Seahenge Matthew Champion, 2000      Celtic Myth in Contemporary Children's Fantasy Dimitra Fimi, 2017-03-06
Runner up of the Katherine Briggs Folklore Award 2017 Winner of the Mythopoeic Scholarship Award for Myth Fantasy Studies 2019 This book examines the creative uses of Celtic myth in contemporary fantasy written for children or young adults from the 1960s to the 2000s Its scope ranges from classic children's fantasies such as Lloyd Alexander's The Chronicles of Prydain and Alan Garner's The Owl Service to some of the most recent award winning fantasy authors of the last decade such as Kate Thompson The New Policeman and Catherine Fisher Darkhenge The book focuses on the ways these fantasy works have appropriated and adapted Irish and Welsh medieval literature in order to highlight different perceptions of Celticity The term Celtic itself is interrogated in light of recent debates in Celtic studies in order to explore a fictional representation of a national past that is often romanticized and political      Seahenge Charlie Watson, 2005 Once exposed to the elements the waterlogged timbers would soon have been lost to erosion so they were carefully excavated and removed for preservation Accurate records taken during the excavations and the latest scientific analytical and dating techniques have since assisted scholars in interpreting the monument and in explaining its use and significance in the broader context of Bronze Age society      Modern Studies in Property Law - Volume 6 Susan Bright, 2011-05-13 The Modern Studies in Property Law Conference has become well known as a unique opportunity for property lawyers to meet and confer both formally and informally The eighth biennial conference was held at the University of Oxford in March 2010 and this book is the sixth in the series Modern Studies in Property Law The volume is a refereed and revised selection of the papers given at the Oxford conference covering a broad range of topics of contemporary importance both nationally and internationally The book includes chapters written by the key speakers at the conference Lady Justice Arden Professor Kevin Gray and Law Commissioner Professor Elizabeth Cooke      Common Law and Modern Society Mary Arden, 2015 Law is a lasting social institution but it must also be responsive to change In this volume Mary Arden draws upon her experience to examine how judge made law adapts to the evolving demands of society how law reform works in practice and the future of the judiciary in our diverse modern culture      The Magic of Coin-Trees from Religion to Recreation Ceri Houlbrook, 2018-04-23 This book traces the history of ritual landscapes in the British Isles and the transition from religious practice to recreation by focusing on a highly understudied exemplar the coin tree These are trees imbued with magical properties into which coins have been ritually embedded This is a contemporary custom which can be traced back in the literature to the 1700s when it was practiced for folk medical and dedicatory purposes Today the custom is widespread with over 200 coin trees distributed across the British Isles but is more akin to the casual deposition of coins in a wishing well coins are deposited in the tree in exchange for wishes good luck or future fortune Ceri Houlbrook contributes to the debate on the historic relationships between religion ritual and popular magic in British contexts from 1700 to the present      The Nature of Magic Susan

Greenwood,2020-06-03 This book examines how and why practitioners of nature religion Western witches druids shamans seek to relate spiritually with nature through magical consciousness Magic and consciousness are concepts that are often fraught with prejudice and ambiguity respectively Greenwood develops a new theory of magical consciousness by arguing that magic ultimately has more to do with the workings of the human mind in terms of an expanded awareness than with socio cultural explanations She combines her own subjective insights gained from magical practice with practitioners in depth accounts and sustained academic theory on the process of magic She also tracks magical consciousness in philosophy myth folklore story telling and the hi tech discourse of postmodernity and asks important questions concerning nature religion s environmental credentials such as whether it as inherently ecological as many of its practitioners claim

Gaffney,Simon Fitch,David N. Smith,2009 This excellent book which deserves a wide readership reports on the work of the North Sea Palaeolandscapes Project which has been researching the fascinating lost landscape of Doggerland which until the end of the last Ice Age connected Britain to the continent in the North Sea area It aims to make the findings available to a general readership and show just how impressive they have been with nearly 23 000km2 mapped The techniques used to reconstruct the landscape are explained and conclusions and speculation about the climate and vegetation of the area in the Mesolithic offered It also tells the story of the rediscovery of Doggerland and the Mesolithic landscape more generally from the pioneering work of

Clement Reid in the nineteenth century to the research of Grahame Clark and Bryony Coles in the twentieth It s also worth pointing out just how well produced and illustrated the book is and one can only hope that it can spark public interest in a comparatively little known phase of our prehistory      Britain A.D.
