approaches to the topic A pioneering study the arguments made in this book are largely drawn from the author s fieldwork in Ukraine Vietnam and Ghana The author demonstrates to readers how a law enforcement and criminal justice oriented approach to trafficking has developed at the expense of a migration and human rights perspective She highlights the importance of viewing trafficking within a broad spectrum of migratory movement The author contests the coerced female victim archetype as stereotypical and challenges the reader to understand trafficking in an alternative manner introducing the counterintuitive concept of the voluntary victim Overall this text provides readers of migration and development gender studies women s rights and international law a comprehensive and multidisciplinary analysis of the concept of trafficking Trafficking Women in Korea Sallie Yea, 2015-03-24 Based on in depth ethnographic work this book presents a study of Filipinas trafficked to South Korea focusing on women who entered South Korea as migrant entertainers and subsequently became deployed in exploitative work environments around US military bases there It contributes to the extension of our knowledge about human trafficking in the Asian region through an exploration of the experiences of more than 100 women who took part in the study The book challenges many of the accepted understandings about trafficking victims and unravels the implications of these narrow understandings for the women themselves It explores the ways women negotiate trafficking largely outside of the emerging formal anti trafficking framework and explains how new community formations and social networks emerge crafted by the women themselves to manage and overcome their vulnerabilities in migration Female Sexual Slavery and Economic Exploitation , 1985
